BOTH PARTIES PREPARING POLL THEIR LARGEST VOTE.

LIVELY CAMPAIGN COMING

Vast Amount of Literature Has Already Been Distributed-Satisfaction With the Tickets.

WASHINGTON, July 17 .- If present in-ications can be relied upon, there will uccuions can be relied upon, there will be a very lively and active campaign this Fall, one of the most interesting that has been held in years. With both tickets named, and general satisfaction on both sides with the respective tick-ets, there is much enthusiasm to be evoked, and both parties will undoubtedly poil their best vote. Each starts out with poll their best vote. Each starts out with an excellent preparatory equipment. The committees of both Republican and Dem-ocrassic parties have been at work for occase parties have been at work for some months preparing literature to be used in the campaign, much of which has already been distributed. In fact, it is said that the literature distributed by Democrats and Republicans up to this time is greater than the total amount put in circulation during the entire Congressional campaign of two years ago. And yet there is a great bulk yet to be printed and circulated. The Republican committee is trying a new arrangement this year, having headquarters at Chica-go, which is considered a central point, with a branch at Washington, formerly the only headquarters. The thorough organization and systematic work of this committee in the past speaks for its pres-ent effectiveness. At the same time, the Democratic committee is said to be organ-ized more carefully than ever before, and is in splendid condition to compete with the committee of the opposing party. This was found hecessary if the Democrats hoped to accomplish good results through their committee, and shows that they ap-preciate that their only hope of success lies in systematic and persistent efforts, such as can be directed by a properly conducted central committee. The Campaign Literature

The literature that is being distributed by both parties touches sotely the issues involved in the party platforms. The Republicans are expending the most money on the expansion subject, and all made in the strong and convincing speeches made in the House and Senate in sup-port of the Administration's expansion policy are being reprinted by the hun-dreds of thousands, and are being put in circulation as fast as the available force of clerks will permit. Some little outlay has been made for financial speeches in support of the sound-money legislation snacted early in the recent session, which is intended more to convince the people of the soundness of the finan-cial policy of the Administration than to injure the allver cause, for it is not an-ticipated that the Democrats will attempt to make much of a general fight on the silver issue. The Porto Rican question, which aroused such hitter strife while it was pending, has gradually dropped from sight, and, while both partnes have circulated speeches for and against it, it is clearly not one of the issues in point, and will not figure to any extent in the campaign, as many of the Democrats had hoped when the Republicans so badly di-vided on it last Spring. The Democrats will make what splurge they can over the "anti-imperialism" cry they have raised, and will circulate thousands of speeches opposition to the Administration's hillppine policy. But at the same time Dempcrats of the extravagant expendi-tures recently disclosed in connection with our control of the islands, but like the Porto Rican issue, these unpleasant features will have dropped from view before election the respective parties, and will command a large yote. There was an almost uni-versal demand for the renomination of McKinley, for, while his administration has been marred by mistakes, yet the general policies and the general course pursued meet with popular approval, and the people want him to have a second term. At times he may have wavered where the people wanted immediate ao-tion, but it has always developed that the delay worked better results than would hasty action. McKinley has always been ready to correct errors, and in a general way caters to the demands of the people this running mate is one of the most uni-

His running mate is one of the most uni-versally popular of the Spanish War he-roes, and a man of great strength and determination. Ever since Roosevelt en-tered public life he has commanded the respect and admiration of the public, and no man today deserves more credit for respect and admiration of the public, and no man today deserves more credit for firmness, detarmination and independ-ence. He is not to be swerved from his course, and is not afraid to stand by the right, even though the right is not al-ways popular. He is thoroughly noright, frank and honest, and that, added to a career such as he has established, cannot but make him popular. No men could but make him popular. No man could have made the ticket stronger than Roosevelt. The demand for Bryan's nom-Roosevelt. The demand for Bryan's nom-ination was almost as universal as that for McKinley, although Bryan is not the man to reunite the Democratic party. In hopes of bringing this about, the sliver plank was placed in a subordinate posi-tion, and a conservative man like Ste-venson named for second place, but that combination will not unite the party. Still, the ticket will command a very large vote, a much larger vote than if some shyster had been named in place of Ste-venson, and it will be a vote of a bet-tor element of the Democratic party than tor element of the Democratic party than if one of the wild-eyed aspirants been named to run with Bryan. In the matter of general popularity in the party. Mo-Kinley and Roosevelt have the advantage over the Democratic nominees, but it can-nos be denied that both tickets meet with very great approval in the respective

A FILIPINO PLOT.

