Great Britain and Portugal Come to Terms.

NEW ALLIANCE MADE

BOTH FOR OFFENSE AND DEFENSE

England Will Control Delagon Bay and Beirn, Giving Her New Gateways into the Borr Country.

LONDON, Feb. 10 .- There exists today what practically amounts to an offensive and defensive alliance between Great Britain and Portugal.

For the past week and longer there has For the past week and longer there has been circulating through the English press, irrespective of party lines, a nervous ap-prehension of European opposition, and a still more nervous appreciation of the fact that Great Brian, at the present moment, is unable to face it with bohor to herself. Constant editorials in the most incomment densities a throat densit to measure in the most devel-oped this phase of the agitation into a mational nightmare, which is not at all justified by the tenor of the Continential news published in the English papers. If the general demands for an increase in the active naval and military strength, openly urged to enable Great Britain to copy with the most aggressive movements that could possibly be credited to Russia, Prance or Germany, were only correlative with the extent to which Great Britain has been drained in order to support her 'outh African war, these manifestations of the press and constant public anxiety would be understood; but the clamor for would be understood, but the carbor for a great standing army and naval mobil-mation so much exceeds the comparatively slight deficiency in the defensive poten-tiality caused by the war in South Africa Quat an impartial observer can scarcely help coming to the conclusion that there is more under the surface than news from the Continent conveys and after a careful the Continent conveys, and after a careful investigation, the Associated Press learns that this impression is guite correct. In the first place, much of this press clamor for a tremendous armament in order to meet unforeseen emergencies is originally inspired with a view of com-peiling parliament to pass quietly any filancial measures proposed by the gov-ernment, and to make the sume popular with the people, who, through additional laxation, may be called upon to add their miftes toward the stupendous plans now mending to place the British empire upon pending to place the Brilish empire upon a military eminence ao supreme as to be beyond the fear of opposition. Lord Salabury himself is, perhaps, more independ-shi and more regardless of newspaper in-fluence and the aid of advertising than any statesman of the day, yet at this crisis he has not disdained to use his imediate subordinates as direct agents to star, among the leading London dailies, public agitation magnifying the possibili ties of foreign interference and minimiz-ing the capabilities of home defense. Rus-als a activity in China and Pereila, and French and German antagogism are freely paraded before the nation as an incentive to be up and arming, even if it needs to be to the point of putting into operation the militia bailot aci, which is almost nymous with conscription. Yet the accounts of anti-British activity all the world over, as dished up for British renders, are not causing the foreign office any serious anxiety, and they do not in-clude the real reason for the tremendous millingy activity, which is a determination to convince Portugal that it is advisable to meet Great Britain's demands regarding the ports essential for carrying on the Boer war, namely, Delagoa bay and Beira, and at the same time having secured Fortugal's assent to every proposition made, to be in a position to support that country against a united European oppo-

the conclusion of the war, especially sub-sequent to the next general election. But, until then, it is hard to see how the Irish members can effect anything, except in-fermittent obstruction and perfidious ad-vocacy of the Boers' cause, which daily diminishes the possibility of securing home rule. However, it must always be borne in mind that the government's suprembcy would be considerably modified in the vent of an overwhelming defeat or failurevent of an everwhelming defeat or fallure to obtain some definite and important ob-jective. But auch is Lord Sallsbury's strength and so inured has the nation grown to reverse, that it is scarcely fras-ible to conceive that the greatest of such disasters could accomplish the complete downfall of the present ministry. The most instructive index of public feet-ing is the cessation of bitter criticism of the government by the leading organs after the voling in the house of commons and at York had proved that, right or wrong.

