

guests present, all of whom expressed themselves as having enjoyed the evening immensely. The patronesses were as follows: Mrs. T. N. Dunbar, Mrs. W. F. Daugherty, Mrs. S. Johns, Mrs. Bert Cloyes, and Mrs. G. H. Carr.

Mrs. William Harder and Mrs. James A. Clock entertained the visiting railroad officials most delightfully, at the residence of the former, 476 Clay street, on Thursday evening. Progressive whist was the feature of the evening, and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George O. Somers, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Garret, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Embury, Topeka, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Moore, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Bently, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Peters, Vancouver; Mr. McInnes, Winnipeg; Mr. Countess and Mr. Hissell, San Francisco; Mr. Luce, Los Angeles; Mr. A. L. Craig, Mr. Gordon Craig, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Walte, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harder, Misses Simms and Harder, Messrs. R. B. Miller, J. C. Eden, Calenderhead, York, Loomis and Bretz.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred at noon on Wednesday, February 26, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Buddemer, on West Park street, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lulu Mae Buddemer, to Mr. Oscar Larkin Cox.

In the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, the decorations were of pink carnations, smilax and Oregon grape. From the corners of the apartment streamers of pink illusion were drawn to the chandelier, from which was suspended a large basket of pink carnations, smilax and ferns. In the bay window was erected an evergreen arch, supporting a huge lovers' knot of pink carnations, and on either side of the archway stood a palm, having attached to it a broad pink ribbon, which was tied in a big bow knot in the center.

Promptly at 1 o'clock Miss Evelyn Hurley began the Mendelssohn "Wedding March," and the bridal party entered, preceded by the little flower girl, Miss Sadie Jackson, who untied the pink satin barrier, allowing them to take their places under the wedding arch. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Buddemer, and Mr. Reno Hutchinson was best man. Dr. H. J. Talbot, of Taylor-Street Methodist Church, performed the ceremony, after which, "O Promise Me" was sung with much expression by Miss Hurley.

A dainty wedding breakfast was then served in the dining-room, which had been transformed into a Springlike bower by the lavish use of greenery, yellow satin ribbon and daffodils. The bride's gown was a gray crepe de chine, in exquisite combination, with white chiffon. She carried a large bouquet of white roses, tied with white ribbons. Miss Buddemer wore a handsome costume of Persian silk and carried bridesmaid roses, while little Miss Jackson was daintily dressed in accordance with pink crepe, and carried pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox departed on the 2 o'clock train to make a tour of Puget Sound. Afterward they will visit the parents of Mr. Cox, in Lewiston, Idaho, returning to Portland early in March. They are both well known and popular in this city. Mr. Cox being financial secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, while his bride has done much active work in presenting numerous entertainments which have been given here. Among the numerous handsome gifts to the happy couple was a very handsome dinner service, presented by the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Kathryn Gilbert and Mr. Henry E. Huggins were married on Monday evening, February 24, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Gilbert, in Salem, Or. The handsome Gilbert residence, on Marion street, was richly decorated for the occasion, the multitude of variously colored electric lights, shedding their mellow rays over a perfect bower of beauty. From the front hall, with its soft, red lights gleaming over tastefully arranged palms and festoons of wild grape, to the spacious dining-room, where the clear, bright lights were reflected by a wealth of silverware, china and cut glass, there was a careful blending of colors, the general plan being a mingling of violet and green. In the front parlor guests were seated amidst banks of ferns, with everywhere bunches of pink roses or carnations. In the drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed, the walls were adorned with smilax, and Parma violets, while over the bay window was built a canopy of evergreens and violets from which was suspended a large lovers' knot of white silk ribbon.

Soon after the 6 o'clock guests had assembled, Mrs. Clara Edwards Farnsworth, of Portland, sang, "Because I Love You, Dear," merging the last notes of the solo into the opening strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March." At this moment Rev. William Coney, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, took his position before the West window, and awaited the bridal party.

