

In the Neighborhood

If Dr. Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. were alive today, what do you think would be his first priority?

'He would be against the racism, which is a problem in the United States. But, he would be very proud that Barack Obama became president.'
--Eric Nzayiramy, PCC student from the Democratic Republic of the Congo

'I'd be curious to know his views on how much progress we've made or not made. We clearly have a lot left to do. We gotta do better, we gotta be better.'
--Martha Pelster, pharmaceutical worker

'His main thing would be equal Civil Rights for everyone.'
--Mia Foster, Portland Community College student

OUR CLASSROOM.
YOUR COMFORT ZONE.

'There are so many things. He would be working on voting rights for African Americans, because they are so targeted for having their voting rights taken away.'
--Diana Lease, PCC professor of International students

MU ONLINE. ANYWHERE. ANYTIME.

If you're looking for an online education that's engaging, personal and true to the Word, welcome to Multnomah University. We've designed our online programs with you in mind.

You'll appreciate the features of Canvas, a powerful, mobile-friendly learning platform. You'll connect comfortably with your classmates and professors. And you'll gain insights from the Bible that will transform the way you look at the world.

It all adds up to a remarkable educational experience that fits your life — anywhere, anytime.

MULTNOMAH UNIVERSITY

PORTLAND, OREGON
800.275.4672
MULTNOMAH.EDU/ONLINE