

Healing Healthcare, April 3, 2013 -- Blues legend Norman Sylvester joined members of Portland's musical community to raise money to help pay for the medical expenses of local musicians in need and promote a system of universal healthcare.

50 Years Later, Aug. 21, 2013 -- On the 50th anniversary of Dr. Rev. Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C, local leaders told the Portland Observer there's still work to do for civil rights.

Decorated Veteran, Nov. 13, 2013 -- The Portland Observer reported on former Portland resident Michelle Watson, one of the first African American women to graduate from the Coast Guard Academy, after finishing a year in which she was promoted to a command position and met Barrack and Michelle Obama.

Halloween Fun, Oct. 23, 2013 -- The Portland Observer provided a guide to Halloween fun, like a visit to the Pumpkin Patch on Sauvie Island where families get into the season with several attractions, including hay rides and a cornfield maze.

Turning talk into action

We're committed to investing in diverse communities with personalized financial guidance, coaching programs, and $100 million in additional capital for Black-owned businesses and organizations annually.

Let's do this together at usbank.com/action

