NORTHWEST LEAGUE,

SEATTLE, June 22.—Scattle and Port-land fought it out to a finish this afternoon, in 15 innings, crowded full of the most sensational ball-playing ever seen in this section. Portland took the lead in the first inning by working Muller over the plate without the aid of a safe hit son hit down to Schwartz, beating the hrow home by a long slide. It was a pitchers' battle between Stowall and Engle, and honors were about en. Stovall escaped with the fewer mber of hits charged against him, but Engle was the steadler. Both men were backed up by the finest kind of fielding.

Deisel and Weed played sensational ball, both cutting off sure hits and retiring the runner. Deisel saved Portland from defeat temporarily in the ninth inning, after Seattle had tied the score. There were two out, and the bases were full, when Campbell shot the ball nearly over second base. Deisel got it after a hard run and retired the side. Seattle could not bunch hits off Engle, and was shut out until the ninth. Babbitt and Schwartz, in this inning, were easy, and Sammy Vigneux was hopping around the home-plate as lively as a cricket, confident that the terrible slide of his toboggun was to be arrested, temporarily at least. But Anderson juggled Hurl-burt's grounder just long enough to allow that speedy fielder to get to first safely. Bodie landed on the ball hard, putting it up against the right-field fence so hard that it almost bounced back into the diamond. Huriburt reached third on the hit, from where he raced home with the tieing run when Stanley hit safe over Deisel's head. Pandemonium reigned when the score was tied, as those on the bleachers simply went crazy with delight. Dalrymple got to first when Engle tried to catch the man at second on his hit, but, with the bases full, "Jakey" Delsel played championship ball and cut off Campbell's hit, when it looked as if Seattle would win the game out right

From the ninth to the fifteenth the fielding was so brilliant that it fairly scin-tillated. Muller jumped into the air about four feet in the fourteenth and grabbed a line-hit, labeled home-run, from Babbitt's bat, while Harris and Delsel scooped up everything in sight. Vigneux gave Engle splendid support, and the crack pitcher was never more sure of winning in his life. A lady friend in Portland had sent him a rabbit's-foot, nicely mounted, and he had rubbed the lucky token up and down his pitching arm before the game.

tion in making difficult plays during the He singled and got home.

Inter part of the game.

Tom Lynch, of the National League,

Dalrymple was first up for Seattle in the fifteenth, and he hit safely just inside third base. Campbell took two strikes trying to bunt. He then had to swing, and he drove a liner just out of Anderson's reach. Andy made a desperate try for it to redeem himself for his error in the ninth, but the ball just hit the tips of his fingers and fell safe. Stovall was too anxious to win his own game, and sent a high fly to Mulier. Hurey smashed the ball through the box, but Engls knocked it down with his bare hand, retiring the batter, but the other two base-runners advanced a peg each. It was now up to Babbitt, with two men out, two men on bases and one run needed to tie the score. Engle got two strikes on the shortstop, and then Babbitt landed hard for a liner over Harris' head. The little third baseman jumped as high as he could and stretched his body to the utmost in his efforts to reach it, but he could not touch the ball, and Dalrymple scampered home with the winning run.

It was the fastest cleanest and snappiest game of ball ever played here. While both sides did everything they knew to win, there was no wrangling or attempts. at dirty ball-playing. Vieneux and his for their game struggle to break the hoodoo which is following the team. The

KIEL REGATTA MOST BRILLIANT YACHTING EVENT IN EUROPE.

American Boat Uncle Sam Wins Another Race - Kaiser's New Yacht Meteor Defeated.

