

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight.

JORDRAY'S THEATRE (Washington St.)—Mistral Carnival and Nashville Students.

SHING UP THE COAST.—Thomas Miller, general freight agent of the Burlington Railroad Company, who with a party of friends has been in Portland for a few days, left this morning for Spokane. From there he will go to the National Park and thence to Chicago. While in the Northwest Mr. Miller and his party have visited Victoria, Seattle and Portland, stopping a few days in each place. He says that the trip was a pleasure trip and that he has no doubt true, yet there are some who think that his visit meant more. Ever since the Burlington became of any importance Mr. Miller has been connected with the road, and is looked upon as one of its big men. There are some railroad people who think that his trip to the Coast was to see it up as a freight producer. Then, by visiting each of the important towns of the Northwest, he would be able to give his company some advice in determining which point to make the terminus when it is decided to extend on to the Coast.

STRAIN RELIEVED.—Portland hotel-keepers were given a little rest yesterday, after a week of hurry and bustle, consequent on the arrival of strangers here at the various conventions. Many of the visitors started for home, and the hotel lobbies, which had been crowded, were rather not so quite so much business at once and string it out more, but the manipulations of conventions, grand lodges, Pioneer meetings, Indian War Veteran reunions and Native Sons assemblies have no means of knowing when the other folks meet, and so such gatherings are likely to come together once in a while.

A MODERN FUEL.—The gas stove is a modern fuel and also means convenience, comfort and the very best results. If you are interested in having a stove and are not a gas consumer, we will run a service from our main to your basement for this month only free of charge, thus reducing the expense to the mere cost of the stove, which includes all connecting. We guarantee the successful operation of every stove, and furnish thorough instructions to every purchaser. Portland Gas Company, 172 and 174 Fifth street.

NUMEROUS COLLECTORS.—The wheelman who has not purchased his 1900 tag is likely to run against three or four Deputy Sheriffs in the course of a day's riding around Portland. The collectors are all ways civil and make no threats of confiscation, but they like very much to get rid of the handful of tags they carry with them. Quite a number of aluminum disks with five-pointed stars cut out of them were sold on the streets last week.

HIS MISSING BOY.—An Oregon Pioneer, who was putting up at the Perkins with his son, missed the "kid" yesterday for several hours and had all the hotel attendants hunting for him without avail. Finally Chief Clerk Thompson asked the old gentleman the age of the missing boy. "He's 54 years old," replied the septuagenarian, and the hotel men quit the search. They thought a lad of that age ought to be able to take care of himself.

HE SCORES KIPLING.

An Able Written Criticism by a Prominent Portland Educator.

I have examined Mr. W. J. Peddicord's "Studyard Reviewed," and am compelled to recognize the justice of the strictures Mr. Peddicord makes concerning the work performed by the noted Rudyard Kipling. Mr. Peddicord is an American through and through, and knows how to express clear-cut thought in welcome English, meeting the requirements of English composition, as the review portrays on every page. Mr. Peddicord has thought deeply, read widely and is possessed of a literary turn of mind. The book he has written will do much to give the public a correct estimate of Mr. Kipling. Truly, B. J. HOADLEY, Former Professor of English Literature, Portland University.

MISS LARGE AT ARION HALL

Miss Large will give a piano recital at Arion Hall, Monday, June 18, under the auspices of the Musical Club, one of Chicago's favorite pianists. She holds closely to the belief that the music which succeeds in interesting an audience is that which is most clearly interpreted; in short, that which is best played or sung. The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "It must be admitted that the dry bones of Bach, Handel or Brahms awake in her hands a life under Miss Large's fingers." The Chicago Record speaks of her playing of the Bach "Suite," which is on Monday's programme, as an "inspiration."

MORE GOOD WORDS.

The Kimball Piano Winning High Honors Everywhere.

"There is no use talking, Chicago—the Kimball company—is making some of the very finest pianos that are made anywhere in the United States," said a prominent musician yesterday, who had called to try the piano that was used at Miss Dearborne's recital at the Marquam last Monday. Kimball pianos are used and endorsed by nearly all the great musicians of the day—and they are in daily use in the homes and studios of the great artists, such as the De Rozales, Paul, Emma James, Nordica, etc., etc. Every grand opera company that has come West has most unqualifiedly expressed preference for the Kimball piano—and the consensus of these opinions is that the Kimball pianos are as nearly perfect as human skill and ingenuity can make them, and that their remarkable tone quality supports and blends with the human voice most admirably. No small credit for the unqualified success of the recital above referred to has been generously bestowed by local musicians upon the Kimball piano—and we venture to say that the Kimball piano in future will be a most important factor in the musico-artistic field, here, as it is elsewhere.

Fashionable Tweeds, Blue Serges and Worsteds SUITS AT $15 Suits with a Steinbach Quality Label on

IT IS EASY to assert, but it is the doing, not the saying, that counts in the long run in merchandising. At times we may seem a little boastful. These sack suits for men at $15 we know are worth $15. There are no better suits sold anywhere at this price. They have the certain goodness of Steinbach quality, and lasting goodness is our stronghold. The suits fit properly and colors are fast. Checks, broken plaids, neat mixtures and plain blues, $15 a suit.
