Lateral Police Dispatch Trainee

Closing Date/Time Mon. 11/25/19 11:59 PM Pacific Time

Salary $26.05 - $33.89 Hourly

Job Type Regular

This is a trainee position for journey level emergency communications dispatchers from other jurisdictions who have gained the skills via training and employment in order to effectively perform dispatching work in the field of emergency communications, with the exception of fire dispatch. Incumbents are responsible for participating in formal classroom training, on-the-job-training, simulation training and directed self-study. Prior to promotion to the police dispatcher classification, incumbents must be able to demonstrate proficiency to operate telephone, use radio and computer equipment to record requests for emergency services, and dispatch police field units; and monitor the status of field units. The ability to work any shift, on any day, and to work overtime is an essential function of the job. Typical shift configurations for experienced employees are four - 10 hour days; employees are not required to report to work on their days off.

work, and am passionate about creating inclusive, safe and welcoming environments where all students have maximum opportunities to succeed," Willard said. "I am eager to move forward in community and collaboration, building on our team's momentum of the last several months."

Her current research explores strategies that faculty and staff employ to create culturally engaging spaces for students of color attending predominantly white institutions and how campus racial climate affects their persistence and completion rates. The research will be used to examine and identify strategies to close the equity gap among students of color in higher education.

Willard holds a master's degree in Business Administration, a bachelor's degree in Business Administration, and an associate degree in Organizational Dynamics. She is currently attending Concordia University, pursuing a doctorate in Education with a concentration in Professional Leadership, Inquiry and Transformation.

in America.

In Portland, Barber spoke about his vision for a "moral impeachment and moral reset," addressing racism in government policies.

He told the group it was the right of the people to alter government policy when government is not living up to the rights and liberties for all, according to Dr. Audrey Terrell, a Portland educator, mentor and nonprofit founder who attended the lecture.

He explained how "freedom" was not in the constitution but "liberty" was, calling for a reset of our moral values, Terrell said. He also called on the audience to rise up and build a movement for justice together, urging participating in a Poor People's Campaign march this coming June 20 in Washington, D.C., a repeat of the 1968 march organized by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before he was assassinated in April of that year.
