HOTFIGHTONROGERS

Populists Protest Over Delivery to Democracy.

CONFERENCE TO OUTLINE ACTION

The Hart-Godwin Row Over Again in King-Warm Among Republicans.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.-If Governor logers secures a permanent abiding place in the Democratic party, he will have to fight for it; and if he drags the Populist party with him it will be over the violent protests of many patriots in that oncethriving political aggregation, who profited by their devotion when it lived, and see no good to themselevs in allowing it to scheme of the Rogers crowd is to have Democratic primaries and conventions in which all parties shall particl pate and no questions be asked about previous condition of servitude. The play of Chairman McLaughlin, of the Populis state committee, is to have distinct Popu list, Democratic and Silver Republican primaries, who shall go into fusion county conventions, and finally one state convention. If the former plan prevails, the state stion will be made up indiscrimin ately of all "forces opposed to the Republi cans;" if the latter there will be a definite apportionment of delegates to the several parties-20 to the Democrats, on equal number to the Populists, and 100 to the Silver Republicans. In the one event, party lines would disappear, and in the other there would be no definite abandonment of the old organizations and fusion would be accomplished as formerly, but on a somewhat different basis.

Chairman McLaughlin has taken a clear stand against Rogers and all his works ences of Populists, one on the east side of the mountains and the other on the west. The dual arrangement was merely for sake of convenince and economy. One will be at Tacoma and the other at Spokane. In making the call, which was some days ago, the chairman used the following markable language. Its grammar may be vague, but its meaning is clear:

We are advised now to call your attention to the fact that certain politicians masquerading under the name of reform, rome of whom, having tasted the sweets of office, desiring to perpetuate their own incumbency, assume not only to dictate just what course the People's party proper shall see fit to take, but, with a raylal dictum, pretend further to say whether it shall live or quietly its down and die for their favor. These seem to forget that an honest officeholder is the last person who would at-tempt to dictate the policy of his party and that a dishenest office-seeker is the last person voice ought to have any force with a

This unmistakable challenge to the Governor and his followers elicited the following response from A. C. Little, manager for Rogers:

The wording of the call for the Populist mass meeting at Tacoma on June 21 by Chairman McLaughlin is such that we consider it a di-rect fling at Governor Rogers and his supportrect fling at Governor Rogers and his support-ers in the Populist party. I can not in justice to Governor Kogers, myself or any of my friends, assist in promoting a meeting where the manifest intention is to discredit our can-didate and his friends. We do not consider that the chairman of the state committee has any right to use his official position in oppos-tion to the candidacy of any person for office. I shall myself, and shall advise my friends, to attend the meeting, as we have a right to do to attend the meeting, as we have a right to do als in the furtherance of no candi-

deny the right of McLaughlin to invite them to such conference, but assert their right to be there and take note of what happens and prevent it happening, if they can. Well they may; for it is thoroughly Rogers faction to introduce at both meetings a resolution declaring pointedly against a second term for any state official, which will include, of course, the present state officials. McLaughlin ubtless has a working understanding with the mighty Maloney, the Democratic som, who has called his central comtogether for the middle of July in Seattle, and there and then it is expected that a policy will be outlined predicated Populist meetings in Spokane, and the forthcoming Populist conferences. Boss Maloney, by dexterous palming, managed to drive the Democratic party into the bollow of his hand; but there are obvious signs that it is not content to stay there. ers, who cannot be controlled by him, and pick out a man who can. It may be Colonel Lewis, who is in no danger of being dragged off, to Washington to adorn over the Bryan Administration; or it may be A. V. Fawcett, of Tacoma; or H. N. elt, of Spokane. Thurston Daniels, of Clark, whose modest estimate of his own small abilities is not his most shining trait, deems himself available, but so far as discoverable now, nobody else does, not even Maloney. Ex-Mayor Belt is the newest bidder for Democratic consideration. Belt was a Populist, but recent ly was delegate to the Spokane Demoeratic convention. He may not be all that could be desired as a candidate, but he is against Rogers, which is an admirable kane Democrats, who have not forgotter the ignominious treatment heaped by the kane lender-Maloney's predecessor-Deep Creek Jones, who has gone to Alaska. But neither have the Spokane Fusion ists any use for Colonel Lewis, for the reason that Lewis is looked upon as a pective rival of Senator Turner. Nor do they love Maloney, who has Lewis under his magic spell. At the late state ocratic convention, the Spokane delegation voted solidly against the Lewis Godwin-Maloney combine, and for Hart, who is an open champion of Rogers. This action was inspired by the fact that they loved Rogers not more, but Lewis and Maloney much less. The Turner influence, too, will do much, as it has done much, to soften the resentments against the Governor; so that it will doubtless be found when the proper time comes, that Spokane has a working understanding roy, of Scattle, that he would be a candidate for Congress against J. T. Rogald has an exact bearing on the big split in the Fusion forces. McElroy was an ardent partisan of Lee Hunt, at Spokane. tion, so that the contest for the endorsement of this county will be along the lines of the Hart-Godwin controversy. L. C. Gliman and R. C. Strudwick are two prominent Hart men who have declared for the ex-Mayor, but, while their example is significant, their actual assistance will not amount to much. McElroy will have with him a majority of the real party workers, and will make a formidable contest. He is now Prosecuting Atand he is exceedingly popular, Ronald, too, has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and he has the efficlent Godwin organization behind him. The issue is doubtful, but, whatever it is, it is certain to keep alive all the hatreds and antagonisms the recent great factional struggle within the party engendered.

