Native regalia, song and dance showcase Native American heritage in a community celebration that will be repeated this Saturday at Vancouver's Water Resources Education Center.

Native American Heritage Month

The public is invited to celebrate Native American Heritage Month and recognize the many contributions of Native Americans to our cultural mosaic at a free community event featuring native regalia, song, dance and other activities on Saturday, Nov. 12 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Vancouver Water Resources Education Center, 4600 S.E. Columbia Way.

Kids and families will have the opportunity to hear about the Urban Native Community Network, view a 30-foot Chinook cedar canoe, called Itsxut, the Bear, listen to stories of recent canoe journeys, play native games of skill and chance and paint feathers and enjoy other hands-on activities.