Morganatic marriages are becoming pop-ular. It is finally announced that, in spite of all denials, the Crown Princess Stephani, of Austria, widow of the Crown Prince Rudolph, will marry Count von Lonyay, March 3, and now, according to Vanity Fair, the helr to the Austrian throne, Archduke Ferdinand, three months ago married Countess Chotek, for her sake, resigning his claims to rule. She is a handsome lady-in-waiting of Princess Stephani. The forthcoming marriage of Lord Cheaterfield to Miss Edna Wilson will be a brilliant affair, and will set prece-dent at naught, the bride wearing a satin train embroidered with diver lilles, doves and stars, while the bridesmalds will wear scariet cloth costs, with triple capes, and picturesque feit hats. Lord Chesterfield's gifts to them are big sable mulfs, instead of the esthedox bangle, while his gift to the bride is a diamond than and a check for £2006.

Once again this week the little band Control Press learns that immense pressure is being brought to bear upon Portugal by Continental powers to prevent her from giving aid to Great Britain. Portugal's minister here, Senor Pinto de Soveral, is aimost as much an Englishman as a Portuguese, and his government is only too willing to do everything, far beyond the bounds of neutrality, to help Great Britain to protect Portugal. Lord Sallsbury is determined that this Beitain to protect is determined that this hall be done, and is counting on the co-operation of his countrymen to put the mation on a footing to defy European opposition. Yesterday, for reasons of diplomacy, nothing could be more quickly officially denied in London or Lisbon. It is more very processory to r Lishon. It is scarcely necessary to my that all the foregoing is gleaned from the highest sources, and is based upon un-impeachable authority.

It has been a great week for the proversment. As forcioid in these dis-patches, Lord Sallsbury held his own in parliament and with the country. The disunited liberal party was no match for the conservative organization, and even the small minorities mustered into the lob-bles were largely leavened with discontent-ol members, who much evaluat their will one were argety sevence with mooningli-ed members, who, much mighinst their will, voted in favor of the party amendment. The crushing government victory in the by election at Tork, and the definite break between the liberals and the re-united Irish, leaves the field clear for the marty in power party in power.

Already a meeting of the liberal party has been called to express confidence in its leader in the house of commons, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, and It is freely runnored that he meditates throwing up the thankless task of the nominal leader-ship and that the opposition is turning wintful eyes in the direction of Lord Rosbery. That no-called splitting, however, is most ion asture to retake the guidance of such an II-conditioned body during a period so crucial in the country's history, and though, spasmodically, he eviness a desire to re-enter the field of active poli-time he is the just man in the world to take a pix in a poke. Hence, the re-mainder of the session will probably be only marked by desultory opposition, the liberals taking the middle-of-the-raad course and the Irish adhering to out-andat demunciation of the government and its

ROBERTS' MOVEMENTS SECRET. Reason to Believe He Will Advance

Toward Bloemfontein.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 .- The war office in London has given out no confirmation of the report that General Buller's forces had retired again to the south side of the Tugela. The Boer telegrams have been generally correct hitherto, however, and the public inclines to the belief that the report is accurate. The London morning papers publish dispatches from various sources which indicate that Genvarious sources which indicate that Gen-eral Buller had found his position on the Vaalkrants ridge a difficult one to hold, and the silence from the war office is taken as corroboration of the report that the third attempt to relieve Ladyamith has failed. The milliney office are almost unach

The military critics are almost unani-mous in the belief that Ladysmith can-not hold out against another Boer attack. One London paper strongly hints that General Buller's operations are for the purpose of distracting the attention of the Bosrs from a projected central advance by a strong force, presumably headed by Lord Roberts. The government announcement that in three weeks' time Lord Roberts will have 194,000 men in South Africa Intensifies the public curlosity to unveil that closest offi-cial secret as to where this stupendous force is. High authorities agree that Lord Roberts, after safeguarding his communi-cations, will have only from 35,000 to 40,000 cations, will have only from solve to e.000 men for his northward march. Estimates of how many Boers he will have to face are mere guesswork, so much depends upon the fate of Ladysmith and the num-ber of Boers released from that point. Extraordinary efforts have been made by the censor to conceal Lard Roberts' des-tingtion but the general day tination, but the general idea seems to be that he contemplates an advance towards Bloemfontein.