Insurgent Recruiting Office in San Miguel

WASHINGTON, July 21 .- The Secretary of War has been furnished with copies of some interesting documents relating to an alleged plot against the authorities in Manila which were discovered in the dis-trict of San Miguel. The Secret Service Department under Lieutenant Charles R. Trowbridge, Eleventh Cavalry, early in June, stumbled upon an insurgent recruit-ing office situated in an isolated locality, where the work might be carried on with-out attracting attention. One room was fitted up as office, and a large quantity of blank forms, bearing the headline, "Republica Felipina," were found in the house. In a cupboard, which had been se-urely fastened there was found a large curely fastened, there was found a large quantity of papers, all of recent date, the latest being dated June 7. They consisted of orders from Aguinaldo and letters of encouragement and instructions from the leader and other insurgent chiefs. A doc-ument, which excited a great deal of interest, was one which contained the de-tails of a plot arranged, evidently, early in June, to excite an uprising in Manila. The plan contemplated an attack upon the force in the city and the seizure of arms and ammunition. Another paper which is of interest is translated as follows:

"We will not be slaves; let the Fillpinos stand together and battle for their liberties, and it will not be long before the nations of the world will recognize their strength. The blood of innumerable martyrs bears ample testimony to the Filipinos' love of freedom and their de-Philippine policy. But at the same time they will circulate, and have already cir-culated, a vast amount of anti-irust lit-erature, in the hopes of winning over the votes of the laboring element. More or less of a showing will be made by the Demperats of the extravagant expendi-tion and their de-termined purpose not to cease struggling for it. Shall they allow the Americans to the American red men is theirs, and evaluative a reservation will be assigned the American red men is theirs, and eventually a reservation will be assigned to them. Brothers, our cause is just; therefore, let us continue as a thorn in the side of our oppressors and strike where we dare, sparing neither men, wom-en, children nor old people. Those who stay by each other in hours of adversity are sure to conquer in the end."

APPEAL TO WAGE-EARNERS BALMY SUMMER THE SEASON FOR TREATING DISEASE FEDERATION OF LABOR CALLS ON THEM TO OBGANIZE.

St. Louis Transit Company Declines to Arbitrate the Street-Cas Strike.

DEINVER, July 31.-The executive com-mittee of the American Federation of Labor today issued an appeal to all wage-workers to organize and confederate. It

"Throughout our country a struggle is raging between the oppressor and the op-pressed, the possessors of wealth and the laborers; concentration of industry and wealth is the order of the day. Everywhere the workers must suffer disastrous results, unless they organize and feder-ate to project and promote their mutual interest "In this combination and concentration of wealth the porsensors permit no sec-tional or state lines to interfere with their power, and it therefore behooves the tollers, the wealth-producers, to unite tollars, the weslth-producers, to unite and federate, regardless of whether they are located East, West, North or South; irrespective of sex, politics, color or re-ligion. The hope of the workers, the prayer of all our people for justice and rest, and the perpetuation of republican institutions, its in organized labor. "Recognizing these essential truths, the accounties council of the American Federexecutive council of the American Federation of Labor appeals to all wagework-ers, of whatever trade or calling, to organize unions where such do not now ex-ist, to join those siready organized, to form unions and international unions of their respective trades and callings, and to affiliate in one common bond of labor upon the broad platform and under the proud banner of the American Federation of Labor. In calling upon the workers to units and federate, we aim to do no one a wrong, but to establish justice for all."

