

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

The break in the week's business caused by the National holiday, as usual, slightly disarranged matters in the commercial world, but trade picked up Thursday morning about where it left off Tuesday evening, and held good to the close of business last evening. Harvesting is still being done all over the Northwest, and this has had a quieting effect on the wheat market, as farmers are all so busy that they have no time to arrange for the disposal of the big crop which is now coming on, or the liberal surplus which they are holding over. The season has progressed to a stage where contracts are being made for the coming crop. The price is lower than the contracting price at this time last year, ranging from 75c to 85c per bushel, if there is a good crop and it is secured in perfect condition, these figures will leave a fair margin of profit for the expense of growing.

Early Oregon peaches, apricots, plums, etc., are now coming in quite plentifully, and yesterday there were liberal receipts of Oregon cucumbers from The Dalles. New potatoes are so plentiful that they have about driven the California stock from the market. They are selling at 50 cents per bushel, even at that low figure. There was a grand slump in the poultry market just before the Fourth, but prices recovered materially immediately after that day, the big crowd in town apparently using up all of the stocks which had been laid in by the restaurants and hotels. Eggs and butter are being fairly steady with no accumulation of stocks, but not much indication of an advance on account of the ruling prices in Eastern and San Francisco markets. In the grocery market there was a 10-cent advance in sugar early in the week, and package coffee is half a cent higher.

WHEAT—There has been a wobbling market and a very light movement in wheat during the past week, with transactions in the very small proportions. The Chicago market has dropped back about 20 cents from the highest point reached, and at times seemed very unsteady even at the lowest figure reached since the reaction. Argentine shipments were again upwards of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat for the week, and the European buyers seem to be able to secure all the supplies needed without becoming so alarmingly bullish in their views as the Chicago operators. In the Pacific Northwest, a magnificent crop is coming along in the finest possible condition, and quality and quantity will both be well up to the record.

A carload of new wheat is due this morning from east of the mountains, and it should have a better market here earlier than it has had in the past. In the Valley there has been a considerable improvement in the condition of the crop, and the Spring grain now promises to make a pretty fair crop after all, with the Winter wheat by no means a total failure. Prices during the week were to a large extent nominal, and covered a narrow range. Walla Walla was generally quoted at 56 and 57 cents, and they were about the same, with bluestem nominal at 50 and 51 cents. These prices will not prolong very much, but so long as tonnage continues scarce, buyers are not making much effort to buy wheat, all of their tonnage engagements being well covered clear into September, and beyond. Freight is firm, but inactive, with no new engagements being reported for several days. If there should be anything like a free shipping movement of the new crop, a blockade at tide water, even with largely increased warehouse facilities would be inevitable.

The situation in California is thus reviewed by the San Francisco Commercial News: "In our own state the prospects continue good, although not so bright as a year ago. The decrease in the quantity of the Sacramento Valley is reported; the quality of the grain is excellent, but the quantity not much above the average. Conditions in the vicinity of the Bay are excellent. In the vicinity of the Bay, along the Coast the yield will probably be below the average. The local market remains quiet, with values fairly steady."

getting the situation, and went up to 80¢. That was as high as the market got. The rains, together with some messages of a cheering sort from the Northwest, country, animated the trade into selling of various sorts, and under this pressure August slid off to 75¢. An English cable proposing that smaller world's shipping would be shown in Monday's report, past together with a lighter Southwestern movement, as shown by receipts caused a reaction from the bottom to 70¢, but some of this was lost, and the close was, again, August closing 74¢ under yesterday's 75¢.

Corn sold off on the prediction of rain for Kansas and Nebraska. Where weather and scorching winds have been holding forth. The market rose a bit from the bottom on some buying by Western interests. Trade was rather active. August closed 84¢ down. Oats were steady without any particular trade. August closed 40¢ up.

Provisions were dull and easy, partly with the current, mostly on the letting out of long stuff. Hog receipts were light, and there was a fairly good scattering demand through the country.
