FORNAN AVOIDS UNKNOWN HEIR.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 7.—A fortune of $142,000 in cash awaits the heir of an old man who passed under the name of Charles Hill, and who died at the Good Samaritan Hospital two weeks ago. About three weeks ago the man, who was between 75 and 80 years old, applied at the hospital for accommodation. He was taken in and paid for all services rendered. When it was found he could not recover, he was asked to tell the names of his relatives, in order that they might be notified. He replied that he had not a relative on earth. He died and was duly buried. In his clothing was found $200 in currency. Further investigation by the public administrator disclosed a key to a private box at the Los Angeles Bank. The box has just been opened, and in it were found several large packages of currency, aggregating $142,000. The old man had lived here seven years in a modest sort of way at lodgings, hotels and restaurants, but had no initials, and no one can be found who knows anything of his antecedents.

IN OLD CHARLESTON

The house-hells are not in with us on the doors, but on the gates, and in going to call one halts at the gate and waits for admission instead of passing in and announcing himself at the door as with us. This is the universal practice, even though the gate may be standing wide open.