KIEL, June 28.—Emperor William has made the Kiel regatta the most brilliant yachting event in Europe this year. The English yachtsmen agree that it surpassed the Cowes meetings which have occurred during the two years of the South African War. Under His Majesty's personal stimulus, 180 racing craft were brought together, a quarter of them be-ing French, British, Swedish, Danish and American vessels. Most of them are small-raters, but 10 or 12 are large ves-sels and represent sems of the best work of the British and American workers. Emperor William's distribution of the in-vitations made the event distinctly inter-national. About 20 beautiful sold and silnational. About 20 beautiful gold and sli-ver cups, the prizes in the regatta, are set out on a table at the yacht club. Nine of them are gifts of His Majesty, the Em-press and Prince Henry of Prussia. The American participation has been a disappointment, though Prince Henry person-ally invited several members of the New York Yacht Club, but, months before that, the National League were postponed on intimations of Emperor William's desires were conveyed to yachtsmen in the Unit-

The Uncle Sam, owned by F. B. Riggs, of New York, today won her second race for the Kaiser's gold cup, beating the Mimosa, of the Hamburg Club, by II seconds, and the Hansa, of Lubeck, by 3 minutes and 35 seconds. There were I7 starters, and the course was the same as that over which the Uncle Sam sailed a winning race last Thursday. The folial winning race last Thursday. The finish of the contest was a long luffing match. The Mimosa led by two lengths until within 50 meters of the finish line, when she luffed under the lee of a hill and lost the breeze, while the Uncle Sam squared away and crossed the line 11 seconds in front of the Mimosa. The conditions of the contest for the gold cup were not three out of the four races, as had been stated, but two out of three, the fourth race being for a consolation prize.

After the finish of today's race, the owners of the Mimosa entered a protest against the prize being awarded to the Uncle Sam, on the ground that that yacht started from the wrong side of the buoy, and a snap-shot photograph was submit-ted to the committee in proof of the assertion. This photograph showed what purported to be the Uncle Sam starting outside of the buoy. J. Hopkins Smith, Jr., of Harvard, 1902, commodore of the Harvard Yacht Club, and T. Later it was shown also that the photograph submitted to the committee was a picture of the John Buil, an English contestant in the race. When this was brought out the owners of the Mimosa quite agreed that they were in error in making the protest. The members of the yacht club express pleasure that the Uncle Sam won, as they think the result will stimulate American interest in the Kiel regatias. George Von L. Davis hit to Card, who caught Young by throwing the ball to third, leaving Davis on first. Teabo came in then for a two-begger that brought Davis across the plate. Fenton came up first in Multnomah's half of the inning and lined a safe hit out to left field, where Larsen let the ball go past him into the wild regions of the tennis courts. While he and Neafus were chasing the sphere, young Fenton went around the bags for a run. In the fifth, Multnomah went clear to nouse for a safe hit, and Card let Neafus get on the bags by his error. Raub reached first on a fielder's choice, which allowed Regan to score. Young in his turn sent the ball over Cook's head in center field, and Morris and Raub came in for two more runs.

Fenton also opened the sixth inning for Multnomah, this time by a hit that landed him on third. Dobie hit to Davis, who tried to head Fenton off at the plate, and would have succeeded in putting him out, but Teabo dropped the ball and gave Multnomah their second and last run. In the seventh, Raub made a hit and was batted around the bags by Young and Davis. Morris in the eighth made a hit and scored from third on a passed ball by Stott. The score: M. A. A. C.

A SUCCESSFUL TOUCH.

The Hobo's Plea Was Too Good to Fail.

Representative J. A. Beidler, of Ohio, has filed away among his valuable archives a recollection of the most unique "touch" that any Congressman ever had, says the Washington Star. Beldler has one of the finest stock farms in Ohio. More than one traveler along the Lake Shore Railroad has brightened his eyes looking at the fine buildings and acres of growing crops.

But about the "touch."

A "Wandering Wille" appeared at the loor of the Beidler chateau last Summer and asked for something to do. The goodnatured lawmaker took him in. The fel-low worked hard for a couple of weeks, and on a Saturday night went to Willough-by, the nearest town, and dailled with the tempter. He was a bright fellow. At one time he said he had practiced law. A few days after the fellow quit work on the farm Beldler looked up from his desk in his office in Cleveland and was surprised to see the man he had employed.

"What can I do for you?" Beidler saked, "Just a little instrument that I want to bring to your attention," was the reply.

Beidler took it and read it. This was what it contained: Know all persons by these presents-Greetman man succeeded in stealing second.

Five died in the attempt to do so.

Neither side succeeded in scoring in the first three innings, both teams playing glit-edge bail. Multnomah had the best of the hitting in the first two innings.
