

PORTLAND OBSERVER AutoReview Comfort in a Compact SUV

With its lengthy list of features, excellent fuel economy estimates, and a cabin lined with first-rate materials, the GMC Terrain is certainly a good compact SUV. The Terrain SLT starts at $30,900 with the driver convenience package and Infotainment I package (minus navigation) as standard equipment, along with leather-trimmed seats and remote start.

There are three turbocharged engine options for a smooth, comfortable ride. The base engine and front-wheel drive earns estimates of 26 mpg in the city and 30 mpg on the highway. The Terrain comes with a three-year/36,000-mile limited warranty and a five-year/60,000-mile power train warranty.

A rearview camera comes standard, along with teen driver, which lets you do things like set speed and volume limits. Available active safety features include a safety alert seat, a surround-view parking camera, automatic park assist, blind spot monitoring, rear cross traffic alert, lane change alert, rear parking sensors, forward collision warning, low-speed forward automatic braking, lane keep assist, lane departure warning, and adaptive cruise control.

Juneteenth Calendars Honor History

Portland artist Isaaka Shamsud-Din has created 2019-2020 calendars to honor Juneteenth and highlight significant people, places and events in the history and culture of the Black Diaspora.

Shamsud-din is known for his murals across the city, including two major works installed for the new shopping plaza at Northeast Martin Luther King and Alberta Street. The new calendars were made possible with contributions from activists at Don't Shoot Portland.

Signed copies from Shamsud-din himself will be distributed during a special public reception this Sunday, June 16 at 3 p.m. at the Dismantle Change Build Center, 14 N.E. Killingsworth St., the former home of the Albina Art Center.
