

FEW FROM THE COAST

MISSIONARIES IN CHINA MAINLY FROM OTHER LOCALITIES.

What Local Ministers Think of the Present Situation and of the Outcome.

There are no missionaries in China from Oregon, and the missionaries from the Pacific Coast, the missionary people of Portland, however, feel great interest in the news from China, and are exceedingly anxious to know what has happened to the missionaries who are in the rioting districts.

The only Presbyterian missionary sent to China from the Northwest is Dr. Leonard, a lady from St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Peikin, and her friends are greatly distressed over the news from there.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has a great many missionaries in the northern part of China. Some of them are in other districts where the trouble now exists. They have only two in China from the Pacific Coast, however, one is Miss Phoebe Parkinson, who went from Spokane last year. She is at Foo Chow.

What the Ministers Say. Dr. E. P. Hill, of the First Presbyterian Church, thinks that the present trouble will be benefited greatly as a result of the present trouble. China is not to blame for this trouble, said he yesterday.

Dr. Alexander Blackburn, of the First Baptist Church, says that he cannot predict what the future of the present trouble will be. He says that Dr. William Ashmore, who is one of the pioneer Baptist missionaries in China, declares it to be his opinion that great good will ultimately come out of this trouble.

Rev. H. W. Kellogg, of the First Methodist Church, feels that in some way the trouble which the missionaries are going through will ultimately result in good to the cause. He thinks that China has failed to keep up with the procession, and will therefore go to pieces.

"Bishop Tholman thinks," said he, "that many of the Chinese are ready for a change. Dr. Tholman has been at work in China for 20 years, and he says he has noted a wonderful change in this respect in the past few years. Chintamen who 20 years ago would have become indignant if approached by missionaries are now anxiously seeking to know more of American and American ways, and showing other signs of a desire to become a part of the living, moving world."

Rev. William S. Gilbert, of Calvary Presbyterian Church, thinks that the present trouble will cost the various missionary societies many good workers, and much valuable property, but that it will end in great good to the cause. He would not undertake to predict just what the outcome would be, but ventured the opinion that the mission of the earth will probably on the eve of entering into the mission work that the societies have been carrying on so long.

Rev. A. W. Sherman, of the First Congregational Church, thinks that the present rioting is not any more against the missionaries than against foreigners in general and that he has no particular opinion in fact, he says that letters he has had from missionaries confirm this. None of them seem to fear the rioters. It is for the native Christians that they have most fears.

One missionary wrote me not long ago that the British revenue in South Africa had stirred up the Chinese," said he. "The Chinese and other foreigners declare that if a little nation like the Boers can whip England, it is time for China to assert herself and not be afraid."

"Another missionary writes me that the 'Boxers' are a rising class of people who, when the Chinese officials do things they do not like, rise up and put a stop to it. They then quiet down and are forgiven."

"No doubt they think they can do the same thing with the foreign powers. I think that instead of bringing on the trouble, the missionaries have helped to keep it down for a long time. Those who do not know of the manner in which the foreign missionaries work are not in any position to arrive at conclusions on this point. I am sometimes both amused and grieved at criticisms of missionaries that I hear on the street and on the train."

ROAD RACE JULY 4.

Crack Events to Be Given by General Committee.

Arrangements are being completed for the bicycle road race, which is to be held July 4, under the auspices of the General Council of July Committee. Several prizes will be given this year for pace, and the fine silver cup offered by Mayor Storey will be awarded to the rider covering the course in the best time, and a handsome gold medal will be given for the second best time. The race will be handicapped so that novices can enter upon terms of equality with older and more experienced riders. Professional and amateur riders are all free to enter.

The course this year has been arranged so that spectators will be able to see the riders pass any point on the course four times. The course is as follows: Start at Hawthorne avenue and East Thirty-fourth street; then to Section Line road by Prentiss avenue; then to reservoir; then north to the Base Line road and west on Base Line road to Thirty-fourth street; then to Section Line road, at around the same course as above three times, with finish the fourth time at Thirty-seventh street, on the Base Line road.

