Helping Make College Affordable

PCC Foundation leader introduced

Christina Kline of Beaverton was recently introduced as the new executive director for the Portland Community College Foundation where she will work closely with the panel's board of directors to grow financial support for students and academic programs at the college.

Kline has been at the foundation since 2016 and previously served as assistant foundation director and donor engagement manager. In those roles, she supported PCC's first-ever comprehensive campaign, "The Campaign for Opportunity," which raised more than $46 million for student success.

Kline has 15 years of experience in the nonprofit sector and with institutions of higher education. She has worked at Boys & Girls Aid, Linfield University, Arizona State University Foundation and Make-A-Wish America.

The PCC Foundation mobilizes private donations for student scholarships and educational programs so that all students in the region have access to an excellent education at PCC and the support needed to succeed, regardless of their ability to pay. To find out more, call 971-722-4382 or visit pcc.edu/foundation.
