William Whittle. CASTLE ROCK, May 17.—William Whittle, one of the oldest pioneers of this county, died at his home here on Tuesday. Mr. Whittle was born in Randolph county, North Carolina, in 1825, and was married in Arkansas in 1847 to Miss Elizabeth Marshall. They had 10 children, seven of whom survive. In 1852 he moved to California. In 1855 they came to this city, and the deceased took up a homestead and had lived here ever since. Mr. Whittle was a man of simple manner, just and upright in all his dealings, and was highly respected. He was buried Friday afternoon in a cemetery which he had himself established in 1852. Rev. David Finley conducted the funeral services.

Mrs. Marcus L. Robbins. GRANT'S PASS, May 17.—The funeral of Mrs. Marcus L. Robbins took place from the family residence yesterday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives. A GREAT RALLY.

son of this splendid meeting arranged as a reception to our distinguished fellow citizen, Judge Williams, and to hear him speak. It is impossible to listen to Judge Williams speak without feeling one's interest deeply stimulated and aroused in whatever cause he may advocate. About one thing he has said but little tonight, and that is that in the coming municipal election in which he is our standard-bearer.

"It is possible to conceive of but one result: any other would leave a lasting stain upon the self respect of every citizen of this community. Let it go out as a clarion call from this meeting to the remotest household in this community that we rally around our standard-bearer, our 'grand old man' of Oregon."

FOR AN OPEN-AIR RALLY.

Judge Williams and Others to Speak Wednesday.

The Young Men's Republican Club, of South Portland, will give an open-air rally Wednesday night in the Park blocks bounded by Hall and College, Park and West Park streets. A large platform will be erected and seats provided for the accommodation of a thousand people. De Caprio's Band will furnish the music, and a quartet has been engaged for the occasion. The speakers will be W. C. Elletts, candidate for city engineer; Judge George H. Williams and Judge John H. Caples. Arc lights will be spread through the Park blocks.

This is the last open-air meeting since the opening of the campaign, and the Young Men's Club of the South End, which is known for its loyalty to the Republican party, will open the campaign by a rousing time. All persons are invited, irrespective of politics.

Rally in Eleventh Ward.

The Republicans of the Eleventh Ward held an enthusiastic meeting in the Boys' Brigade Hall, in Multnomah addition, last evening. The meeting was presided over by H. W. Goddard. There was a large and representative attendance at the rally. The principal speakers were Waldemar Seton and J. W. Fryer, who made an excellent speech. W. A. Storey, J. P. Finley and other candidates were present and made addresses.

Political Notes.

John F. Logan and Waldemar Seton will speak at Peminular May 21, at Portsmouth May 22, and at Woodlawn May 27. J. W. Fryer and the county candidates will address the people of Fulton in Macabee's Hall, on the evening of May 23. An open-air Republican rally will be held in Plaza block, Wednesday evening, May 15. Judge George H. Williams and W. M. Colvig will deliver addresses. Henry St. Raymond, a prominent attorney of Portland, delivered an address in the Courthouse at St. Helena last Thursday evening. M. E. Grubbe, of Portland, presided. The meeting was well attended, and the address was listened to with close attention. Mr. St. Raymond is a pleasing speaker, and made a very effective argument in behalf of the principles and policies of the Republican party.

Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition in the stomach. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body considered as a whole is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in back and knees, in hands and feet equally. So also will the weakness be equally distributed among the organs, heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., being proportionately weak according to the amount of the reduction of their daily ration of nutrition.

If then no man is stronger than his stomach and physical strength is created in the stomach and distributed from it, the very first question that a weak man should ask is, "What is wrong with my stomach?" If there are weak lungs, the condition also points to "weak" stomach. All physicians know that the cure of consumption is but a question of nutrition. If you can put flesh and fat on the body the lungs will take care of themselves. The one thing which baffles the physician in the cure of lung and other diseases is "weak" stomach. If the stomach was strong he'd feel sure of a cure. In fact, then, any condition of physical weakness at once suggests weak stomach. When the stomach is made strong, the whole body regains strength and every organ of the body, heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., shares in this newly gained strength.

It is because Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition that it gives strength to the whole body. When the weak stomach is made strong by "Golden Medical Discovery" then food is perfectly digested and assimilated, the nutrition derived from food is distributed to the several organs of the body, and the "weak" heart which was weak because it was not well fed becomes strong again. So with the weakness of the other organs of the body, it is cured when the stomach is cured.