The great activity of the Seattle Demo crats, in the matter of Congressman, is inspired in part by the certain Republican renomination of Representative Cushman, of Tacoma. It is confidently expected that there will be a landslide in King County for any Congressional candidate from within its borders. tion of a purpose to make a geographical issue between the two cities over Congressman would doubtless result in a counter movement in Pierce County, but as Seattle greatly outnumbers Tacoma in population, the politicians feel that out the state generally. He held his Reublican convention there Friday, and indorsed the Republican National Administration. Candidates for the Legislature and county office were nominated. Judge James Z. Moore was a candidate for Governor, and made a fight for indorsement, But he did not get the convention, and it seem to eliminate the Judge from the running. Mr. Wilson caused the convention to be held early, and a delegation named for trading purposes. This was ly nominated for Congress, and which he has employed ever since. Recently he has encountered better traders.

THE OREGON ELECTION. .

The Official Canvass Adds to the Republican Pluralities.

Yesterday the official canvass of the votes of Marion, Union and Yambill Countles was reported, raising the plurality of Judge Wolverton to 11,175; of Dairy and Food Commissioner Baffey to 7656; of Congressman Tongue, in the First District, to 1156. It is probable that the changes here-after to be made will not materially alter they can safely take the risk. In 1802, the pluralities. The following tables show

JOHN G. BONNET

PROMINENT OREGON WOOLEN-MILL MAN.

MILWAUKIE, Or., June 9.-John G. Bonnet, who died here yesterday, was born in Wuremberg, Germany, March 16, 1839. His parents arrived in this country in 1833, settling at ockville, Conn. Here the son served an approprietic-ship with the New England Woolen Mills, In 1868 he came to Oregon, by the Isthmus of Panama, and assumed charge of the Orego City Woelen Mill. The connection lasted 15 years, when he purchased an interest in th Dayton mills. This plant was destroyed by fire in 1885, and Mr. Bennet returned to his old position at Oregon City. Three years later ill health caused his resignation, and he moved to his home, near this place, and started a wool-carding mill, which he operated up to the time of his death. Mr. Donnet was a generous, public-spirited citizen, and for 13 years con-secutively served his school district as director, besides holding other public trusts.

his dominance of the Republican machine, captured the nomination for Governor, and when the party declared for the Lake Washington Canal, the Scattle cry was raised. It was well that it was, for Mc-Graw at that time was not any too popular with the masses. Tacoma accepted the issue, and the Democratic convention was induced to declare against the canal and sidetrack Lewis, who was a candidate for Governor. King County gave County went for Snively by 3000. In a similar situation today the advantage of a Souttle candidate would be much greater, for this city is now about twice as large as Tacoma.

The Republicans of King County are going ahead with their sharp contest over the Governship. Last Wednesday the Re publican County Committee met, and a Frink forces over the date of the county convention. The former wanted an early day, and the latter fought for delay and won. The vote was nine to eight. Mr. Wilson's Post - Intelligencer promptly halled the decision of the committee as a great Frink victory, and declared that carefully concealed, or glossed over, the essential facts of the matter and the methods by which the committee was influenced to take its action. Two members. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Gill, had removed from the districts which they had represented and the Humes people made an effort to declare their scats vacant. Secretary Lysons attempted to follow the usual parliamentary practice of calling upon the remainder of the committee to vote, leaving the names of Lewis and Gill off the roll call. This action raised a great row, and, as there was no way to prevent them voting on the question if they insisted, the chairman and secretary were forced to accede. Thus Gill and Lewis were placed in the position of making conspicuous their own bad taste and obtuseness as to the proprieties in order to save their own bacon. But these tactics prevalled, and the day was saved to the Frink men. On the final vote as to the date of the convention, at least one Humes man-P. J. Smith-voted for a late conrention. The former made a mistake in trying to have it set too early, and the latter at too late a date, which was finally determined to be about one week before the State Convention. The State Central Committee will meet July 12, and call the convention and settle the time, which will probably be in the neighborhood of Sep-likely soon to unite. The King County Club, at its meeting last Thursday, held out the olive branch and appointed a committee to confer with the McKinley Club. The former is a Frink, the latter a Humes organization. It has been found by both in separate organizations, and it is keenly felt on both sides, too, that the effect is to keep alive factional differences and threaten the party's future. A compromise will probably be reached by which there shall be a single organization with same of one and the officers of the the name of one and the other, or, perhaps, with a new deal all other, or, perhaps, with not support any Frink organization as such, nor will the Frink men belong to any Humes organization. The contest between them is exceedingly warm-made warmer by the nite stamp of the Wilson approval upon

Mr. Frink by openly supporting him in the Post-Intelligencer. Mr. Wilson can do things still in Spowhen John H. McGraw, by reason of a summary of the situation as reported to

THE LA CENTER DRAWBRIDGE. Inited States Engineers Object to

Proposed Location of Structure. VANCOUVER, Wash., June 9 .- County Commissioners Schuele, McBride and Gary, accompanied by County Attorney Sparks, went to Portland today to con-fer with Captain Langfitt, United States Engineers, relative to the drawbridge across the east fork of Lewis River at pany for $3125. Objection was made by United States Engineers to the pres ent draw at La Center on the ground that it is of such a character as to obstruct navigation on the river, it being of the old style "lift" pattern. The contract for the new draw requires that it give a clear space of 80 feet for boats, against about 90 feet allowed by the old draw. Since the letting of this contract Captain Langfitt has made objection to the ecation of the bridge, recommending that it be moved at least 100 feet up or down stream. This recommendation, if insist-ed upon, will not only be unsatisfactory to the residents of La Center, the present bridge leading off from the principal business street of the town, but would necessitate an outlay of not less than $3000 by the county in purchasing right of way and constructing a new bridge. and would also require an additional expense for a bridge tender, not now re-quired.
