alumnae and members of the faculty assembled. Miss Murphy, president of the association, introduced the class of '02—Misses Marie Arnold, Catherine A. Hughes, Ottilie Dresser, Serita Sax and Julia Burke. Among the entertaining features of the evening were ping pong, character sketches and a penny contest. The first prizes were won by Miss Frank Neu and Miss Cain, the consolation prizes by Mrs. W. J. Kelly and a member of the faculty. During the evening Miss McCarty, class '02, read an original poem, "Footfalls of Portland." This was followed by a duet and a recitation by Miss Arnold, of the class of '02. The alumnae were then invited to the dining-room, which was prettily festooned with roses, ferns and Japanese decorations and lighted by candelabra. Delicious refreshments were served. It was a unique banquet scene—handicapped young girls, with all of life's promise before them; ladies who long years ago went forth from their alma mater, and nuns who had watched over their girlhood years, were there. Much credit is due the committees for their untiring efforts, which made the evening one of the most delightful in the annals of St. Mary's alumnae.

A charming reception was given last Friday evening at the home of Miss Ottilie Dresser, 112 Hoyt street, in honor of her graduation from St. Mary's Academy. Among the two score guests invited were many of her former classmates. The parlors were beautifully decorated with roses, carnations, sweet peas and the class colors, pink and white, prevailed everywhere throughout the reception-rooms. The early part of the evening was spent in playing games, followed by refreshments. Refreshments were served at half-past 10, and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent listening to musical and vocal selections.

ular selections in a programme of 21 dances, waltzes and two-steps. Delicious and refreshing ice cream and punch were served throughout the evening. The party was given by the members of the class, who were warmly complimented on the success of their pretty and novel dance. They were: Jay Upton, Bert Dunbar, Ben Norden and Horace Siles. The patronesses were: Mrs. Bachelor, Mrs. Hilton and Mrs. Lyons.

Miss Kate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burney, entertained the Jolly Owls and a number of relatives and friends at her home in Fulton Park, Friday night. Timely games were played in the spacious parlors during the earlier part of the evening, and later the guests repaired to the lawn, where refreshments were served under the light of the full moon, and an artistic array of Chinese lanterns hung from orchard trees.

Miss Serita Sax gave a very delightful informal banquet at the Hotel Portland on Thursday evening to the members of the June graduating class of St. Mary's Academy. The table decorations were very pretty, consisting of roses in the class colors—pink and white. The guests were: Miss Marie Verena Arnold, Miss Ottilie Dresser, Miss Catherine Hughes, Miss Julia Burke, Miss Helen Lightner, Mrs. J. E. Cullison, Mrs. I. L. Richards.

About 40 guests spent a most enjoyable evening at the residence of H. W. Turner, on Seventeenth street, Tuesday. The occasion was a reception given by Mrs. Turner to her sister, Mrs. L. M. Robertson, of Honolulu. The early evening was spent at cards and dancing, and later refreshments were served. During the evening choice selections from operas were played by Fox's orchestra, which also furnished the music for dancing.

A very enjoyable birthday party was given Tuesday afternoon, June 17, at the residence of Mrs. E. F. Graham in Irvington, in honor of the 13th birthday of her niece, Miss Ethel Moores, of Baker City. The rooms were beautifully decorated in roses and mignonette. The young people amused themselves with games and music till 5 P. M., when refreshments were served.

COMING EVENTS.

Next Friday evening the Portland High School alumni will receive and entertain the June class of 1902, which is the largest class that has ever been graduated from the Portland High School.

The exercises will take place at Canemah Park, near Oregon City. Heretofore the alumni have given receptions to all the classes except one, which was entertained on a moonlight excursion.

This time the means of conveyance will be three large trailers attached to a trolley car on the line of the Portland City & Oregon electric railway.

The cars will leave First and Alder streets at 7:40 P. M. and run to Canemah, where the committee in charge has made full arrangements for the affair. At the park, which is brilliantly lighted, the class will be received in the pavilion by Judge Kraemer, president of the alumni, and Benjamin Morrow, president of the June class, 1902, will respond with a short address, after which dancing will be the amusement until 11 o'clock, when the party will return to Portland in time to take the last cars home. During the evening light refreshments will be served at the pleasure of those present.

The invitations are ready, and will be sent out as soon as the names are sent in to Mr. Frank Bennett, 139 Fourteenth street.

The regular annual promenade of the Portland Academy Alumni Association will be held at Parsons Hall on the evening of July 1. As the association's membership has just been increased by 25 members of the class of 1902, a large attendance is assured.

The members of Camp Harrington, S. A. W. V., No. 201, will entertain the ladies of Harrington Auxiliary Wednesday evening, June 26, at their hall in the A. O. U. W. Building. All ladies belonging to the auxiliary are invited.