Among those who will enter are: Rex Dyer, who won the time prize in the Y. M. C. A. road race on Decoration day; L. C. Campbell, who won the second time prize in the same race; Carl Nowatowick, J. Holbrook and the two Riddies, from Monmouth. Entry blanks can be had from Ben C. Wing, 13 Front street, to whom entries also should be sent.

CELEBRATED SILVER JUBILEE

Rev. Mother Agnes, of the Home of Mercy, Is Honored.

The silver jubilee of Rev. Mother M. Agnes, superiora of the Sisters of Mercy of Portland, was very pleasantly celebrated during the past week at both institutions under her motherly care. On Thursday the Home for the Aged was honored by the presence of His Grace, Most Rev. Archbishop Christie, who celebrated holy mass. His Grace was accompanied by Rev. E. Casey, Rev. Fathers Brosseau and La Croix were also present. After mass, Most Rev. Archbishop Christie was pleased to mark the occasion by addressing all present. His kind words of congratulation will no doubt find echo in many a heart, for all who have the privilege of knowing good Mother M. Agnes join in wishing her many long and happy years to preside over the community of which she is the worthy head.

In one of the rooms of the Home of Mercy, is honored.

WELL-KNOWN FRATERNAL MAN.

CHARLES FELLOWS WAS LONG A KNIGHT OF PYTHIAS.

Charles H. Fellows, a well-known citizen of Portland, who died at his home, 414 Everett street, Wednesday, was for years a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias, among whom he was known as "Old Faithful." Mr. Fellows was a native of Fairfield, England, and came to Oregon in 1861. For a time he followed mining in the Rogue River Valley, and encountered the hardships of the early day miners in a hostile Indian country. He was afterwards engaged in the butcher business here, for a period of 12 years. At the time of his death he was 71 years old. He left a widow and five grown children.

Several very handsome presents were shown all gifts for the dear jubilarian. conspicuous among them was a very fine picture of Archbishop Christie in crayon, also a very beautiful set of gold vestments. Friends far and near remembered the day and assisted spiritually at the celebration when it could not be done in reality. The chapel and parlors were very tastefully decorated. All the inmates of the Mercy Home spent a most enjoyable day visiting the old folks, and when evening was close at hand it was their turn to direct attention to their own celebration, and it was carried on in a very fine scale Friday evening, when the young girls of the Home gave an entertainment. The sacred drama, "Fabiola," was presented in the very best manner that could be done by amateurs, and well do the young women deserve the praise bestowed on them by Rev. Father Casey, who presided at the performance. The songs, instrumental music and recitations also deserve special mention, and it can be safely said that those who had the pleasure of being present were highly gratified with the evening's performance. A very pretty feature of the occasion was the receiving of a silver crown by Rev. Mother Agnes in token of her 25 years of religious life and as a symbol of the glorious one that awaits her in the world beyond.

BIG FUTURE FOR LUMBER

MICHIGAN MAN'S ESTIMATE OF OREGON'S INDUSTRY.

He Thinks the Banks of the Lower Columbia Will Be Lined With Sawmills Soon.

"The banks of the Columbia will be alive with sawmills before long," said A. J. Harvey, of Saginaw, Mich., yesterday. Mr. Harvey is a sawmill constructor, and is out here in the interest of C. K. Eddy & Co., prominent lumber manufacturers of Saginaw, who have obtained title to 100,000 acres of timber lands in Oregon. The firm is winding up its sawmill interests in Michigan, on account of the depletion of the forests, and will proceed to erect a mill just below Astoria in the near future. The proposed plant, Mr. Harvey said, will have a capacity of 100,000 feet in 10 hours, and will employ a large force of men about the mill and in the woods.

Among the Michigan firms who will soon erect sawmills in Oregon are Bliss & Alger, of Saginaw, he said, and this firm has now four men in Oregon forests purchasing timber lands. He thinks the timber resources of Oregon and Portland medical men are counting on a great gathering here this week, when the State Medical Society meets. In addition to the 150 members who are expected to be on hand, many prominent physicians and surgeons from other parts of the country will be here.

Among those who are expected from outside of the state are: Dr. A. M. Phelps, of New York; Dr. W. A. M. Potter, of Tacoma; Dr. J. McKee, of Tacoma; Dr. Charles James, of Tekoa, Wash.; Dr. Wilson Johnston, of Colfax, Wash.; Dr. W. S. McNutt, of San Francisco, and Dr. B. Eastman, of Seattle.

