TORPEDOES WON AGAIN

DEFEATED THE MULTNOMARS BY A SCORE OF 10 TO 8.

Game Abounded in Exciting Pea tures, Good and Bad Play, Good and Bad Luck.

Again the Torpedoes won the ball game from Multnomaha, and yesterday after-noon before the largest crowd of the season the champions retained the championship by a score of 10 to 3. One little word is the cause of all hall games and all horse races and that little word is "if." If Nick Whitehead in the seventh inning with two men out and two on bases had not been handloapped by the obstruction in left field of the tennis court screen, there would have been a fair catch of Davey's long fly and the side would have been retired, for Nick seldom misses a fly ball. As it was, the Torpedoes were the but in the first half of the seventh Davey was given a tempting one and he sent it up to left field high in the air. Nick ran up the bank, reached the ball on the run, but his impact with the ten-nis screen bounced the ball out of his hands and two runs were made. But there is another story to be told. So far in the game the lively boys from

So far in the game the lively boys from the East Side constituting the Torpedoes had been lining out the ball regardless, notwithstanding Whitehouses's good pitching. Their baiting won their game, and Multnomah's fielding was not sufficiently strong to overcome the handloap. Their runs were made principally by good clean hitting. In the first and seventh limings wherein they scored three runs each, there was a series of pretty hits that would bring in runs under ordinary that would bring in runs under ordinary conditions and the Torpedoes were not allow to prefit by it.

There is another side to the game.
Multnomah had been tapping Ray's ourves out pretty well, but their coaching with men on bases cost them several chances. Their play was not dopey by any means, but the other fellows happened to get the ball back on time to Blank was the record until the fourth inning, and then they tied the fuse of the Torpedo battery into a hard bowknot and bunched five runs, and again in the sixth they cut the connection and scored two more, leaving the score at M. A. A. C., 7: Torpedoes. 4 The Torpedoes Lied the score in the seventh inning by Dawey's lucky drive and polished off the game in the eighth by Parrott's pretty three-bagger, ecoring three more runs, and then it was all over but the cheering. By all means the best game of the season was the verdict of the crowd as they filed up the hill.

Features were plentiful and speaking of features it is about time that the thoroughly impartial and hard-working Umpire Ed Rankin came in for his share of the giory. Rankin has umpired all the games on the Field during the season and at no time has there been a harsh critfolsm nor a delay on account of weak de-cisions. Always master of the situation and thoroughly honest and conscientious, he has established himself amid a host of friends both among the players and the paying public.

The game itself abounded in bunchy, streaky qualities. Lucky and unlucky features followed in quick succession in almost every inning. Instance, Ainslie's hard luck in being beaten by the ball to first on apparently hits to the good on almost every time at bat; Chester Murphy's during base work that was nipped in the bud; Archie Parrott's and Baker's alternating between long hits and strikeouts: Davey's in-and-out playing at third, in one inning three assists and in another in one inning three assists and in another as many errors. And so on throughout the game. However, it was a rattling good game as ball games go with the better and stronger batting team on top. Fleming, the old-time Multnomah pitcher, was billed to deal out his left-handers for the Torpedoes, but Ray was substituted and made good with the fans. He was steady and speedy, and did the He was steady and speedy, and did the A noticeable feature was the presence on the East Side team of several old-time Multinomah players—Freming, Chelles Baker, Oliver, Davey, Gadke and Downs have all worn Multinomah colors in previous years; but that made no difference in their playing.

The Game. Torpedoes were first at bat, sending in Corliss to face Whitehouse, Corliss retired to the bench on three in-effectual attempts to connect. Archie Parrort sent a grass-witherer past Dobie into Whitehend's territory, and reached second base. Baker followed suit scoring Parrott, and going to third on Oliver's out, Wickersham to Bruce, afterward crossing the plate on Downs' single. Downs came in on Zan's falling to handle Stutts fly successfully, and the side went out by Stutt being out on his at-tempt to purioin second base. In Mult-nomah's half, Chester Murphy placed a neat one through infield, and beat out the ball to first by speedy work, but was tagged out immediately afterward by playing too far off first. The remainder of the inning was fruitiess. In the sec-ond and third no runs were scored by either side. In their half of the fourth the Torpedoes scored one on Downs' in-field hit and steal, Davey's sacrifice, and Gadke's single. Multionnih's half was a noisy one. Ainsile and Wickersham each was presented with lives at first by slow handling of swift ones. Ainsile scored on a throw to catch him off third base, and Wickersham came home on Dobbie's long center field hit. Zan in the meantime had walked to first, and came in on a passed ball, Lobble doing like-wine shon after. Bruce, who had been sent to first on four balls, crossed the plate on Whitehead's long bit to Downs for three bases. Whitehouse struck out and Murphy out at first from a grounder to pitcher. Total, 5 runs, and the root-side was blanked in the fifth. Multinomah taffled twice in the sixth.

Doble flew out to center, Bruce made the most of Davey's poor throw of his grounder and scored on Whitehead's swift one, that caromed off Baker's foot. Whitehouse should house placed a safe hit over second base and sent Whitehead over the plate for the second run. In the seventh the secone was tied by Whitehead's excusable dropping of Davey's long fly, on account of the tennis acreens, when men were on buses. The Torpedoes accred three more bases. The Torpedoes scored three more in the eighth. Gadke and Ray each hit safely. Corliss walked, and then archie Parrott cleared the bases by a beauty to right field, reaching third. Multnomah scored one on Dobie's base on balls, Doscher's single to right, and Whitshead's hot one to Stutt.

In the ninth each side went out in one-two-three order, and the agony was over. Pollowing is the score:
