At Summer Resorts

The Seaside Summer Girl.

With wind-tossed hair, she trips along
The shifting, sandy beaches,
Her life one happy, lilting song,
Whose music almost reaches

The heights divine, where angels sing
Their choral notes of gladness,
And all the spheres with music ring,
Without a note of sadness.

A dainty being, pure and sweet,
Who sets all our hearts awhirl,
And makes the time seem all too fleet—
Is the Seaside summer girl!

NEAR ROARING BREAKERS

Big Increase in Travel and Season in Full Swing at Clatsop and other Beach Resorts.

AT THE COAST, Aug. 4.—Clatsop Beach continues to attract great hosts of people who find its cool, exhilarating climate an agreeable change from the languid, sweltering weather "at home." The immigration during the past week has been one of the heaviest of the season. The newcomers find quarters in the beautiful grove at Seaside, for vacant cottages are an unknown quantity. Not a few persons, however, wend their way to the several hotels and other temporary abiding places, although they have none too much accommodations to spare.

This great influx to the coast will continue for another fortnight, and then will come the ebb; at first, very slowly, and then like a command of soldiers breaking camp for a journey to some scene of war. High-water mark is never placed earlier than the middle of August, and should the present fair weather and cheap transportation rates hold out—as is almost certain—the schedule time will, more than likely, be extended a week or 10 days.

The weather for the season has been all that could be desired. A light rain fell this week, but did not continue long enough to cause inconvenience to the campers or a change in plans for amusements. The surf has been exceptionally fine for bathing, and the sport becomes more popular, as the season advances. A lifeline for the beach at Seaside is promised next week. The movement was set on foot this week, and met with prompt encouragement. The bathing-place at Gearhart Park has just been supplied with a lifeline, and bathing has since grown rapidly into favor at this popular resort.

No Formal Functions.

The week has brought no change in the social situation. No formal functions are to be chronicled. Bonfires have been more numerous, with increased attendance. The guests of Gearhart Hotel enjoyed a social dance through the week, besides the regular hop Saturday evening. An orchestra is in attendance at all times at this hostelry. The guests of Locksley Hall also manage to get enjoyment out of dancing. The past week has been marked by one very pleasant gathering of this nature there.

The Seaside Hotel has had a varied list of entertainment this week. Monday a grand flag raising occurred. Benjamin Cohen delivered an address appropriate to the occasion, and remarks were also made by N. J. Levinson. The singing of the National anthems was the most prominent feature of the exercises. In this Miss Glenn, of Spokane, assumed the role of leader.

Tuesday evening, a cakewalk by Mrs. Benjamin Cohen and George Hoyt and Dr. McKenzie and Mrs. Hopkins, was greatly enjoyed. The performers were compelled to respond to several encores.

Wednesday night all feasted on popcorn and listened to no end of story telling, while on Thursday night, as the finale to the round of amusements, came a "candy pull."

The number of people who find the accommodations afforded by tents to their liking is greatly swelled at Seaside each week, and the past week has been no exception. Among the campers, not given other mention, are:

R. H. Murray, D. Cohen, J. H. Jennings, E. A. Moulton, W. H. Robertson, F. McFarland, A. J. Armstrong, G. Mitchell, J. F. Peterson, John Henry, F. Taylor, W. G. Jackson, E. Marr, H. H. Holt, T. S. Potter, H. S. Moody, A. Warren, Robert Smith, J. G. Watts, E. G. Peterson, L. M. Sacey, C. G. Shaw, W. Bubb, C. H. Tibits, S. Johnson, E. Walton, T. Dobson, J. H. Hanneyman, W. H. Alexander, J. F. Parker, W. G. Kigler, E. L. Long, E. Hurch, L. Ross, D. A. Graham, E. A. Hide, W. H. Collard, W. N. Barnett and C. B. Brown, all of whom are accompanied by the respective members of their household.

The mail service between Portland and Seaside has been greatly improved. Beginning August 2, a closed pouch was put on all through trains. The change makes much additional work for Postmaster Johannsen, but no one is more pleased with the new schedule than this highly efficient and extremely obliging official. The business of the office is increasing rapidly, and, as is usual in such instances, the department will soon recognize the need of additional assistance.

AT NORTH BEACH.

Number of Visitors and of Social Happenings Increasing.

The population of Long Beach is increased by every train and boat. The season has been an exceptional one in every particular, and has upset all calculations in the matter of visitors, who are more numerous than in years past. It is thought, however, that the major number of people who intend spending much time at the beach are already on the ground. On the other hand, the early part of August is the time usually selected by Old Sol to show what he can do in the way of providing warm weather, and as there is no exception to his usual behavior this year, there should be a further heavy immigration of those who come to the shore for a few days or a week only. The cheap transportation rates prevailing this season will doubtless aid in the movement.

