JUST A DOG - DAY RUMOR -Ex - Mayor Storey, while enjoying a very pleasant may at the seaside yesterday, experienced calamities in Portland. had it that he was drowned while bath-ing. His partner, Mr. Kern, telegraphed and received a reply early in the morning that the ex-Mayor was well and hearty But the rumor had started like a prairie fire, and soon everywhere friends of Mr. Storey were shocked by the sudden and terrible news. Contradiction seemed to have little effect until the force of the first wave had surged all over the city. Then there was something of a reaction, and people could believe that there was no cause for mourning, if the ex-Mayor telegraphed he was sound and well. One man was met who had seen a man who saw the body on the marble siab at the morgue. Another man said he had been positively informed that Mayor Rowe was drowned at the seaside. When informed that Mayor Rowe was at the ball game, which was not at all watery, he was nonpinssed and could not understand. When the city officials realized the persistent rumor was spreading from the ex-Mayor to the Mayor, they began to notify their friends and families that they were safe, as it appeared all of them might soon be included in the catastrophe.

VISITORS FROM CANADA.-Dr. and Mrs. ohn Thorburn, of Ottawa, Canada, arrived in Portland yesterday morning and rived in Portland yesterday morning and will be the guests of their nephew, J. At the request of the Governor-General of Canada, he drafted the plan for the Royal Military Academy of Can-ana, after investigating West Point and the Royal Military College at Bandhurst, England, and at a later date laid out the plan for the civil service examinations of the Domision, and has been ever since president of the board of examiners. Dr. Thorpura is well known in literary and scientific circles, and is a classical

WILL DEFEND THE STOCKYARDS.-There seems to be some conflict of opinion among residents near the stockyards as to whether that institution is the real nuisance in the neighborhood. A portion of the people living thereabout state that the real fight is between the Western Lumber Company and the yards, and that cesspoots in the neighborhood and the crematory in warm weather can give forth more blighting odors than three stockyards. Merchant & Co., the mansgers of the yard, have acquired the land on which the buildings and corrais are situated, and are rapidly preparing their defense to the action pensing to abate the yards as a nulsance.

Griffin, grand representative of the Oregon Lodge of Elks, who has been attending the grand lodge in New Jersey, returned home last evening, one of the happiest men Portland has seen for weeks. Mr. Griffin looked much like one would imagine an escape from purgatory would after a month's confinement with his Saianic majesty, and his radiating happiness was because his torture was suicide, at 16.30 last evening, shooting himself through the head with a bullet from a 22-calibre revolver. Comrad was 56 years old, and employed running a planer in the mill of the Western Lumber happiness was because his torture was over. Several Eastern cities were visited during the trip, but unfortunately each was sweltering at the time, and there was no peace on earth, and to the inhabitant of the cool Northwest there seemed but little hope for the future. Mr. Griffin lost 15 pounds, which he says simply fried out of him. There was no sleeping, as the thermometer frequently registered 50 to 14 in the middle of the night. Even a breeze seemed to stand no tempted murder and the successful suinight. Even a breeze seemed to stand no show in the sufficiating atmosphere. "Well, you can tell all your friends that Oregon is good enough for me," said the oregon is good enough for me, said the returning pilgrim. "If you want to de-populate the East, have the people there know what our Summer climate is. Make them know that, and they will come, or I am mistaken."

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY. —A warrant charging him with assault and battery upon his wife has been served on Chester V. Delph, eldest son of the late Senator J. K. Delph. The warrant was quietly served by Chief of Police Mcnlan, and Mr. Dolph was immediately released on his own recognizance.
The complaint was made by Mrs. J. W.
Cruthers, mother of Mrs. Dolph, and it slieges that the assault was committed on Wednesday evening, by striking and ceating Mrs. Dolph. The case has not been set for the Municipal Court as yet, and it is doubtful whether it will come up for a hearing. Mrs. Dolph had no part in bringing the complaint, and a general denial is made that the reported beating ever took place.

THE KIMBALL PIANO WINNING HIGH HONORS EVERYWHERE

"There is no use talking Chicago—the Kimball Company—is making some of the very finest planes that are made anywhere in the United States. Kimball planos are being used and indorsed by The trouble which resulted in the at tempised murder and the successful suicide commenced early in the evening. When Mrs. Conrad came home from her place of employment, Charles Went's reasurant on Nineteenth street, she brought her month's salary of 180. Contrad had been drinking during the day, and they are in daily use in the homes and studies of the great artists, such as the De Resskee, Patti, Emma Eames, Nordica, etc., etc. Every grand opera company that has come out West, has most unqualifiedly expressed preference for the kimball planos—and the consensus of these opinions is that the Kimball planos are as nearly perfect as human skill and ingenity can make them, and that their remarkable tone quality supports and blends with the human voice most admirably. In buying a Kimball plano you will be getting everything that can be desired in a modern plano—perfect tone, accurate touch unequaled durability—at a most voice most admirably. Patrolman Wheeler, and others who had heard the shots, could arrest him. Conrad had been informed of his wife's action in informing the police officer, had returned to the dwelling, armed himself with his revolver, and started out with the defiberate intention of murdering her, and
