CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. ALISKY'S WINTER GARDEN (Third and rison streets)-Concert nightly.

MUNICIPAL LITIDATION.-Litigation of an important nature will be handled by the City Attorney's office when court opens. A large number of actions are now being commenced against persons beid liable under the curative act for the payment of back installments for street assomments. These actions will probably involve over 1990 persons, all told. In one case flied there were 199 defendants. All involve over 1000 persons, all told. In one case flied there were 100 defendants. All who have been exulting over the fact that they beat the city in some technicality and balleved they were escaping payment of their street improvement assessments will not find the provement to the street in the street in the street in the street in the street is the street in the street in the street in the street is the will now find themselves facing a serious problem. The interpretation of the Su-preme Court that where a person had received the benefit of the improvement collection could not be defeated on a technicality will open up all the cases once so decided. A stubborn fight will be made by Merchant & Co., over the stockyards. Under the ordinance passed, the City Attorney feels that he is specally delegated to abate the nuisance. sa declared therein, and an immense number of witnesses are being gathered to testify in the case on behalf of the city. The case of M. Bloch vs. the City is also being prepared for the final contest in court. At least $75,000 is involved in this case, which represents the amounts claimed by firemen who served at reduced pay for a considerable period

BAME OLD BERT KERRIDAN .- An athletic event of far more than ordinary interest was the performance yesterday of Bert Kerrigan at the Chautauqua games held st Gladstone park. Kerrigan is just getting back into the field after a long lay-off, and some of his friends have been dubious as to whether he would ever reach his former record for the running high jump. Yesterday, with practically no competition to stimulate him. Kerrigan came near breaking the Pacific Coast which is held by himself. The announced officially, is nothing. as he did not endeavor to place any fig ures on the score after he failed in the six-feet-three-inch jump. Twice he ran at the pole while standing at this figure, and each time got over, but failed by the slightest degree in clearing as he went wn. Those acquainted with his mettle there been some competition. Kerrigan's performance demonstrates that he is yet himself, and is taken as a certain indi-cation that by this Fall, if he has time to train properly, between now and then, he will be in condition to smash the Pacific Coast record, and perhaps do more. BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

Great Structure.

The engineer of the Brooklyn bridge bases that the variation in the height of the center of that structure in Summer and Winter is three feet. This is due to the crassalon of the wires by heat and their contraction by cold. The same law of expansion and con-traction influencing the sensitive wires of the plano, is the chief cause of that instrument getting out of tone. In the construction of the Kimball plano instrument getting out of the careful intention and judgment of experis trained instrument the will present the greatest resistance to the variation of tension caused by changes of temperature. Con-sequently the plano standing in tune as is the Kimball.

is the Kimball. The grand plano purchased of the Kim-ball Company by Mime. Eames in 185 for her Paris home is an illustration. The instrument made the long fourney from Chicago to that city and arrived in per-fect tume. Appreciating this remarkable fact, Mime. Eames coupluded a recent let-ter to the firm directing the shipment of a second plano for her castle at Vallom-brosa, Italy. "It also has the marvelous quality of keeping in tume."-Times-Her-aid.
