SHOT A BOY'S EYE OUT

CARELESS ACT OF LAD OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER.
 Emmett Nealand Fires at Willie Spretizer With an Air-Gun, Unfortunately Loaded.

Willie Spretizer, a 12-year-old boy, whose parents reside at 776 Baxter street, was shot in the right eye with an air-gun in the hands of Emmett Nealand, yesterday afternoon, and the eye was removed shortly afterwards by Dr. Hicks C. Fenton, who was called to attend the case.

The lad was standing on the sidewalk, near his home, when Nealand, who is 13 years of age, drove up on his father's grocery wagon, stopped the horse and got off. A boy named Oscar Schantz had the air-gun. Nealand borrowed it, and, pointing it at Spretizer, fired. The Spretizer boy immediately placed his hand over his eye, and ran screaming into the house, followed by young Nealand, who called to Mrs. Spretizer as he entered, "I did the mischief, but I was only playing with the gun."

The gun had been loaded with a double B buckshot, which passed through the right eye and nasal bones, defying all Efforts at removal.

From its position, so near the brain, it cannot be reached by the probe, and so the child will be compelled to carry the shot in his head for the rest of his life. The parents of the injured boy will probably take steps to prosecute the air-gun operator, and last evening Mr. Spretizer had a consultation with Nealand's father in relation to the matter.

At last accounts the injured lad was doing well, and the best results which can be expected are hoped for. So far, no unusual complications have been observed, and it is hoped there will be none. Mr. Spretizer is an industrious shoemaker with several children, and Willie is reported to be a very bright boy and well behaved. Emmett Nealand is a son of T. J. Nealand, who keeps a grocery and merchandise store at 26 North Thirteenth street.

FOR TIME OF WAR.

Special Prayers Today in Episcopal Churches of Oregon.
 Throughout the diocese of Oregon special prayers for time of wars and tumults will be offered today in the Protestant Episcopal Churches, in conformity with the following letter:

"To the Clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Oregon—Dear Brethren: I hereby set forth the following prayers, the same as authorized by the Bishop of Pittsburgh and other Eastern Bishops, for use in the churches of this diocese, one or both at morning or evening service, according to the discretion of the officiating clergyman.

Very truly yours, B. WISTAR MORRIS.

O Almighty God, the Supreme Governor of all things, whose power no creature is able to resist, to whom it belongeth justly to punish sinners, and to be merciful to those who truly repent. Save and deliver, we humbly beseech thee, from the hands of their enemies all missionaries, native Christians and others who are in danger, in the far land of China; that they, being armed with thy defense, may be preserved evermore from all perils, to glory thee, who art the only Giver of all victory; through the merits of thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O most powerful and glorious Lord God, we make our address to thy Divine Majesty in the great necessity of our brethren in the Chinese Empire; that thou wouldst take their cause into thine own hand and judge between them and those that hate them. Give us thy strength, O Lord, and come and help them, for thou givest not always the battle to the strong, but canst save by many or by few. O let not our sins cry against us for judgment, but bear us, thy poor servants, begging mercy and imploring thy help, and that thou wouldst be a defense against the face of the enemy. Make it appear that thou art our Helper and mighty Deliverer, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

AT THE THROTTLE 48 YEARS

Retired Locomotive Engineer Will Make Oregon His Home.

James Kelly, a veteran locomotive engineer of Omaha, Neb., is in Portland with a view to purchasing a home in Oregon on which to enjoy his declining years. Mr. Kelly has spent 48 years at the throttle, and prides himself in the fact that he never was in a head-on collision and never killed a man. He thinks this immunity has been largely due to his extreme caution, as he has been always on the lookout ahead when running, and has been a man of abstemious habits.

"A man who will take a drink of liquor has no business on an engine," he said yesterday. "If a man must drink and can't help himself, he should resign the position to somebody else while on a spree. After the spree is over he can then take hold again, but he should quit drink entirely while at work. There is too much at stake in the matter of life and property for the engineer to take any chances of becoming careless."

"Railroad accidents, however, are largely due to mistakes of train-dispatchers and of operators who read the orders incorrectly. If an engineer has a good track ahead of him, and no mistakes are made by those who have the ordering to do, there is very little danger of serious accident. It is true that the engineer and fireman are supposed to run more risks than any one else on the train, but we never think of danger when we step into the cab any more than the man who seats himself for a buggy ride."

Mr. Kelly's worst experience was along the Canadian Pacific in Manitoba, when the thermometer registered 90 below zero. In bucking snow several years ago, the huge snow-pile broke and a portion of it struck him in the side, inflicting injuries from which he still hears occasionally.

The intensely cold weather, he says, renders all metal work brittle and liable to snap in two at the first strain. Rails are liable to give way under the pressure of the cars during these cold periods, and he has even known car wheels to snap in two while the train was in motion along those inhospitable prairies, while the bleak wind would chill a man through within five minutes after he had stepped out of the cab. The air would actually be too cold to breathe, and the engineer's clothing would be frozen stiff before he could get back to shelter again. With such unpleasant recollections, he has no desire to spend any more Winters east of the Rockies, and he will purchase a few acres near some Oregon town, where he will be exempt from extremes of heat and cold, and at the same time enjoy good society. He is a bachelor, but thinks that if he had his life to live over again he would not try to trot it through in single harness. His being single, he says, has been the means of his being placed in divisions away out on the frontier, where the railway superintendents would never ask a married man to go.

Professor Ewing's Condition.

Rev. T. D. Ewing, of Corning, Ia., arrived in Portland yesterday morning to be present with his son, Professor J. F. Ewing, of Portland Academy, who is at St. Vincent's Hospital seriously ill from an attack of appendicitis, for which he underwent an operation several days ago. Mr. Ewing is not yet out of danger, but yesterday there seemed to be a slight change for the better and a rally from the effects of the relapse after the operation.

More Slot-Machine Owners Arrested.
 Thirty-five slot-machine owners were arrested yesterday, and they each paid $15 cash bail, which will be forfeited in the Municipal Court, netting a revenue of $325.

No words of ours can forestall the benefit you would derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Call Here Monday

We want to show you a few early Fall arrivals in Men's Suits. Every day now brings many new ones, and we welcome your inspection. We like to show them, and we like to have you see them. We want the doubtful man who comes prepared to criticize to see our new Fall lines. Fifteen minutes' actual contact with "Moyer" values proves to him we have understated rather than overstated "Moyer" qualities.
