

SPORTS

Another National Championship!

The Clackamas Community College wrestling team has won the National Junior College Athletic Association National Championship for the third year in a row.

The diverse team outpaced second-place Western Wyoming by just 5.5 points during an April 28 tournament, keeping the championship in doubt until the final round of the event where CCC's 133-pound Zeth Brower earned a fall, securing his own individual national championship along with the team.

The three-peat makes Clackamas one of only four other teams in the history of the NJCAA to achieve the feat.

The Clackamas Community College wrestling team celebrates a national championship for the third year in a row. Pictured (front row, from left) are assistant coach Daniel Leonard, Josiah Green, Michael Gasper, Tom Schmitt, Jake Richardson, Zeth Brower, Marckis Branford, Kyle Richards, Cameron Enriquez, Hunter Sparks, assistant coach Rich Vigorito and head coach Josh Rhoden; and (back row, from left) Julius Serrano, Dax Bennett, Trent Silva, Isaac Lopez, DeVille Dentis, Jack Radamacher, athletic trainer Kevin Arizo and Tarik Sutkovic.

GO ONLINE. THEN GO ANYWHERE.

Growing up in the West Indies in a small village called Hopetown, Secota Douglas lived a life filled with just that — hope. It sparked an ambition to make an impact in her native home even as she planted roots in the U.S.

And to gain the necessary knowledge to help shape environmental policy, Secota earned her degree online from Oregon State University Ecampus. "I always had dreams that were bigger than my surroundings," she said. "Earning a degree has always been one of them."

ecampus.oregonstate.edu/secota

Secota Douglas, '17
B.S. in Environmental Economics and Policy

TOP-RANKED DEGREES ONLINE

Portland Trail Blazers forward Carmelo Anthony (00) is defended by Brooklyn Nets forward Jeff Green during an April 30 game in New York. (AP photo)

'Melo' reaches Top 10 Career Points

NBA star defines greatness, coach says

(AP) — Carmelo Anthony looked like he was headed for a forced retirement just a couple of seasons ago. Now, the Portland Trail Blazer is part of a truly exclusive club in the NBA.

"Melo" scored 14 points Monday night in Portland's 123-114 loss to the Atlanta Hawks, moving him past Elvin Hayes for 10th place on the NBA career scoring list with 27,318.

"If you're in the top 10 of anything of all time, it's a special moment," said Anthony, who is in his 18th NBA season and turns 37 before the month is out.

A starter his entire career, he is coming off the bench now, playing a supporting role to younger stars, players who still look up to him, such as Damian Lillard.

"Being in the top 10 in a really special accomplishment," Lillard

CONTINUED ON PAGE 11