THE GREATEST SALE ON EARTH

in a clothing stock is simply this—one, two or three of any one line of goods left. Just think of it—$7.00 will buy an all-wool suit of clothing worth $18. 50 will buy an overcoat that formerly sold for $18. 500 drawers, all-wool, only 30c each. Odd percale shirts, only 80c; sold for $1.80 and 2.00 each. Remember we have any amount of odds and ends. Just as good as full lines, and any of 'em that you find to fit you, you get for less than they cost us in New York City. Don't delay calling at the Great Trustee Sale, if you want bargains. J. Strauss, trustee of the Kohn stock, Ed. & Morrison.

Odd and Ends

In a clothing stock is simply this—one, two or three of any one line of goods left. Just think of it, $7.00 will buy an all-wool suit of clothing worth $18. 50 will buy an overcoat that formerly sold for $18. Odd drawers, all-wool, only 30c each. Odd percale shirts, only 80c; sold for $1.80 and $2.00 each. Remember we have any amount of odds and ends. Just as good as full lines, and any of 'em that you find to fit you, you get for less than they cost us in New York City. Don't delay calling at the Great Trustee Sale, if you want bargains. J. Strauss, trustee of the Kohn stock, Ed. & Morrison.

Sarah Althea Again

Sarah Althea Again

The Home of Sarah Althea Ely-A Good Story.

Sarah Althea Ely was born at Coburn, Vt., 179 years ago, May 12, 1805. The house where she lived has been occupied by her descendants, many of whom are still living there. The house is now in the care of a descendant, who keeps it open to the public, and is preserved as a memorial of this noted woman.

Sarah Althea was the daughter of Dr. Thomas Ely, who was a physician in Coburn. She was educated in the local schools, and at the age of 20 was married to a young man named Ely. They had five children, all of whom lived to be adults.

Sarah Althea was a writer of some note, and her works were widely read. She wrote several books, and her articles appeared in various magazines and newspapers.

Sarah Althea was also a humanitarian, and she used her wealth and influence to support various causes. She was a strong advocate of women's rights, and she worked tirelessly to improve the lot of women in her time.

Sarah Althea died in 1870, at the age of 75. She is buried in Coburn Cemetery, where her grave is marked by a simple stone monument.

The home of Sarah Althea is open to the public on weekends, and it is a popular destination for tourists and history enthusiasts. The house is furnished with period pieces, and visitors can get a sense of what life was like in the early 19th century.