The groom entered from the broad staircase, accompanied by J. C. Lindsay, of Portland, who acted as best man, Miss Alice V. Meyer, the bridesmaid, came next, followed by the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father. The ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner, in accordance with the ritual of the Episcopal Church. Following the ceremony, congratulations were extended, after which the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white crepe, trimmed with clunk lace, and carried an arm bouquet of brides roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Many costly and beautiful wedding presents were bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Huggins, by their relatives and friends. The newly married couple left on Monday evening for Los Angeles, where Mr. Huggins is the popular representative of the Great Northern Railway Company, and where they will make their home.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Tuesday evening was the occasion of the last hop of the delightful series which have been given at the Armory by Company B, Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard. Oregon grape, the state emblem, was much in evidence, in beautiful harmony with which were lavishly draped the folds of the Stars and Stripes, one especially large and majestic American flag occupying a conspicuous post of honor above the entrance to the ball-room. At each corner of the music stand, where Everett's orchestra played all the most popular music of the day, was stationed a formidable field gun, the military effect being still further heightened by the stands of arms which had been placed upon the music-stand. The committee of arrangement consisted of Lieutenant W. W. Wilson, Sergeant A. M. Brown, Corporal J. Harvey Wells, Sergeant G. H. Carr, and Dr. Roth, and the success of their entertainment was attested by the large number of

of the club's entertainments in the past winter. They were set off with lights enclosed in Chinese lanterns, and the soft shadows created thereby followed the movement of the dancers with unique effect. The programme was prepared in Oriental taste, having its usual attractive Chinese monogram, and a tiny Chinese lantern as a pendant. The patronesses were: Mrs. F. B. Thorn, Mrs. A. M. Shannon and Mrs. George F. Fuller.

A ladies' auxiliary of the Maine Engineers' Beneficial Association has been organized in this city. It is the first one of the Pacific Coast, and the fourth in the United States. President, William Marshall and John Kane, of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, performed the initiatory ceremony and installed the officers, as follows: President, Bessie Marshall; vice-president, Anna Andrews; secretary, Clara Kidd; chaplain, Ellen Daley; grand conductor, Hanna Hardy; warden, Katie Kane; doorman, Hannah Cairns. J. W. Collier, of Kalama, secretary of the M. E. B. A., presented the charter last Saturday evening, and after the usual service the officers served refreshments and a few musical numbers were rendered.

A merry party of young people met at the home of L. H. Hanson in Irvington Friday evening, and a very pleasant time was spent in the enjoyment of music and dancing. The Holladay Quartet entertained the guests with a number of songs, as did Miss Broome with a charming vocal solo, and Will Bohn with a piano selection. Delicious ice cream and cake were served. Those present were: Miss Grace Nicholson, Miss Edie May, Miss Emily Anderson, Miss Emily Kern, Miss Susie Enson, Miss Mabel Stevenson, Miss Elsie Rometch, Miss Adelaide Withycombe, Miss Helen Somers, Miss Lulu Rittner, Miss Maud Taylor, Miss Inga Hanson, Henry Jennings, Charles Bracey, William Ruppel, Charles Jennings, Ray Ruppel, Will Griffith, Bernhard Veiguth and Fred Cox.

One of the most enjoyable musical and literary entertainments given on the East Side this season was held at the First United Brethren Church, corner East Fifteenth and East Morrison streets, Wednesday evening. The platform was prettily decorated with palms and Oregon grape, and the ladies were daintily clad in evening gowns. Each number was heartily enjoyed, and the varied nature of the programme made it especially interesting.

The party given by the new dancing club, the Creole Belles, at Parsons Hall on Friday evening, was a distinct success, a delightful time being enjoyed by the large number of young people present. The patronesses were Mrs. Charles Hilton and Mrs. Bachelor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shannon entertained the Larnend Whist Club Friday evening, February 21, at their residence, 682 Broadway, in Irvington.

Mr. Frank Wynn entertained a party of friends, Tuesday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. F. Daniels, of McMinnville.

WEDDINGS.

