Bow the Fishermen of Savannah and Vicinity Capture Them.

Savannah (Ga.) News,

One of the favorite Summer sports of the fishermen and marconers of Savannah is turtle hunting on the sandy beaches of the neighboring islands, where from May to August the turtles come out to PORTLAND, Aug. 11, 8 P. M.-Maximum lay their eggs.

On the long, flat stretches of sand the furthe crawls about 100 feet or more from the water line, and there, with her flippers accoping out a round hole from two feet to three feet deep, deposits her eggs, often 300 or more, covering every 50 or so with a thin layer of sand, and putting a final layer of considerable thickness over the top of the nest after her ma-ternal duties are finished. This final fil-ing in of the nest she smoothes off even with the beach, and, after making the superscript as possible like the WSATHER CONDITIONS. There has been a marked increase in pres-sure over the North Pacific States, and the barometer is highest off the mouth of the Co-lumbia Biver. It is lowest over Southeastern Idaho. of a stender rod or walking cane. The nest is distinguished when reached by the ready yielding of the sand, and the hunt-ers scoop out the sand with their hands and appropriate the eggs. But it is in scouring the turtle itself that the hunter finds the greatest pleas-ure. The hunt is almost always made at night, and preferably during moonlight. The conditions are best about the middle of May, during a full moon and in the of May, during a full moon, and in the early morning hours. Then skirting the water line, the hunters walk along the beach, keeping a sharp lookout for tracks as they pass along, and a still sharper below the sharp of a still sharper The following telegrams from the wheat-growing districts have been received at the United States Weather Bureau office during the last 24 hours: Sprague, Wash.-Slight sprinkle, threatening new; good many headers and some threshers laid off; heavy hall storm six miles east last night.

When one is sighted, the hunters deter-mine their further proceedings in accord-since with the position of the creature with respect to the neurons of the water line and its evident intentions. If on its way to make a next, which is known by its crawling up the sand and away from the water, there is no particular need to hurry, as, unless disturbed the turtle will not return to the water until she has de-posited he eggs. So usually the hunters are content to wait a safe distance away until the next has been completed and the actual laying of the eggs begun. Then they may approach with impunity, for the turtle, once on the next, will not move until she has completed her task. It is when she commences her retreat to the water that the hunters secure her by ustching the side of the shell and turning her over on her back, when she lies helpless and orn only fan her mighty and powerful flippers in wrathy impotence. The turtle is a firm believer that dis cretion is the better part of valor, and the shows fight only when cornered and has no way of escape. FOR SALE-MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE OF SALE OF THE GRAND Ronde Placer Minner-Notice is bereby given that the Societe Miniers des Placers de la Grand Ronde will sell at public sale to the highest bidder for cash, on the 18th day of September, 1900, at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., at the office of J. D. Slater, at La Grande, Or., all the property of said company, the same being what is generally known as the Camp Carson Mines, in Union County, Or. It will be offered in six parcels, as follows: First-The water rights of said company, the reservoirs, ditches and all placer mining claims in Camp Carson and Tanner's Guich, including claims 1 to 14, with buildings there-on not including pipes, giants, tools or ma-terials, etc.).

Turtles are still quite numerous Warsaw, though not nearly so plentiful warsaw, though not nearly so pientifit has they were several years ago, when as many as nine have been turned in one night. They average in size from the comparatively small one of 100 pounds to 500 pounds, and in exceptional cases One caught seven years ago weighed fifty pounds more than the last num-ber, and established a record for large furtles that has since remained un-broken. A few have been caught during the present senses but no very large ones. Only last week one was caught under exceptional conditions: It crawled out on the beach of Cabbage Island during the broad daylight. Its life paid for its te merity, however, for it was seen by a negro fisherman, who forsook his lines for the bigger game and succeeded in bagging it.

Paris Ever Old.

Paris rises around any man who knows her; her streets are changing things, her stones are like the clothes of a man; more real than any present aspect she may carry, the illimitable company of history peoples her, and it is in their ready n a foreign periodical. This is the reading of that perplexity which all have felt, of that unquiet suggestion which hangs about the Autumn trees and follows the fresh winds along the Seine, the riddle of her Winter even-ings and the faces that come on one out of the dark in the lanes of the Latin Quarter. She is ourselves, and we are ily the film and edge of an unnumbered

There is nothing modern in treak streets. The common square of the innecents is a dust of graves and a meet-ing place for the dead, the Danse Mac-abre was too much of a creation to pass at the mere failing of the wall. The most recent of the ornaments make a kind of tabernacle for the memories of the town-Etienne Marcel before his Hotel de Ville, Charlomagne before the Gathedral. The Place de la Concorde is not a crossing of roads for the rich; it is the death scene of the Groundar, the vague space about the Madeleine is not only a foreground for the church; it is also the tomb of the Capitians. Wherever the town has kept a part of her older gar-ment-in the Cathedral, in the Palais, in Sta. Chapelle-you may mix with all the centuries.

Colonel Brynn's Statesmanship.

Morning Astorian. There is nothing new in Mr. Bryan's long-drawn-out essay. The only thing remarkable in the whole tiresome deliyerance is its total silence on the absorberante is its total silence on the absorb-ing issue which formed the sole substance of Mr. Bryan's campaign four years ago. Then Mr. Bryan prophesied the same disasters to the people from the triumph of Republican policies that be predicts now. All the policies of the Republican party which Mr. Bryan once denounced as fraught with evil to the country have been in force for aufficient time to totan been in force for sufficient time to judge what they are. Without one word of regret over the adoption of these poll-gies, and without polnting out one single baleful effect of their operation. Mr. Bryan calmly ignores his former contentions and shifts his claim to the suffrage of the American people to a totally different
