UP TO THEGENERAL BOARD

IT IS TO DECIDE ON LAKE WASH-INGTON CANAL PROJECT.

Probable That the Adverse Report of the Majority Will Be Concurred In.

WASHINGTON, June &-Because the ecial board which made an investiga-on to determine the advisability of esablishing a fresh-water basin in Lake Washington, for the benefit of the Navy, has failed to make a decisive report, the Secretary of the Navy has enclosed the two reports to the General Board for de-cision. It is evident from the tone of the joint report that not one of the six officers comprising the board is willing to recommend the establishment of a nawal base on this lake. The majority content themselves by asking if it is advisa-ble for the Navy to establish such a station in a lake that is connected with the open sea by a mere canal which might easily be destroyed in time of war and Fender absolutely useless every vessel that might have taken refuge within the lake at the time. The majority further cosks if it is advisable to establish such a base across Puget Sound from the Bre-merton station, already in operation, and indicate the inadvisability of having two stations in one vicinity. The minority, the commandant at the Bremerton sta-tion, and his chief constructor, seem fear-ful lest the extelligence of such a payaful lest the establishment of such a naval station in Lake Washington might finally result in the abandonment of the Bremerton station altogether.

While the opinions expressed are non-committal, it is found necessary to call upon the General Board for a decision and in view of the strong showing made by the majority against the establish-ment of a new station, and in view of a very weak report pointing out its ad-vantages, the probability would seem to be that an adverse report will finally be handed down. The Navy Department is not seeking means for destroying the ships of our Navy, but rather of giving them every possible protection.

Jones and James Winstanley, intervenors and defendants, today filed a petition in department No. 2 of the Circuit Court of Marion County, which is an answer to the complaint filed in the suit brought by Tilmon Ford, as executor of the last will and testament and estate of William Cosper, deceased, against A. T. Gilbert, shortly after the Gilbert Bros.' Bank suspended business.

Defendants deny that the copartnership existing between Gilbert Bros, and William Cosper has been dissolved, and allege that Glibert Bros, and William Cosper were co-partners; that defendants are depositors in Gilbert Bros.' They ask that Gilbert Bros. and William Cosper be decreed co-partners, doing a banking business in Saem, Or., under the firm name and style of Glibert Bros.; that they be adjudged liable to these defendants, and that Tilmon Ford, as executor of the last will and testament and estate of William directed to pay defendants the amounts due them from said bank.

Two Thousand Aborigines From All Parts of Pacific Count Were in Attendance.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June &-The presentation of the passion play, postponed on account of the heavy rainfall, was begun this afternoon on the Indian reserva-tion at Chilliwack. Outdoor altars had been erected on the res-ervation, the altars entering into the celebration of the impressive scenes in the sacred procession. Four hours were oc-cupied in presenting the scenes of the life and passion of the Master, and they were portrayed by the simple aborigines with

This is the first act of the sort in the country, and on the train arriving at Eholt an emergency train was sent back over the line, and the place scoured for traces of the robbers.
