Then Tacoma made a desperate attempt to walk away with the paims of victory, but all in vain. White's safe hit way followed by Letcher's sacrifice and pop files by Smith and Anderson, which put the Tigers in the field once more. Port-land's half of the ninth closed with Van Buren and Hupp on the bases, and the visitors came in to try their hand again. Hutchinson and Murdock flew out, and J. McCarthy was caught at second, sending his side away to the tall grass. Lon Mahaffey's single and Vigneux's double gave Portland golden opportunities to score in the tenth, but three outs were recorded in guick succession, and it was "back to the mines" with "Sammy" and his colts. Tacoma couldn't score in the eleventh, but Portland could, and that settled matters, greatly delighting the 500 spectators who had been shouting and groaning through the ups and downs of error by Hutchinson, trotted to third on an error by "Chick" Fisher, and came home on Lou Mahaffey's single. It was a pretty game, although errors were frequent. Tacoma began the day with a swing and a dash that bespoke victory, but the splendid rally made by the home team was too much for the frigers, and they left the field in a most reflective frame of mind. Engle pitched

Final Match of Metropolitan Golf Association.

NEW YORK, May M .- Amateur Chamion W. J. Travis added the title of Met-opolitan champion to his laurels by winning the final match today of the Metro. politan Golf Association's fourth annual tournament. Travis' final match today was at 36 holes with F. A. Marcellus, of Yountakah. Marcellus was particularly weak in his driving and failed to regain his losses by his approaching and putting. Travis showed none of the brilliant put-ting that marked his game with Douglas. He was three up at the turn of the first round and eight at the 18th hole. In the second round he won the first, second, fourth, sixth and seventh holes, at
