In the country, farmers are so busy taking care of the crops that they have pound. but little time for trading, and from the city several thousand of the inhabitants have departed for the seashore and mountains. At the same time there is a mountains. At the same time there is a good demand for all kinds of seasonable staples, and, with the exception of wheat and wool, which are still dragging, there is considerable firmness in most agricultural products. Butter has advanced during the week on account of the not weather interfering with adjacency. weather interfering with shipments, and there is also a very firm market for eggs, poultry, pork and veal, which usually are Prices for Cereals in European and in a large measure neglected during the hot weather. Receipts of fruit and melons were very heavy, but the weather has been so favorable for the sale of them that they have cleaned up at remarkably good prices. The grain markets are dull. Sugar and coffee are firm, with an advancing tendency.

WHEAT-There has been a very light movement in wheat during the past wees, the sales in the aggregate being of no consequence either as a key to prices in adding to stocks now held at tidewater. The dock strike this week has caused exports for July to show up much lighter than they otherwise would have done, but as lay days do not count no one is regarding the strike very serious ly, and some of the exporters are taking advantage of the lull in the business to enjoy a few days' vacation. Farmers are all so busy securing the crop that they are not making any overtures to the buyers, and on both sides there is a disposition to wait awhile before doing much business. Under such droumstances, quotations are strictly nominal, and are generally given out at 55 cents for Walla Walla and Valley and about 50 cents for bluestem. Higher prices have been paid for some lots wanted for a special purpose, but the amount wanted at prices above these figures is limited. Freights are unchanged, with owners refusing to make concessions. Crop conditions continue favorable

There will be no such phenomenal yield as some of the hysterical Tacoma newspaper correspondents have been predicting, but it will be far above the average. In most cases where "disappointing" crop returns are coming in an investiga tion discloses the fact that lands which usually turn off 25 bushels to the acre are now yielding 50 bushels, while their owners were expecting 40 bushels to the acre. This may be termed & "disappoint. ing yield," but it is a class of disappointment of which we can stand a great deal. Thus for there is no apparent reach, $1 65%. CHICAGO, July 21.—The activity engendered by wheat was only moderate, but the wheat market showed a broad undertone of strength. The range of prices was rather narrow, but, considering the fact that the day was Saturday, and speculators inclined to rest even over Saturday, business was brisk. September opened &c over yesterday, at $154,678%c, and sold to $18%c during the first half hour. ADVANCE IN TEA.

Markets in This Country Disturbed

by the Chinese War. NEW YORK, July fi.-The trouble in China is already influencing the whole-sale tea market of this country. Within

New York Journal.
CHICAGO, July 15.—Behind the filmsy guardianship of an Uncle Remus and a dusty bust of McKinley lies the private office of Hon. H. H. Kohlsuat, proprietor of the Chicago Times-Herald, the leading Republican editor of the West, incidentally a man of business and affairs, and spe-cifically one of the Republican triumvirate who put McKinley in the White

The bust of McKinley looks owi-like, glum and neglected. The dust has set-tled on it until it is nearly as dusky as Uncle Remus himself.

Mr. Kohlsaat is a fine-haired man, and, therefore, pleasant to approach and free of speech. To those who do not know him, just imagine Mark Hanna and then think of something just as different as possible; that will be Mr. Kohlsaat.

On the wall of his private room hangs the original typewritten draft of the financial plank adopted by the Republican convention at St. Louis in 1896. Mr. Kohl. convention at St. Louis in 1896. Mr. Kohl-saat points it out with modest pride. "Before the meeting of the Democratic convention at Kansas City," said Mr. Kohlsast, "I was far from sanguine in regard to the election of McKinley and Rooseveit. It was not that I had any misgivings as to how the West would throw its vota, but it seemed to me that influences were at work in the East that made New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Maryland debatable ground, with the chances favoring the Democracy."

"Are not the same influences still at work in the Enst?"

"No. Before the Democratic convention there was much dissatisfaction expressed publicly and privately among

The first is dated January 6, 1960, from the temporary home of the South Chi Li Mission in Shan Tung Province. It incloses a letter written by Dr. Arthur H.
Smith to United States Minister Conger at Pekin, asking aid during the early stage of the Boxer outbreaks. The sec-ond letter was written June 11, from Pel Taiho, on the north coast of China, where the missionaries take a vacation during each Summer. The first letter is in part as follows:

there is quite a strong station of the American Board Mission here. Many letters by courier and many telegrams have passed between the American Board of Missionaries and the United States Minister, Mr. Conger, at Pekin, The native Christians are suffering severely.