No Arbitration in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.-Chairman John T. Wilson, of the citizens' arbitration committee, today received a reply from the union men to the committee's formal let-ter naking the striking street railway employes to submit their differences with the Transit Company to arbitration. The re-ply says that the union men have always been willing to submit their differences to arbitration, and have repeatedly asked that the company do the same. Mr. Wilson said: "The Transit Company has apparently not deemed the letter of the citizens' arbitration committee worth the courtesy of a reply. Bo the members of our commit-tee think that for all the trouble that may henceforth result the company will be re sponsible.

STAGE COACH OF THE PLAINS

It Has Long Passed Away, but Some of the Drivers Live.

Kansas City correspondence Chicago Tribune.

It has been many years since the old stage coach lumbered through the streets of this city, but some of the drivers are still living, and one of them, A. L. Carpenter, is a familiar figure about the streets.

"The want of a bridge over the Kansas River," said Mr. Carpenter, "or Kaw River, as it was first known, is what made Kansas City. Wyandotte would nat-urally have got all the trade that come to Kansas City if there had been a bridge, but as it was the stage busi-ness to Mexico, and even to Salt Lake and ness to alexico, and even to Sait Lake and further west, had its headquarters in Kansas City, and out of this grew the outfitting-houses which gave Kansas City its first boom. I carried some notable people in my stages then, and one was Kit Carson.

Alt Carmon. "There were two great stage lines, one operating to Santa Fe and the other to San Diego. The Government paid $75,000 a year to the San Diego line for carrying the mail, the stage leaving either ter-minus once a week, making the trip in an average of a little more than 13 days. The stage company received $42,000 for

Were dry and scaly. My hearing was very dull. I could not understand the common tones of the voice. At church I could not hear what the minister said unless I was right up in front. were dry and scaly.

There are contracted during the periods of Fall, Winter and Spring those ca-tarrhal conditions of the head and throat It has been seen, even during the inclement and unfriendly influence of the severe Winter weather, and the changeand other parts that are engaged in carrying air to the lungs. The changeable able weather of Spring and Fall, how this treatment, even against the influences of weather, the cold spells followed by warm periods with thaws and dampness, to-gether with a necessity during the cold the climate and weather, restores the lost periods with thaws and dampness, to-gether with a necessity during the cold weather of living indoors with the house shut up and often overheated, the impure air of closed buildings, all tend to the development of disease of those parts which carry the air to the lungs and to the ears. Not only does the inclemency of Spring, Fall and Winter produce such diseases, but the same causes that produce the diseases also interfere with the efforts of the doctor to care them. During the Summer months things are different. The climate is warmer, the high winds loaded with dusty particles that irri-tate the diseased parts that carry the siz are absent; there is planty of fresh air, as the house is kept open, and this, together with outdoor life, so improve all those dis-eases that attack the breathing tracts and cars. Thus, in the treatment of all catarrhal diseases, that which has been frequently urged its true, namely, that one mouth of treatment during the Summer, when the Habil-ity to catching cold is reduced to the mini-mum gad Nature lends her ald to the physi-cian, is worth two means of the meet skillful and consoientious treatment during Winter. hearing to those of all ages, and regardless of the original cause. As is well known, in Southern climates deafness is not nearly so prevalent as in the North. The reason for this is that in a mild climate the inflammation which closes the Eustachian Tube, thus causing deafness, is subdued more easily. So, from now on Doctor Copeland's treatment will have the wonderful benefits of Nature's help, instead of the trying influences of help, instead of the trying influences of her opposition, as it has had during the hareh Winter and Spring months. During the Winter and early Spring the influence of the wonderful medication finds con-stant opposition to its work in opening up the inflamed and exposed passages lead-ing from the throat to the inner ear, Hence, one month of treatment during the Summer is worth at least two months in the Winter.

