ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Christmas Potluck --

Some of Portland best jazz artists will perform at a special Christmas Potluck in the Park, the local group that feeds anyone in need, on Friday, Dec. 25 from noon to 3 p.m. at the Portland Art Museum, 1119 S.W. Park Ave. The event is free to all and anyone without family or friends. Guests can also make free phone calls to loved ones and guest transportation will be available for the mobility impaired who call ahead at 503- 255-7611.

Festival Holiday Tradition -- Oregon Ballet Theatre combines all the talent of its company and school to return George Balanchine's popular version of 'The Nutcracker,' to Keller Auditorium, a festive holiday tradition of shows now playing through Saturday, Dec. 26. For more details, visit obt.org.

Theatre Company in Lake Oswego presents "Golden-Boy," the Clifford Odets drama masterpiece about a young violinist who gives up his career for a chance at immortality in the boxing ring. Performances open Friday, Jan. 8 and continue through Feb. 14. Order tickets online at www.lakewood-center.org.

Explore the Science of Sound -- Children can explore the science of sound at "Blue Man Group Making Waves," a national touring exhibit now showing through Jan. 10 at Portland's Children's Museum. The 3,000 square foot exhibit takes the whole family through a multi sensory exploration of sound that provides an opportunity to play together while discovering the fun of music.

The Miracle Worker -- The Artists Repertory Theatre presents a soul-stirring show about the life and struggles of activist and author Helen Keller. "The Miracle Worker," is one of the most triumphant stories of the human spirit ever told. Shows now playing with an extended scheduled through Jan. 10 on the Alder Stage at 1516 S.W. Alder St. For more information, visit artistrep.org or call 503-241-1278.