"I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets'—four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets,'" writes Mr. Conrad Graff, residing at 308 South First Street, Denver, Colo. "My trouble was dyspepsia, heart disease and weakness. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' my stomach would bloat and I would get weak, heart beat rapidly, and a deep breath would cause pain. After taking the first bottle I began to improve, and when I had finished the second one the pain was gone. I wish to tell you that I had been doctoring for one year before receiving any relief, until I had used your 'Discovery'."

"For several years I had been under the care of doctors and they would help me for a time, but I could not get entirely well," writes Miss Della M. Shippy, of Willsborough, N. Y. "At times I could eat only very little, for everything I ate would distress me so. I was weak and nervous and did not sleep well at night. Last winter, in December, I was taken very ill and had to call a doctor, who said I had heart trouble. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and the first bottle did me much good that I took three bottles and I feel like a new woman now. I can eat anything I like without any distress and can sleep well. I also feel quite strong. Words cannot describe my gratitude. You may use this testimonial as you like."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is remarkably successful in the cure of diseases which have become chronic and which other medicines have been unable to cure. Its effects are radical and lasting, because it cures perfectly and permanently the diseases which prevent the proper nutrition of the body. It gives new life and new strength.

Sick people, especially those suffering from chronic diseases, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free, and so obtain (without charge) the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

PLAIN TALK about yourself in plain English. Plain truths told in plain words. Medicine and Hygiene treated from the everyday view point of common sense. These are the features which make Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser superior to other medical works for family use. The 'Adviser' contains 1008 large pages and is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. RIOT IN NEGRO QUARTER

EIGHT MEN KILLED IN A FIGHT WITH OUTLAWS AT ATLANTA.

Barricading Themselves in a Store, They Stopped All Approaches Finally Burned Out.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 17.—An effort by officers of the law to arrest negro outlaws who had barricaded themselves in a store resulted today in a riot in which eight men were killed, including three policemen, a white citizen and four negroes, and six persons, black and white, were injured. An entire block of buildings was burned before the conflict, which began early this morning, was terminated. The dead are: WILL RICHARDSON, a ballist of Fulton county; H. G. OSBORNE, a policeman of Fulton county; THOMAS GRANT, a policeman; EDWARD CRABTREE, a policeman; JOHN HARRINGTON, a negro, who attempted to escape from a sewer. Unknown negro, believed to be Charles Clahel, killed in a nearby yard.

WILL GREGG, died tonight; was shot by an unknown man while passing comments on the affray. The wounded are: S. A. Kerlin, beaten by negroes; W. A. Wright, a county policeman, wounded in the left shoulder; W. T. Jackson, a street-car man, wounded in the hip; Owen Heard, a county policeman, wounded in the thigh; Officer Spradlin, wounded in the arm; Shepard Finzer, hickman, shot through the hand. The scene of the tragedy was on McDaniel street, a few hundred yards outside the city limits. The police first attempted to raid the place where the negroes had taken refuge, and later the city police were called upon for aid. Still later the Governor was appealed to and the military ordered out. In the barricaded store were three negroes. The store was a small arsenal, in which were a number of Winchester rifles, and a small Gatling gun. It was a rendezvous for a gang of thieves and murderers. Within were characters, who picked off men on the outside with precision and deadly effect. Every time a man showed himself he was shot to death. The torch was finally brought into requisition and amid the flames was heard the crack of the rifles. The flames accomplished what the bullets failed to do. Two members of the gang rushed out to death, and the other, the leader, was burned after his body had been riddled with bullets. Before the riot was ended, three officers had been shot to death, one citizen had fallen with a rifle in his hands; four negroes were killed and many others wounded. During the whole affray at least 300 shots were fired. Citizens had joined the police, armed with shotguns and rifles. After the burned body of the negro was found an angry crowd of white men seized it and bore it within the city. Dated May 17, 1902. A further protection, Governor Chandler tonight ordered every militiaman in Atlanta under arms and to remain at the company headquarters until further orders. Order has been restored, and Governor Chandler declares that no unoffending negro will be molested. The fight between the officers and the negroes occurred in Pittsburg, a negro settlement, directly south of the city limits, on McDaniel street. The officers attempted to arrest five negroes, suspected of having beaten ex-Policeman Kerlin nearly to death yesterday afternoon.

