ANSWER ALBERS' SUIT

JAMES ROBERTS AND C. N. RANKIN GIVE THEIR SIDES.

Policeman Files Cross Bill for $10,000 Damages—Commissioner Denies He Abetted Clubbing.

Policeman James Roberts has filed an answer to the damage suit of John Henry Albers, in which he is one of the defendants, and also a cross-bill and a demand for $10,000 from Albers. Roberts alleges that instead of his having beaten and clubbed Albers, he is the man who was most seriously injured.

Roberts' statement of the case is that he was near the patrol wagon, and other officers brought Albers to the patrol wagon to have him taken to the police station. Albers all the while fighting with and resisting the officers.

Roberts further asserts that when he was in the wagon with Albers he was attacked by Albers and his back bent over the brass rods of the wagon, and he was seriously injured, and has been incapacitated from performing his duty as an officer ever since. Roberts alleges that he expended $100 for medical services, and suffered $3000 actual damages, and is entitled to $5000 exemplary damages, making a total of $10,000.

Police Commissioner C. N. Rankin yesterday filed his answer in the Albers damage case. He denies that he encouraged, aided and abetted the officers to ill-treat and beat Albers. Rankin further states that he was present at the fire in his individual capacity only, and noticed what took place only as any other citizen might have done. He states that Officer Church touched Albers lightly on the shoulder and requested him to get outside of the ropes; that Albers did not say who he was, nor what he desired to do in the building. Rankin further states that Church was struck a heavy blow by Albers' brother, and that Church called upon Officers Caffee and Reeling to take Albers to the patrol wagon and drive away with him, which was done. Albers he alleges continued to assault and strike the policemen.

W. D. Fenton appears as attorney for Rankin, and George J. Cameron for Roberts.

Coffee filed his answer a week ago, and he too wants damages from Albers, but asks for only $500. He is represented by Albert Ferrera as counsel, and Paxton, Beach & Simon are engaged by ex-officer Church. This makes six lawyers all told for the defense. Henry E. McGinn appears for the plaintiff.

BARK VENDEE LIBELED.

Federal Salt Company Sues for $2500, Alleging Damaged Freight.

The Federal Salt Company, by its Northwestern agent, L. V. S. Hardy, yesterday libeled the French bark Vendee in the United States District Court to recover $2500.

It is set forth in the complaint that $508 sacks of salt were shipped on the Vendee from New Castle, England, to Portland, and that because the cargo was improperly stored, and on account of other reasons, the salt got wet, and became rusted and unmerchantable. The bark was released on a bond signed by Captain Y. Le Regarat and Charles E. Ladd.

TO RECOVER EXPENSE OF SUIT.

Insurance Company Sues Hannah Gardner on Contract.

A suit of an unusual character was filed in the State Circuit Court yesterday, by the London & Lancashire Insurance Company against Miss Hannah Gardner, to recover $228.

The complaint recites that the plaintiff in June, 1901, insured a building for Hannah Gardner, at Kelso, Wash., which was destroyed by fire July 24, 1901. It is alleged that the insurance company and Miss Gardner, considering that they had a valid claim against Metcalf & Wade, a business firm at Kelso, for damages, on account of the destruction of the building, entered into the following agreement in writing:

"Miss Gardner and the London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Company agree to sue Metcalf & Wade. If no money is realized in such action, each is to pay one-half of all expenses. If a recovery of money is had, the insurance company is to receive $200, or all less than $200, to reimburse it for the sum of insurance paid to Miss Gardner, and all over $500 goes to Miss Gardner, and the expenses of every kind shall be pro-rated between the in-

ISAM WHITE FINALLY WINS.

Long-Drawn-Out Litigation Settled in His Favor.

The suit of Isam White against the estate of A. H. Johnson, which has been in the courts for nearly 10 years, and was several times decided by Judge Shattuck and also by Judge Cleland, and also twice in the Supreme Court, every time in favor of Mr. White, and on being tried once more before Judge Fraser was decided against him, was at last, on the third trial in the Supreme Court, finally decided in Mr. White's favor a few days ago. The court remarked at the time that they wanted to hear no more of it.

A history of the whole proceedings in this case would be very interesting, as some fine points of law were developed during the numerous trials. On the whole, White's attorney, Wirt Minor, the whole long-continued litigation was practically over one point, which was whether the service by the Sheriff of Multnomah County of an attachment on certain premises, by leaving the legal notice to a Chinaman who was in possession of the place—no one else being at home—was a legal service.

This point was decided in favor of Mr. White five times had running. After that three women were introduced as witnesses, who testified that, after all litigation, they now remember that on the day on which the attachment was served they were in the house on the premises attached by the Sheriff, and that the Chinaman was not in possession of the premises. On this testimony the court decided against Mr. White, who again appealed to the Supreme Court, which reversed the decree of the lower court and decided the case finally in Mr. White's favor.

Decisions by Judge Sears.

Judge Sears will announce decisions Monday morning in the following cases:

A. J. McHargue vs. I. W. Butler; motion for leave to file amended itemized statement.

A. J. Delano vs. W. S. Drake; motion to make complaint more definite and certain, and motion to strike out part of complaint.

William R. Moffet, trustee, vs. Oregon & California Railroad Company; demurrer.

Portland, Chicago & Mount Scott Railway vs. J. F. Gilbert; demurrer to answer.

L. Labowitz et al. vs. M. Labowitz et al.; writ of review.

Damage Suit Compromised.

William A. Brown was authorized in the County Court yesterday to compromise a claim against the Southern Pacific Company, on account of the accidental death of his son, William Brown, Jr., 4 years old. The boy was killed on October 7, 1901, while attempting to board a moving train in South Portland. The amount of damages paid was $300.

Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation of the Fairview Canning and Manufacturing Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday, by H. C. Campbell, C. P. Swigert and Rufus Mallory. The capital stock is $3000. The objects are to manufacture and sell butter and cheese, etc.

Sues to Foreclose Mortgage.

The Northern Counties Investment Trust yesterday filed suit in the State Circuit Court against Edward Stanburrough, F. C. Forbes, et al., to foreclose a mortgage for $2500, on lots 3, 4 and 4 block F, Kern's Addition. The amount of damages paid was $300.

Up the Columbia.

With a perfectly clear atmosphere, no smoke or haze to mar the view, this undoubtedly is the best time of year to see the magnificent scenery along the Columbia River. Take the O. R. & N. Co.'s train from Union depot any day at 9 A. M. for Cascade Locks or the Dalles; or leave Dalles at 1:30 P. M. for Portland, returning at 4:30 P. M. Or, if preferred, return may be made from Cascade Locks by river steamer, reaching Portland about 4 P. M. Ticket office Third and Washington streets.

GEORGE TOOLEY IS DEAD

HOLBROOK FARMER SUCCEUMS TO HIS INJURIES.

Nick Anderson, His Assistant, Held to Answer to Grand Jury—Refuses to Testify.

From peritonitis due to a stab wound inflicted by Nick Anderson last Sunday, George L. Tooley, the Holbrook farmer, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the Good Samaritan Hospital. A coroner's inquest was later held into the case, and the jury decided that Nick Anderson was responsible for Tooley's death, and the prisoner was committed to await the action of the grand jury. He refused to testify.

It was seen from the first that Tooley's injury was probably fatal, and the physician said that he would not have lived so long had he not been possessed of good health and a vigorous constitution, hardened by outdoor life. His wife, father, mother, brother and sister were with him when he died.

Anderson stood motionless for a few seconds when first told in the County Jail that Tooley was dead. He then uttered, "I'm sorry he's dead. But I suppose it can't be helped. I did not mean to kill him, but I meant to hurt him. He attacked me first. He told his wife to strike me with the sledgehammer, and I had to defend myself from him to protect myself from Mrs. Tooley. I acted in self-defense."

At the inquest, Mrs. Tooley, a little, nervous-looking woman, testified that she was in the house when the attack took place. She testified that she saw her husband stab Tooley in the stomach, and that she saw him stab Tooley in the back. She testified that she saw her husband stab Tooley in the back, and that she saw him stab Tooley in the back.

The affair passed off to the pleasure and satisfaction of all concerned, and it was not till away beyond the wee sma' hours that the ambulances were called for, and the subsequent proceedings interested them no more, and what occurred thereafter is "nothing to nobody."

DEMAND FOR MARKERS.

Camp McMillen is Receiving Requests for Them From All Over.

The movement to place markers on the graves of Indian War Veterans in this state is a very popular one. There is general response from various portions of the state to the request that graves of Indian War veterans be looked up.

Yesterday Mrs. Laura V. Mutch, president of Camp McMillen, received a letter from Eugene, in which it was stated that 25 graves had been located in the cemeteries at that place, and that a number of markers would be wanted as soon as they had been made ready.

Requests for markers have also been coming in from other sources, and the indications are that the first 100 ordered will soon be exhausted and more will have to be cast. Owing to rush of orders the castings for the first 100 markers have not yet been made, but it is expected that they will be finished about the middle of the week. Members of Camp McMillen are very anxious to get them in hand for distribution and placing in cemeteries.

BANQUET TO MARK A. MAYER

Elaborate Banquet at Portland Hotel in His Honor.

Mark A. Mayer, of the firm of Fleishner, Mayer & Co., and who has been a resident buyer for the firm in New York for the past 13 years, has been at home on a visit for the past 10 days, and left for New York Saturday morning. Tuesday evening Mr. Mayer and a party of friends participated in a banquet at the Portland, which Mr. Mayer says was "a dream," and the memory of which will remain with him for years. Owing to his position in New York it is no rarity for him to participate in such functions, and he has attended many of the most recherché character; but he declared that this banquet at the Portland was equal in every respect to the best he has attended in New York, and in several respects superior, and his praise of Manager Bowers, of the Portland, was unstinted. He further says that such an affair, if it could be paralleled at any of the leading hotels of New York, would have cost $2500.

The guests, 12 in number, were seated at a round table, the appointments of which, with the floral decorations, were matchless. In the center was a fountain which played jets of champagne, while the basin into which the bubbling jets poured was tended by scores of gold and silver fish, which darted about in a state of lively exhilaration—at least this is how things appeared to some of the guests.

The menu was unique in form, being in the style of a Government bond, with a coupon for each course, which was considered eminently correct, as all the guests were bondholders. As to the menu, it was as follows: Clear green turtle. Cheese stocks. Royal chinook salmon. Fresh cucumbers. Sweetbread poquette. French spring beans. Marshmallows. Nestle's cigarettes. Roast squab chicken. Perigoux. Garden peas. Mumm's extra dry. Oregon asparagus, en branche. Hearts of artichokes. French dressing. Omelette au Rhein. Loss en surprise. Orange glace. Breulet. Stilton cheese. Toasted pulled bread. Cigars. Cognac. Mr. Mark Mayer in a few specialties. Coupe or street-car conveyance home. Medical attendance.

The affair passed off to the pleasure and satisfaction of all concerned, and it was not till away beyond the wee sma' hours that the ambulances were called for, and the subsequent proceedings interested them no more, and what occurred thereafter is "nothing to nobody."