Dr. Phelps is perhaps the most distinguished visitor who will attend the meeting. He will deliver an address each day—Tuesday and Wednesday. He will also perform surgical operations each day in a room prepared for the work in the Abington Building, in which the meeting is held. Last year the operations were performed at the hospital, but in view of the fact that all members of the society will want to witness the work of Dr. Phelps, it was decided to prepare an operating room near the meeting hall.

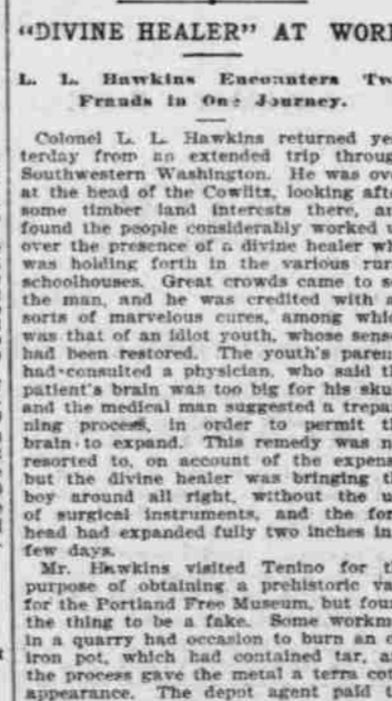

Miss Margaret Tandy and Miss Leonie Frey, of the Surgical Sanitarium, will be in charge. The members of the society are greatly excited over the coming of Dr. Phelps. They say they were enabled to have him with them only because he had an address to deliver before a graduating class at Ann Arbor, Mich., and in company with his wife, decided to visit the Pacific Coast, on a pleasure trip.

Dr. W. F. McNutt, of San Francisco, is another noted specialist, who will address the meeting. He is well known in San Francisco, as a physician and also as a leader in political affairs. He is said to go into politics as a matter of recreation. His chief energies are devoted to his profession.

The other visiting physicians are all well known specialists and will add much to the program of the meeting. "Some Observations on the Treatment and Prevention of Catarrhal Deafness in Children," Dr. Hicks C. Penton, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. W. L. Wood, Portland. "The Structural Relationship Between Man and Ape," illustrated with stereopticon, Professor F. L. Washburn, Eugene. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. Nunn, Portland. "The Doctor as a Factor in Promotion of Charitableness," Dr. R. C. Coffey, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. L. Thompson, Spokane.

"The Criminal Insane," Dr. W. T. Williamson, Salem. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. E. Joseph, Portland. "Observations on the Surgery of the Gall Tracts," Dr. William Jones, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. Ernest F. Tucker, Portland. "Surgical Treatment of Septic Infection and Its Treatment," Dr. Andrew C. Smith, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Portland. "Diagnosis of Smallpox," stereopticon illustration, Dr. Wallace W. Potter, Spokane. Discussion will be opened by Dr. Charles James, Tekoa. "Rabies," Dr. W. L. Wood, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. J. J. McKee, Tacoma. "Preventive Medicine," Dr. N. E. Windward, Albany. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. A. Jarne, Seattle. "Some Points in the Diagnosis of the More Common Forms of Nasal Obstruction and Their Radical Relief," Dr. E. De Witt Connell, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. J. F. McKee, Portland. "Notes on Vaginal Hysterectomy," Dr. W. F. McNutt, San Francisco. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. C. Coffey, Portland. "Pulmonary Tuberculosis," Dr. R. L. Gillespie, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. Wilson Johnston, Colfax. "Watery Solution of Supra Renal Extract and Some of its Uses in Surgery of the Eye, Nose and Ear," Dr. J. F. Dickson, Portland. Discussion will be opened by Dr. R. Nunn, Portland. Address: "Phelps' Operation for Hernia," Dr. A. M. Phelps, New York City. Discussion will be opened by Dr. James B. Maclean, Seattle. Miscellaneous business. Election of officers for ensuing year. Address of retiring president, Dr. Harry Lane, Portland.

TOOK THREE FIRST PRIZES.

Laurence Selling, Portland Academy Graduate.

