The blueprint
to cure
Alzheimer's starts here.

Paid for by the Pharmaceutical Industry Labor-Management Association (PILMA)

America's patients rely on members of the Sheet Metal, Air, Rail and Transportation Workers to build state-of-the-art facilities that will be home to the next generation of cures.

PILMA's labor unions and biopharmaceutical company members oppose so-called transparency legislation because these policies diminish incentives to discover life-saving medicines and reduce investment in capital construction projects that put union members to work.

Tell your representative you oppose transparency legislation that puts Oregon jobs at risk and hurts the economy!