The number of arrivals this week was the heaviest of the season. The few vacant cottages early secured tenants, and camping spots were eagerly sought. The hotels and boarding-houses have little accommodations to spare, and the latter part of each week not a few have more guests than they can properly care for. There is no change in the weather. It continues of the same order as marked the outset of the season, and should satisfy the most exacting.

Social Happenings.

Social happenings have been more numerous the past week than at any time during the season. The "newness" has worn off, and the people are now courting each other's society; the social season really opened this week. The regular dances at Long Beach, Monday and Friday evenings, proved more enjoyable than ever, which is probably due, in part, to the fact that the attendance had greatly increased. Bonfires have been more plentiful, with the number of participants and spectators in strict accord. The surf has been unusually favorable for bathing, and many have taken advantage of the fact. Croquet and bowling are still very popular.

A dance at the Hackeny cottage Monday evening was one of the most pleasurable events of the season. The participants were very loth for the affair to end. The following-named persons were in attendance:

Captain and Mrs. Archie Pease, Mr. and Mrs. P. Schulderman, Mrs. Botefuhr, Mrs. Gronfield, Mrs. A. C. Crosby, Mrs. Shock, Mr. and Mrs. B. Banfield, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bitner, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Larner, Mr. and Mrs. Buiger, Mr. and Mrs. F. Zimmerman, the Misses Mamie and Etta Schulderman, Daisy Botefuhr, Susie James, Jessie Chatterton, A. Stewart, L. Harder, Ethel Grenfield, Friendly Botefuhr, Cummings, Shock, Silcox, Carn, Hudelson and Graham and Messrs. J. Levy, Lawrence Selling, Will L. Crichton, N. R. Bridges, Rolly Trimble, E. Rice, J. S. Sharp and Nye Kern.

Enjoyable Musicale.

The guests of the Hackeny cottage also enjoyed a musicale during the week, the entertainment being furnished principally by the following-named people: The Misses Mamie Schulderman, Margaret Graham, Susie Jones, Julia Bittner and [illegible] Botefuhr, Mrs. A. C. Crosby and Messrs. F. Zimmerman, Sloane, Hackeny, J. W. Sharp and G. W. Larner.

Musicales are a regular programme every Friday night at Hotel Tioga. The last one was pronounced the best of the season, and was participated in by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Arthur, the Misses Bessie Brown, Ethel Shea, E. Rankin and Dell Haiger and Mr. E. A. Smith. Selections were also given by the orchestra.

Two very pleasant card parties marked the week. A progressive whist party at Tioga Hotel was attended by ten couples and the first prizes were awarded to Miss Annie Holmes and E. Bradley.

Mrs. Charles Noon pleasantly entertained a small party of friends at "heart" party at her Tioga cottage Monday. Refreshments were served at seasonable hour.

The guests of Hotel Tioga and their friends made an excursion to Fort Canby Thursday, and spent the day examining the lifesaving station, lighthouse and other attractions. A picnic dinner was enjoyed. The party numbered about 00.

August 12 is the date set for a public dance at the Honorlue cottage. The proceeds will be donated toward the cost of improving the platform at Seaview.

Jolly Coon Dance.

One of the pleasant events of last week at Ocean Park was an informal "coon dance," given by Miss Farmington, at Pinehurst cottage, in honor of Miss Blanche Munsell, of Portland, Saturday evening, July 28. The large reception-room of the cottage was divested of its trappings, and the "light fantastic" was tripped until the guests were invited out on the lawn, where each was served with a huge slice of watermelon "from the vine." Those present were: Mrs. Danenhower, Mrs. Munsell, Miss Meitzer, Miss Shogren, Miss Ruth Shogren, Miss Clayton, Beacie Clayton, Miss Smith, Miss Titherington, Miss Amanda Titherington, Miss Fay, Miss Hiatt, Miss Munsell, Miss Sprague, Miss Blanche Munsell, Messrs. Danenhower, Frank Titus and Albert Titus, Dr. Munsell and Messrs. Robert Lamberson, Alvin Benson, Ed Cornell, Hall and F. A. Munsell.

A benefit concert was given on Monday evening for the Catholic Church, at the Shelbourne, by Fr. Dominic and Professor J. Adrian Epping, assisted by the ladies of the church. Those who took part were: Rev. Fr. Dominic, Mrs. Schaht, Mrs. C. Matz, Master G. Allen, Miss Eva West, Miss Hagner, Miss Lawler, Professor Epping, Miss Stuart, W.