Laurence Selling, who won all three of the first prizes offered the graduating class of Portland Academy last week, is a son of Ben Selling, of this city. He was one of the youngest members of his class, but by persistent work he took the lead in Greek and mathematics and was awarded the scholarship prize as well. His friends are very proud of the record he has made, and predict greater things for him in the future. In September he will go to Princeton to complete his education.

TRAVELED 1200 MILES IN A BUGGY.

Rev. Harvey K. Hines, a pioneer and one of the most prominent Methodist ministers of the Northwest, has returned from east of the mountains, where he has been for several months, and has made his home at Sunnyside. Dr. Hines and his wife traveled about 1200 miles in his buggy through the inland Empire, visiting nearly every city and point of importance. It was a trip of rare interest, as it took him through a country that he had pioneered over in early days when the pack-train and mule-train were the main means of transportation for supplies to the mines, and when the stage coach plunged through the Blue Mountains from the Columbia River to

ARE NOW INCORPORATED

DIRECTORS OF STREET FAIR A LEGAL BODY.

Will Hereafter Transact Business Like Any Corporation—Plans Materializing.

With the incorporation of the directors of the Portland Street Fair and Carnival, the proposition assumes definite form and guarantee to the business men of the community that the affairs of the project will be managed in a careful and conservative manner. The work will now go on as usual, and the confidence thus inspired will materially assist the promoters of the fair in their labors of raising funds.

The incorporators named in the articles which were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday, in the name of the Portland Street Fair and Carnival Association, are A. D. Charlton, Edward Ehrman, D. Sells Cohen, J. E. Thielson, J. M. Long, R. E. Moody, John F. Cordray, E. W. Rowe and Alex Sweek. The officers are: E. W. Rowe, president; Edward Ehrman, vice-president; J. M. Long, secretary, and A. D. Charlton, treasurer.

The objects of the association, as set forth in the articles, are "to hold and conduct street fairs and street carnivals in Portland, to receive voluntary contributions for the purpose of maintaining and supporting them, and to enter into all contracts with persons, firms or corporations for the purpose of having such persons, firms or corporations give shows or exhibits, free or for hire, as the corporation may think best, and for the corporation itself to give shows and exhibitions, free or for hire, as they may think best, and to enter into any and all contracts and obligations that the association may think necessary or beneficial for the purpose, or in order to secure street fairs and carnivals, to be held in Portland."

Barrels for rubber will be stationed at the following places for four days beginning Monday: Hoffman & Co., Third and Division, Third and State, Salem Woolen Mill, Third near Stark; Summers & Prael Company, Third, near Washington; Lipman, Wolfe & Co., Third and Washington; S. Rosenbatt & Co., Third and Morrison; A. B. Steinbach & Co., Fourth and Morrison; Meier & Frank, Fifth and Morrison; C. P. Sillier's, Sixth, near Morrison; Sig Westheimer's, Sixth near Washington; Aldrich Pharmacy, Sixth and Washington; Imperial Hotel, Seventh and Washington; Olds & King, Fifth and Washington; Woodard & Clarke, Fourth and Washington; Fred T. Merrill Cycle Company, Sixth, near Stark; J. P. Findley & Son, Third and Jefferson. There will be also barrels stationed at several places on the East Side, the exact number of which is not yet determined. The rubber crusade will be active during the four days, and no one should neglect his share in digging up some old rubber to contribute in this way a mite to the success of the carnival.

Young ladies will have charge next Saturday of the following cigar and newstands: B. B. Rich's, at Third, between Washington and Stark, Morrison, between Third and Fourth, and the Portland Hotel, and I. Siebel's, at Fourth and Washington. The women of the auxiliary committee are preparing, in addition to a number of assessments for July and August, the proceeds of which will go to their building fund. A well-known woman architect of Chicago is already at work preparing the plans of the Women's Building.

The baseball game between the Eiks and the Eagles has been scheduled for next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, on the Multnomah Field. A street parade will be held before the game, headed by the "Wonderful Studerbakerville Silver Cornet Band," followed by royal birds, mounted on the backs of others in fantastic costumes. The game will be amusing and interesting as an exhibition of baseball, as both orders have excellent players, and the rivalry will be keen between them.
