AGENTS AND MANUFACTURERS TO BE ARRESTED.

A Number of Persons Made III by Drinking the Stuff Within the Past Week.

A number of person in Portland have been made very ill by drinking sweet cider within the past week, and samples of the drink sent to State Chemist Kinslev. at Corvallis, for analysis, have been nd to contain sodium fluoride, a dead-poison. The drug was used for the purpose of preserving the cider by the manufacturers at Salem. J. W. Bailey, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, will cause the arrest tomorrow, of the Portland agents who retailed the stuff. He would have done so yesterday, he said, but he was unable to find the Prosecuting Attorney.

State Chemiat Kinsley's certificate on the matter reads:

I. A. L. Kinsely, chemist of the State Agricultural College, Corvalits, Or., do hereby cerultival College, convertelly examined and cor-rectly analyzed a sample of so-called sweet cider, received by me November 3, 1901, from J. W. Balley, State Dairy and Feed Commis-sioner, Portland, Or. I find upon examination that this cider contained preservatives, in the form of fluorides, and is therefore pronounced

The symptoms of those who partook of the cider are those of poisoning-vio lent cramps, followed by vomiting. reason no fatallties are reported in cor mection with the cases is that only sma amounts of the cider were taken into the stomach. According to Mr. Balley's opin-ton the persons to be arrested here will be retained as witnesses against the manufacturers of the cider at Salem.

CONNELL TO BE DEFENDANT Judge Frazer Decides He Shall Be Party to $55,000 Mortgage Suit.

Judge Frazer decided that Thomas Connell is a proper party defendant in the suit of R. H. Thompson vs. W. W. Es-poy et al., to foreclose a mortgage for $55,600. The court said that the complaint sets up that Espey deeded the property to Thompson, but it was un-derstood that the deed was intended as a mortgage. Thompson afterwards ex-ecuted a deed to Connell, with the understanding that the latter was to mort gage the property for enough to satisfy a claim, held by Connell against Thomp son, and then to re-transfer the property Thompson, who would assume the rigage Connell, it is held, did not do this, but held the property, and sub-sequently acquired tax titles to it by bidding it in at tax sales. Judge Frazer said the general rule is that adverse titles cannot be litigated in a mortgage foreclosure suit, but in this case it was different. The deed by Espey to Thompson was intended as a mortgage, and when Thompson transferred it to Connell, he only made an equitable assignment of the mortgage. The court, referring to the tax deeds, held that where a man endeavored to perfect his title by such means, it might be ques-tioned in a proceeding of this kind. Other points were passed upon.