who came to the scene carried a rifle. The shooting into the house became general, citizens and officers firing together. W. T. Jackson, a street-car conductor, was one of those who hurried to the scene. As he was nearing the house he was shot in the right hip, presumably by Richardson. A negro cabman driving a spectator to the vicinity of the rioting, was hit in the hand by a bullet. Call Officer Spradlin, speeding to the scene on his bicycle, received a wound in the arm. The desperado Richardson had been lost sight of. The house burned rapidly and a number of inmates were seen to run to the store, to a woodshed and to a barn. Orders were quickly given to fire every building into which the negroes had been driven, and in a few minutes the buildings were burning. A main sewer that runs through this part of the city was utilized by two of the negroes as a possible means of escape, but to no avail. The crowd had increased until about 3000 people, 300 of whom at least were armed, surrounded the burning area. Soon from the mouth of the sewer Harrington, a negro, was seen to emerge. A shout went up and the fleeing negro, who struck over an adjacent lot, was being pursued. Shot after shot rang out and in a few moments he fell dead. The pursuing party quickly surrounded him and filled his body with lead. He was literally shot to pieces. The crowd of enraged citizens had scarcely finished this work when another negro was seen coming out of the sewer. He, too, made a run for life, and managed to get into the back yard of one of the neighboring houses, where, surrounded by several head of cattle, he was filled with lead. The fire started by the attacking party spread rapidly and soon the entire block of buildings, nearly all negro houses, was destroyed. The police were busy arresting the few negroes found in the vicinity, among them Steve Nesbit and Jim Singleton—believed to be members of Richardson's gang. The police had great difficulty in getting out of the crowd of enraged people with the colored men. A mob of 5000 surrounded the patrol wagon and cried for the life of the men under arrest. The officers, throwing their men into the bottom of the wagon, drew their revolvers, forced their way through the crowd and 30 minutes later lodged their prisoners in the county jail. In less than an hour the block of wooden houses was burned to the ground and a search of the ruins was begun. In a woodshed in the rear of Richardson's store was found a skull and near it the steel barrel of a rifle. It is believed that the skull represented all that is left of the negro who did the shooting.

It's Really Remarkable

How many men sacrifice their money to a false pride. We know numbers of them who have their clothes made-to-measure simply because they desire to be able to show their friends the tailor's label to prove their disdain for anything that is not made especially for them. We almost despair of converting this class—but you who are sensible—we want you to come to us and let us show you our Animals With Three Eyes. Melbourne Argus. Nearly every one has heard of the tarsator, the curious, iguana-like looking creature, now found on only one or two islands off the coast of New Zealand, and supposed to be the oldest living type of animal on the earth. One of the most curious features is an organ on the head, which at one time was spoken of as the pineal gland, but which Dr. Dendy discovered to be in reality a third eye. His paper on the subject caused the greatest interest in the English scientific circles.

Two of Booker Washington's Stories. Philadelphia Press. In a recent speech Booker T. Washington related the story of a negro who purchased a third-class ticket, and was assigned to a seat with the first-class passengers in a stage-coach. He was unable to understand the distinction, but when the stage tumbled into a ditch the driver called out: "First-class passengers remain in your seats, second-class passengers get out and walk, third-class passengers get out and push."

Mr. Washington also said that early in his days as a schoolteacher he found the log cabin in which he taught school too small, and determined to employ a henhouse as an annex. One morning he instructed a negro assistant to clean out the henhouse. "What!" exclaimed the negro in astonishment, "clean out a henhouse in the daytime!"

POLICE SCANDAL

Superintendent Ames and Other Minneapolis Men Indicted. MINNEAPOLIS, May 17.—The grand jury, which has been investigating the stories of bribery in the police department, today returned indictments calling for the arrest of Superintendent W. Fred Ames, Detective Chris Norbeck, Irving Gardner, son of License Inspector Gardner, and Detective James C. Howars. Superintendent Ames is a brother of Mayor A. A. Ames and his appointee. He was at first Lieutenant-Colonel, and then Colonel of the Thirtieth Minnesota in the Philippine campaign. He was Chief of Police of Manila for a time. There is no indictment against Chief Ames for accepting a $25 bribe from a "big mitt" man. There are seven against Norbeck, all for bribery. Gardner is charged with extortion, it being alleged that he acted as collector of money from disreputable women and houses of ill fame.

Help Others

Help Others Help them to help themselves. What better deed? Then why not tell your friend who is ill just what Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done for you? When you see a person weak and pale, nervous and debilitated, just recommend our Sarsaparilla. If in doubt about this, ask your doctor if he knows of any better. "A neighbor of mine had a child who had suffered from scrofula for a long time. Having used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my own family for a great many years, and always with satisfactory results, I recommended it to my neighbor.