At the same time vigilance is to be observed in districts where Re-publican majorities are or have been large to reserve and they have been a six-hour ride of Washington a section of the country where money is almost an unknown quantity, and where the people large, to prevent any slump to the other are so removed from civilization as to have no idea of events now current in the side. The republicans duly appreciate that the Democrats will devote their best ef-forts to the Congressional campaigns, Yet that is the fact, and nowhere won, Round Turn second, Leonag third; time, 2:155 and will act accordingly. than those to be found in some of the At the present time both parties are cramped in the matter of campaign funds, but what the future may bring forth is a matter of conjecture. So far the great contributors to the Republican fund have held back, but if towards the close of the campaign thay results that have mountains of Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky. It is a matter of fact that there are some old settlers in these mountains who, up to a few years ago, did not know that the Civil War was over. They had taken refuge in the mountains at the outbreak of the war, and had so completely hidden themselves that they had no knowledge whatever of what the campaign they realize that larger contributions are necessary to Republican success, there is liftle doubt but what had gone on in the world in the past 35 years. A traveler who recently strayed they will go down in their pockets for the funds required. In any event, when the campaign is over, it will be found the funds required. In any event, when the campaign is over, it will be found that the balance on hand is a very small smount, if not a minus quantity. On the other hand, the Democrats, who four years ago ran a poor man's campaign are looking to Senator Clark, of Montana, to assist them materially. Though Clark has been knocked about pretty freely, they seem to think he is enough in love with the cause to cash in a cool million. Some of those who are trying to work Clark are representing that it was due to the efforts of the Democratic members of the Senate that his case was not taken up and decided long before adjournment. They also pretend to honor snd respect him just as much as if the bribery charges had not been brought out in so public a way. Undoubtedly they had in sight his money when they sented him at Kansas City, for they know Mr. Clark is anything but ungrateful, and hope by their representations, and some of their acts, to place him under obligathrough the mountain districts of Kentucky and West Virginia, came across a small settlement when he found such mediums of exchange as the crude skins of animals. He saw a husky mountaineer pay for a drink with a coonskin, receiv-ing as change a rabbit skin. Wishing a plug of tobacco, he paid for it with the rabbit skin, this time receiving a squirrel skin as change. This he tucked in his pocket and walked out. On investiga-tion the visitor learned that the settlers in that community go for months at a time without seeing any real money, and that skins are used almost entirely for purchasing purposes. Four times a year agents from large cities visit the neigh-borhoood and buy up the skins, which al-ways concentrate in the stores in the vicinity.

There have been some interesting and mysterious stories in circulation about It is not anticipated that these local dif-ferences will keep any of the voters from supporting McKinley and Roosevelt, but the abort lives of the big guns that are used on our battleships and coast fortifiwhen they divide on their Representa-tives, the Democrats will act solidly, and Republicans will be replaced by members of the opposing party. The Republican majority in the House now is so small that it will be table cations. One of the yarns most frequent-ly told is that the 13-inch gun, which carries a ton of metal for 12 or 15 miles, can only be fired 100 times with safety, because the tremendous pressure destroys that it will not take a very great gain the cohesive power of the metal and thus weakens it and renders it liable to exto throw the balance of power into the hands of the Democrats. Then there are ode. These stories have got into boo a number of voters among the Republi-cans who do not care to support the National Republican ticket, but who will and the "100 firing fallacy" is accepted by some of the ablest authorities on ord-nance. The big Krupp at the World's Fair at Chicago was an object of even do so rather than support Bryan and Btevenson, and such as they may give Bevenson, and such as they may give vent to their dissatisfaction by refusing to vote for the Congressional fluket. This is but one of the many ways in greater interest when visitors were told that it had been fired 16 times, and could not be fired again without danger of explosion because the metal of which it is made had become "nerveless." Admiral O'Neill, Chief of Ordnance of which disgruntied voters may take their revenge. Of course there is apt to be as much dissatisfaction of this sort with one party as with the other, but the Re-publicans are in a position where they

the Navy Department, says this is all humbur. "The only damage suffered by the big guns from frequent firing is the wearing out of the rifle grooven," he says, "and that is easily repaired. The gun can either be rifled over again or it can be 'tubed'-that is, a rifled tube can be fitted into the bore, as is frequently done in England, and the gun is as good as new. "There is no such thing as a gun getting "nerveless," continued the Admiral. "The metal of which it is made is not injured by firing. Some of our guns have been fired 100 times without showing any injury or wear. We do not know how long they will last, except that the rifling has to be renewed when it is worn out, but we have never had a gun wear out in our Navy, and therefore cannot speak from experience, and many of our guns have been fired several hundred times."

