Participants at the Beaverton Night Market hold signs welcoming people of all backgrounds. On Saturday, Sept. 14, from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., a Welcoming Walk at Beaverton's Greenway Park will bring immigrants and U.S. born residents together to celebrate diversity.

Welcoming Walk to Embrace All

A family-friendly, 2-mile "Welcoming Walk" to celebrate our immigrant and refugee community members is coming to Beaverton on Saturday, Sept. 14.

The Tualatin Hills Park and Recreation District and Unite Oregon are co-sponsoring the walk which will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Greenway Park at Southwest Hall Boulevard and Scholls Ferry Road.

The event is free and open to people of all abilities.

The recreation district and the city of Beaverton are participating in National Welcoming Week, a series of events to raise awareness of the benefits of welcoming everyone.

Canoeing the Columbia Slough will be part of the fun Saturday, Sept. 14 when the Portland Water Bureau and the Columbia Slough Watershed Council host Aquifer Adventure, a free Pirate-themed Groundwater festival in northeast Portland.

Aquifer Adventure for Family Fun

What do pirates and groundwater have in common? Buried treasure! Portland's important underground drinking water resource is celebrated Saturday at a family festival on the Columbia Slough in northeast Portland called Aquifer Adventure.

Co-sponsored by the Portland Water Bureau and the Columbia Slough Watershed Council, the festivities will be held from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. with hands-on activities for all ages including a treasure hunt, face painting, and the chance to build aquifers out of ice cream and cookies! Participants can also enjoy the wooded trail along the Columbia Slough before joining a canoeing tour of the Slough. There will even be free children's t-shirts available while supplies last.

The annual event focuses on groundwater protection and water conservation, including tips and tools for use at home. It takes place at the Portland Water Bureau canoe launch at Northeast 166th and Airport Way. Pirate dress, pirate lingo, and pirate swagger are highly encouraged.
