THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.

The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia river watershed and the 1902 World's Fair, commemorating the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. The book contains over 150 handsome illustrations, and it is printed on enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents.

CONCRETE SOLD FOR $1000.—

An important realty transaction was consummated yesterday, when J. H. Peterson purchased from James W. Cook lots 1 and 2, block 2, City of Portland, the consideration being $1000, of which one-fourth was paid down to bind the bargain. The property is on the southwest corner of Sixth and Oak streets, and at present is occupied by the Fishon stables. It is understood that the present occupants will give up their tenancy in a short time, and that Mr. Peterson, the purchaser, will erect a commodious hotel on the site. J. H. Peterson, the purchaser, has been engaged in the logging business, and has been looking for a desirable hotel site for some time. Mr. Cook had plenty of offers for the property, but he has persistently held out for $1000. One lot on the opposite corner sold Friday for $2000, which would indicate a decided increase in values in the neighborhood.

WEATHER BUREAU STATION AT NORTH HEAD.—

Forest official Edward A. Beals reported yesterday from a trip to North Head, where a site was selected for the erection of the Weather Bureau station authorized by an appropriation by Congress for additional stations to take observations and make reports on Puget Sound and Columbia River shipping. The location was selected at point midway between the light-house and the home of the keeper. Work will be begun next Tuesday, and when completed the station will be equipped with a powerful telescope and instruments for measuring and recording the rain, wind and sunshine. Telephonic connections will be had with Ilwaco, from which point messages will be forwarded over the commercial lines to Portland. Reports will be made on ships entering and departing at the mouth of the Columbia River, which will be forwarded here.

ROBBERY CARRY OFF SMALL CHANGE.—

Robbers who were on the lookout for small change effected an entrance into S. J. Williford's market, 215 Williams avenue, early this morning. They walked off with about $4 in silver from the cash drawer. Mr. Williford had fortunately locked up the money he received in trade in his safe, and the robbers did not tackle it. Iron screws were driven into the windows opening on the street floor, and also an iron screen over a cellar window. These had possibly been arranged by the robbers to attract the police in case they had to make a hurried escape. The police say that the robbery has not been reported to them.

CHARGE AGAINST W. H. HOLEY.—

The case against W. H. Holy, the First street employment agent, charged with the larceny by bail of $1 on the complaint of Rudolph Karcher, was dropped in the Municipal Court yesterday, and Holy was discharged because of want of evidence.

ARREST.—

Michael Martin was arrested yesterday by policeman N. J. Johnston at Third and Ash streets, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, on the complaint of Matthew Troy. The warrant was issued by Municipal Judge Cameron.

CHARTER UP TO CLERK REED.—

The clerk of the Charter Board, Sanderson Reed, will be busy for the next week or two preparing the instrument for the signature of the members and for the printer. A great many amendments, insertions and additions were made to the charter in the revision, and it is a large task to incorporate these into the charter. The charter, as adopted Friday night, covers about 55 pages of closely printed copy, and contains about 400 sections. The law provides that it shall receive the signature of at least a majority of the members of the board. A resolution was passed at the last meeting to have printed at least 10,000 copies of the charter in pamphlet form. These will be distributed to voters before and at the election next June. The judges at the several booths will be plentifully supplied with copies.

TAKEN UP ADVANCEMENT.—

Handford has taken under advisement in the United States Court at Tacoma a demurrer filed to the complaint in the case of Fred Wade vs. the National Bank of Commerce and Chester Thorpe. The suit is for $100,000 damages alleged to have been inflicted by malicious prosecution on the part of Mr. Thorpe and the bank, growing out of recent litigation over its affairs. Mr. Wade was former president of the bank, and J. C. Westerber was vice-president. He has a similar suit for $50,000 against the bank and for Mr. Thorpe filed a demurrer on the ground that the complaint should be made more specific. The decision will be awaited with interest by the friends of Mr. Wade, who is now a well-known resident of Oregon, prominently engaged in the mining business.

BOATBUILDERS BERT.—

"Never before in the history of Portland has there been so much work in sight for boatbuilders." These were the words of an owner of a boatyard yesterday. "This is remarkable at this early season of the year. All kinds of craft are planned. More steam passenger and tow boats are needed; also schooners and other ocean-going craft. All the yards of the city are busy even now. The outlook for ship carpenters this Spring and Summer is certainly very good."

DEATH OF E. B. ANDERSON.—

E. B. Anderson, who died Thursday last at Visalia, Cal., was the son of the late Mrs. Julia Anderson, a pioneer resident of Portland. Mr. Anderson was 28 years of age at the time of his death. The remains were sent to the funeral home of H. J. Smith today at 1:30 P. M. from Holman's funeral parlors, Fourth and Yamhill streets, and interment will be at Riverview cemetery. Friends of the deceased are invited to attend the funeral services.

NO ATTEMPT AT EXTORTION

Attorney Ferrara Makes Statement About Stoll Case.

Regarding the statements made by J. L. Mitchell in reference to the damage suit filed against him by J. George Stoll, A. G. Ferrara, who appears as attorney for Stoll, says: "It is not true that the door of the Elk restaurant cannot be locked from the inside, as the door is provided with a spring lock, no key being needed. Mitchell's statement that he had an opportunity to 'fix' the case, and that the action is an attempt at extortion, is absolutely false. On the contrary, prior to the commencement of this action and another one begun by Arthur G. Stevens for assault and battery, Mitchell offered $50 as a full settlement for damages claimed by both Stevens and Stoll, and subsequent to the commencement of the Stevens case, and prior to the commencement of the Stoll action, H. E. McGinn, attorney for the Mitchells, in the presence of two clients, in my office, admitted the justice of my claims, though not the amount, and offered $5 as liquidated damages. All this goes to show that Mitchell is not telling the truth when he says this case is an attempt at extortion."

IMPROVE THE CITY.

"It is true that our streets and sidewalks require very material improvement, and it is also a fact that many houses, as well as public buildings, can be made attractive and comfortable by putting in fire-places, mantels, grates and tiling and electric chandeliers, interior telephones and call bells. This work, however, should be done by experts. What you and the public want is dependable work at reasonable prices. See M. J. Walsh, the prominent dealer in all the above, at 245 Washington street, or communicate with him on either 'phone. Wiring of residences and stores a specialty."

Charlton's Reciprocity Resolution.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—John Charlton, referring to his reciprocity resolution introduced in Parliament, says the adoption of the resolution would affect the United States in this way: By admitting the natural products of Canada free, the United States would be placed on the same footing in Canada with Great Britain and thereby obtain a decided advantage over Germany, France and other countries in the Canadian market. By refusing to admit Canada's natural products free, the Canadian market would be more restricted to the United States.
