Connecting Local Families in Need with Free Food Services

Officer Rashida Saunders will take up the duty of connecting families in need with resources.

Sunshine Division announces new Portland Police liaison

The Portland Police Bureau (PPB) has assigned Officer Rashida Saunders to be Sunshine Division's new police liaison. Officers Saunders, a 10-year veteran with PPB, will connect families and individuals in need with our services to expand Sunshine Division's reach in the community. She will maintain her regular duties as a police officer while she takes on this role. When Officer Saunders comes across families in need of the food relief services Sunshine Division provides, she will be able to connect them to our services firsthand to ensure that they quickly receive the support they need. Officer Saunders replaced Officer Matt Tobey, who retired from PPB last February after more than two decades of service. Tobey held the role of Sunshine Division's police liaison for nearly eight years.

Before working for PPB, Officer Saunders worked as a residential counselor at St. Mary's Boys Home in Beaverton, Ore. and as a juvenile detention officer in Seattle, Wash. She has a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice and her Masters Degree in Administration of Justice and Security. She currently serves as a mentor and committee chair for the Z-Man Scholarship Foundation, which provides financial assistance for high school students in the Portland area.

Tiffani Penson

Believing in the Power of Education Election for Portland Community College Board approaching

Tiffani Penson was first elected to the Portland Community College Board in 2019. Penson was born and raised in Oregon and currently works for the City of Portland as the People + Culture Manager, responsible for deploying and operationalizing the city's CORE Values of Anti-racism, Communication, Collaboration, Equity, Transparency, and Fiscal Responsibility.

"The last three years have been full of challenges and heartbreak but also of deeds of great courage and commitment by PCC students, staff, and leaders," stated Penson. "I believe that PCC provides a great service to our community, offering many pathways for people seeking to improve or enrich their lives."

Penson highlights the accomplishments of PCC over the past three years, including:

The passage, with 61% voter support, of a $450 million bond measure in 2022 that will add significant facility upgrades and new educational opportunities including the Oregon Manufacturing and Innovation Center bringing state of the art training to the far northwest section of the PCC service area in Scappoose. In addition, we are rebuilding the Portland Metropolitan