The ordnance experts of the Army esti-mate that the 13-inch guns on the coast fortifications can be fired 200 times without being relined, but this is only speculation. They have never had any expe-rience in that line. None of the big guns belonging to the United States has ever worn out.

Jones on the Chinese Situation.

MINNEAPOLIE, July, 21.-Chairman ones, of the Democratic National Com-dities, will leave Minnetonka tomorrow mittee night for Chicago, and early next week will open the Democratic headquarters in that city. Senator Jones said:

"Regarding China, there is a general feeling that the President should use all recoung that the President should use all means in his power to protect the United States citizens and property there, but I do not believe that the people will accept the situation as an excuse to acquire ter-ritory there, as has been done in the Philippines."

Conger May Go to the Senate.

DES MOINES, In., July 2.-Instead of a memorial service to Minister Conger and his wife, their daughter and their niece, supposed to have been murdered in China, of their acts, to place him under obligations which he can best pay with his money. The Democrats also look to some of the Eastern Democrats for large contributions, but Democratic enthusiasm is the loop has provide the source of the sour it is proposed by the people of Des Moines, if the family has escaped, to send a large party to San Francisco to welcome them on their return to this country. It is not unlikely that if Major Conger lives and when contributions are made, they will not be of the largest calibre. In any returns to the United States, he can go to the United States Senate. Politicians event, the Republicans will probably have the better of it in the matter of comsay that his appointment would insure peace in the party.

trip twice a month. The passenger fare to San Diego was $25, and 40 pounds of baggage allowed. Following the gold disthe stages frequently carried m $100,000 to $250,000 in gold dust from the gold fields.

"One of the curious things connected with the progress of the times since then is that the trade between Kansas City and Mexico now is less than it was in the days of the stage coach and ox teams, notwithstanding railroad facilities." There are no lines of the old stages in this part of the country now. But there are many persons here who recall the time when a stage line ran from Leavenworth to this point. There was a short railroad line from St. Joseph, Mo., to Weston, a faw hours' run, and as Weston was on the Missouri bank, passengers to and from St. Joseph were ferried on an old-fashioned flatboat, much like the scows still in use in the East. The stage driver in those days was guide, humorist and philosophet. There is no character like him now anywhere. He was the hero of most of his stories, and the traveler who had knocked about much always insisted on a seat with the driver in preference to the best inside, because he knew he would be entertained. Undoubtedly the driver had expe-rience which made him an interesting person, but he soon came to know that the average tourist by stage was guilfble, and he seldom failed to have a recital of hairbreadth escapes which held the attention of his patrons.

Evan Horace Greeley listened with interest and credulity to these yarns, and some of the best specimens of humor printed in the country were told by the stage driver, or suggested by him. One which Artemus Ward related will be new to the present generation, although it is old to ancients.

As the coach dashed around the edge of a canyon, Ward asked the reckless driver if he never had any accidents. The driver replied that occasionally a coach full of people would tumble down a steep declivity of 1000 feet or so, and cripple or kill the whole lot. "But we don't have any cripples now, when there's an accident," said the driver. "You see, when we cripple a passenger he sues the company. That makes trouble. So now when we tumble a lot down, them as is crippled I takes the linch pin to, and kills 'em dead. Dead folks don't bring lawsuits." The story was capped by one of Ward's inimitable climaxes.

"And thus with anecdotes did he cheer me along."

But there are no more coaches, few drivers and no A. Ward.