Klett-Beutelschacher.

At the German Reformed Church, on Stark and Tenth streets, on Thursday evening last, Walter Klett was married to Miss Bertha A. Beutelschacher. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Hafner, pastor of the church, in the presence of a concourse of relatives and friends. The bride was tastefully attired in a gown of white silk with long tulle veil, and in her hand she carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Miss Pauline Beutelschacher, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white muslin and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. George Otten was groomsmen, and the bride was given away by J. C. Luckel, Mr. and Mrs. Klett will reside at 871 Front street.

Pugh-Hobson.

On Tuesday, February 25, at the home of Edward H. Pugh, in Salem, Miss Jessie Hobson was married to Mr. Walter D. Pugh. Rev. H. A. Ketchum, of the Presbyterian Church, performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of a few near friends and relatives of the parties. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmeil Hobson, of Stayton. The groom is an architect in Salem, where the newly married couple will reside.

Blakely-Hay.

The wedding of Miss Charles Leonard Blakely to Miss Bessie Jean Hay, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Malloy, was celebrated on Wednesday evening, February 19, at Trinity Episcopal Church. After the ceremony, which was performed by the rector, Dr. A. A. Morrison, in the presence of the relatives of the bride and groom, an informal reception was held at the residence of Mrs. Blakely's parents, at 41 North Twelfth street. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with carnations, smilax and Oregon grape, after a delicious wedding supper had been served. Mr. and Mrs. Blakely departed on the 11 o'clock train for Seattle, where they will visit among relatives of the bride.

Ahrens-Gruelle.

On Wednesday evening, February 26, at the residence in William H. Ahrens, 883 East Sixth street, Harry H. Ahrens, of Portland, and Adah B. Gruelle, of Arcola, Ill., were married, the Rev. Dr. A. Thompson, of Trinity M. E. Church, officiating. The bride wore a white Marcelline chiffon dress trimmed with lace and ribbon, over white silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of bride roses, while the bridesmaids, the Misses Mae and Nellie Ahrens, sisters of the groom, wore white silk organdie over pink and canary silk, with roses to match.

The bride is a daughter of a well-known business man in Arcola, Ill., where she has been highly esteemed in social circles.

COMING EVENTS.

Invitations are out for the third annual hop of the Psi Chapter of the Gamma Epsilon Fraternity, which will be given at Parsons Hall March 10. The distinctive feature of this year's party is that it celebrates the 20th anniversary of the founding of this well-known and popular high school fraternity which had its beginning on March 10, 1882 in the boys' High School of San Francisco. Consequently the members of the local chapter have been exerting themselves to an unusual degree in order to make this dance the most successful in its history. The active members of the Psi Chapter are: Harry T. Nicolai, Clyde T. Ryan, Fred K. McCarver, W. M. Killingsworth, Jr., Roy S. Searle, Thomas H. West, Roland D. Jackson, George M. Steinman, George Eagleton, Earl H. Parker, Nathan H. Blackburn, Frank Trowbridge, Roy W. Melkie, Oliver G. Walker, Charles W. Henderson, Roy E. Nicolai, Frank E. Wortman, Benjamin Morrow and Elliott Holcomb.

The George Wright and Lincoln-Garfield Posts of the G. A. R. will hold a campfire on Friday evening, March 7, at Grand Army Hall, corner First and Taylor. The department commander, J. A. Sladen, will preside. There will be a large attendance from the posts and the W. G. C. of the city, and the posts and corps of Oregon City and Vancouver have been invited, and are expected to attend. All old soldiers who are not members of the Grand Army are invited. A program of unusual interest has been carefully arranged. The speakers will be from invited guests. Mrs. Emma Galloway, department president of the W. G. C. of Oregon, will speak on this helpful auxiliary of the G. A. R. of Oregon. At the close of the entertainment tables will be spread for the last banquet of the season.

The bazaar and entertainment to be given by the Altar Guild of Temple Beth Israel, on March 12, promises to be an artistic as well as a social success.
