

Concert to End Gun Violence

Portland's own Norman Sylvester will perform on stage with other musicians Sunday, Sept. 25 for the Concert Across America to End Gun Violence. The local event is being held from noon to 6 p.m. at Pioneer Courthouse Square, downtown, in conjunction with a concert in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Sept. 25 was designated by Congress as a day of remembrance for murder victims. Ceasefire of Oregon and other advocates for reducing gun violence will use this day to remind our elected officials to do more to keep guns out of the hands of dangerous people. The event will give a face to the 11,000 Americans who are murdered with a firearm each year, and the 20,000 others who die from gunshot suicides and unintentional shootings.

"Our goal is to give Portlanders a chance to voice their thoughts about gun violence and to share with people the many ways we can cut gun violence through education and legislation," Ceasefire officials said. "We also will provide information about suicide prevention."

About one person dies every day in Oregon from a self-inflicted gunshot wound.
