NEED GRAVEL PITS.

County Commissioners May Buy Several for Eastern Multnomnh.

The County Commissioners contemplate purchasing a few gravel pits between Sandy and the eastern boundary of Multinomich, for the purpose of graveling the county roads in that vicinity. Very little substantial improvement has yet been made on the roads out there, but the made on the roads out there, but the growing traffic begins to demand a more durable pavement than can be constructed of plank or common earth. Gravel pits, to be handy, should not be more than three miles distant from the points to be improved, according to a County Commissioner, who was speaking on the subject yesterday. The cight-acre gravel pit on Powell's road, some eight miles from the city, has proved very useful in furnishing gravel for several highways out there. The tract cost $600, 97 $50 an acre, some time ago, but the seller did not know he was dealing with Multinomah not know he was dealing with Multnomah County until after he had been paid $100 on the purchase price. Then he thought he should have been paid at least double as "Multnomah County is rich, and the public always have to pay more for things than individuals do." Gravel pits can be bought now much cheaper than a few years hence, the Com-missioner thought, but the authorities will always have to gunrd against the selle-who thinks the county should pay double what a thing is worth. The macadam roads of the county are standing the wet weather much better than those thoroughfares where only gravel has been used, as the macadam packs more solidly, and thus resists the action of heavily laden teams. Macadam, however, is simply gravel that has been broken, and the county is better able to crush its own rock each succeeding

The musical and literary entertainment given at the Sunnyside Methodist Church last evening was a pleasing success. A large crowd filled the auditorium, and large crowd filled the auditorium, and many were turned away. It was under charge of the music committee, W. R. Insley, Mrs. Mabel Datson and Mrs. W. R. Insley. The music was high-class all the way through. Bishop Earl Cranston was present, and made a short talk on "The Prosperity of the Church." The Veteran Male Quartet, with Judge Bullock as leader, was specially good. The music committee is cultivating a strong love for music at Sunnyside, and the en-thusiastic audience at the entertainment shows their efficits are appreciated.
