ercantile firms of Portland. He said the ire was successful so far as transportation permitted and crushing tariff regulations at Manila could be overcome. He also admonished Portland merchants that they knew little about the foreign trade, but followed with the assertion that they were quickly learning. "The whole Orient is open to Portland," said the speaker, "It is told in two words -flour and lumber. Portland is the cheap-added that he was an ardent expansion-ist, in the broadest sense, which brought guite an applause from the audience. He wished to disabuse the minds of all who thought the Philippines would be a dead weight on the hands of any government. A hard hit was given those advocating turning the island over to Filipino government:

At the close of his remarks Mr. Lewis added that he was an ardent expansion.

"We cannot no more leave there, no more give them up, no more barter them away, than we can fly. It is impossible We are there protecting the interests of every nation in Europe, and we must pro tect them. I do not believe there is a sin-gle American who sincerely desires us to give them up to England, Germany, Russia or any other country, or even turn them over to the monkey Filipines, which they really are. They know nothing about gov-ernment, are divided into countless tribes, speaking as many languages. No nation in Europe would permit us to turn their interests there over to those people there, who would simply cut their throats and take their property." President Cake, in introducing Mr. Lewis, said the club owed gratitude to the enterprising firms that had sent Mr. Lewis into this new field. He further commented on the co-operative spirit being mani fested.

An interesting incident is related in con-nection with the execution of Capitain Jack, who was one of the Indians hanged in this county for taking a leading part in the Modoc War. The day before his death, Capitain Jack was visited by a number of the clergy and asked to re-ceive the ordinance of baptism and other-wise prepare himself for a comfortable reception at the end of his journey on the morrow, being told of heaven's bliss morrow, being told of heaven's bliss the morrow, being told of heaven's bliss and the means to attain it. Then Jack inquired of the divine if he were actually sure of heaven and way to get there, to which an affirmative answer was given, with positive assurance. Whereupon Jack replied: "As for me. I feel a triffe unreplace. As for mat, I leet a true un-certain about the matter, and you being sure, I'll make this proposition to you: You take my place tomorrow and go to that region, about which you haven't a single doubt, and in return for the fa-tor I'll stra you all live next to vor I'll give you all I've got-lê ponies-to add to your estate. The storm over Western Montana last night has advanced to the Dakotas. A high-pressure area of considerable strength is slowly ad-vancing up the coast, and its presence is in-dicative of fair weather in the North Pacific Coast States for Sunday, and probably also Monday. A few small and widely acattered showers occurred Saturday in Washington, Or-egon, Northern California, Nevada and Utah. It is unseasonably cool in all North Pacific Coast States, and severe frosts are probable tonight east of the mountains, and they pos-ably may occur in some localities to the west area of considerable strength is slowly ad-WEATHER FORECASTS.

Forecasts made at Portland for the 28 hour ending at midnight Sunday, April 8: ending at midnight Sunday, April S: Western Oregon and Western Washington--Fair and warmer; westerly winds. Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Idaho--Fair: probably frosts Sunday night; warmer Monday; south to west winds. Portland and vicinity-Fair: probably frost early Sunday morning; warmer Sunday after-noon. EDWARD A. BEALS, Forecast Official.
