BIG SEWER FOR BROOKLYN

PREPARING PLANS FOR A GREAT WORL, TO COST $200,000.

Peninsula People Want Better Car Service-Dr. Van Waters Hurt -Pioneer Dead.

The first steps have been taken leading to the construction of the big Brooklyn sower system, which will be the largest and most expensive ever built in Portland, On patition from the Brooklyn Sub-Board of Trade, City Engineer Chase was authorized to proceed with the preparaconsoling to property-owners who will hope have to foot the bill in the end, that it will be two years before the contracts can be let and work started, and probably two and ope-half years before they will be called on to pay their assessments. Various estimates have been made as to the probable cost of the Brooklyn cow-er system, based on the cost of similar These run from $160,000 to $360,000. The former estimate was made by Auditor Devlin, while the larger figures are given by those who have been opposing the sew-er. It is believed, however, that the cost will be in the neighborhood of $200,000. City Engineer Chase said yesterday in speaking of the course he would follow: "It will take the services of an extra force of men to make the survey of the force of men to make the survey of the district. That work will not be under-taken until Spring. We shall then first determine extent of territory and route of the main condult and the three branches and their sizes. Then there will be some rights of way to acquire. All this will take much time. I have talked with the people in the district and explained to some extent the magnitude of the work to be undertaken, and they are now be-ginning to understand what has to be done. It will be fully two years before we can begin construction, and by that time the burden will not be nearly so heavy as some of the people have supposed. With the growth Portland is having in all directions that district will fill up generally in two years."

It is estimated that the district will em brace about three square miles, and it is thought that the cost will be less than that of the Sunnyaide system, in which the Steam Motor Car Service. A meeting of representative citizens was held at University Park, under auspices of the Peninsula Sub-Board of Trade, Friday night, of which P. Chappell-Browne is president. At this meeting the matter of se-curing free meil delivery was talked about, and it was decided to press the de-sires of the community upon the atten-tion of the postal authorities.

Short talks were made on the advisabil-Ity of clearing up the streets and vacant property, and a strong effort will be made o have this done-

The principal business of the evening was the matter of car service on the Peninsula. There was a very warm dis-cussion of this subject, and the steam motor car service was pronounced execrable and unsatisfactory. The speakers said that they had repeatedly asked for an electric car service and had been as often promised that they should have it some time, only to be disappointed. A resolution was passed that the membern of the board should oppose granting the City & Suburban Railway Company any more franchises or favors by the City Council until a better car service is given the people of the Peninsula. On motion the entire board was appointed a committee to attend the next meet-ing of the City Council, and set forth their situation, with reference to car service. It was decided also that each member of the Council should be personally interviewed on the subject. The street com-mittee will likewise be arked to intervene in their behalf.

The Gresham School, GRESHAM, Nov. 9 .- (To the Editor)-Wednesday's Daily Gregonian contains a communication concerning the Gresham school that would be more thoroughly appreclated if the facts given did not con-vey a wrong impression. The ninth grade is not a thing that is to come, but that has already been established by vote of the taxpayers and inaugurated by the board. There are four students now at work in that grade, and two or three more are to emrol soon. The people here think it cheaper to do at least a part of the high school work at home than it can be to do it away from home. Moreover, the school expects to do work of such a grade as to recommend itself to the pat-ronage of the people of near-by districts, E. H. ANDERSON, Principal.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit gained 3%. Consolidated Gas 2% and Manhattan 2. At the same time there were snowdus transactions in market was broad and comprehensive in its scope and very active all day. During the first hour of the market there were widely distributed dealings based on general considerations, such as the uniformly large increases in rail-road earnings for the fourth week in October, and the belief in early improvement in the money conditions. At the same time there was heavy realizing also favorable, rallroads for the going on in stocks which have had a considerable advance lately, the realizing being well absorbed, however. The disposition to take profits increased after the appearance of the bank statement, but the market closed in some confusion, and very active. The known movements of money indicated a gain in cash by the banks of over $2,600,000, while the bank statement shows a loss of $1,705,700. The most plausible explanation is that the local trust companies have been leading money in the stock market and withdrawing cash deposits from bunka Review of the Week. Following the holiday interval on election day this week, there was an out-burst of activity and buoyancy on the burst of activity and buoyancy on the Stock Exchange, which rushed the volame of dealings over the million shares a day level. The election results themselves had little apparent connection with the movement except in the case of some of the New York municipal stocks, supposed to the control of the New York municipal stocks, supposed posed to be directly interested in the personnel of the New York City government. Stock exchange brokers were very large winners of election wagers on the New York City contest, and this may have been an incentive to speculation. But the important underlying motive for the sutburst was the confident state-ments current that a definite agreement had been reached for the harmonization of the Northwestern Railroad quarrel.

The stocks concerned in that dispute may have made up the largest part of the speculation and the whole of the transcontinental group has shown symmetric. pathy. Nothing has been learned from authoritative sources to show how far railroads not immediate parties to the dispute were to be affected by the ect-tlement, but speculative Wall Street has clung to the conviction that not only was official information of details has been forthcoming and current surmises have varied from day to day, giving opportunity to professional operators in stocks to make skillful use of the mystery for ffective manipulation.

The opinion has been gaining force in mancial districts that the terms of the anancial districts that the terms of the settlement which were supposed to bear directly on the control of the Northern Pacific, have worked back to direct control of the Burlington itself, which was the real prize that was sought throughout. If Union Pacific were granted a proportionate share of holdings in Burlington itself, it is easy to see how the problem of financing the project would be simplified, and the object furthered of releasing part of the enormous capital which was locked up in the struggle for control last Spring. The Union Pacific holdings of Northern Pacific would not be necessary for the control of the Burlington. The marketing of these holdings would, indeed, be a formidable undertaking. The current rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate on the Northern Pacific stocks would rundert the Northern Pacific stocks would run with this explanation of the terms of the settlement. The stimulating effect of this development has given room for the play of a number of favoring forces on the stock market.

Reports of a phenomenal ratiroad traf-se have come from all sources and an urgency of demand for freight room, which has led to a freight car famine on many lines. In some industries, notably iron and steel, the production on orders has been limited only by the ability of railroads to deliver materials. Reports of general domestic trade conditions are also favorable. The process complete of the conditions are also favorable. railroads for the fourth week of October show some very large perbentage increases over those for the corresponding week of last year. A considerable short interest in some of the stocks recently under pressure has been a technical aid to the rising tendency.

These conditions have tended to obscure somewhat the money question, and the continued exports of gold, without relaxing the stiffness of the foreign exchange, have been ignored. This was parily due to the hope that the largest part of the foreign demand has been part of the foreign demand has been actisfied and that the currency would soon begin to return to New York from interior channels of circulation interior channels of circulation.
