PORTLAND CREW SECOND

VICTORIA OARSMEN CAPTURE SENIOR-FOUR RACE AT NELSON.

Canadians Make Even Faster Time Than They Did Yesterday in the Junior-Four Event.

NELSON, B. C., July 26.—(Special.)—The conditions for the second day of the regatta left nothing to be desired, and the events were pulled off without a hitch. Victoria won the senior-four race from Portland by a scant two lengths in the surprising time of 7:57, with the Vancouvers at least six lengths behind Portland, rowing about 35, and Vancouver nearly out. These strokes were soon slightly lowered, and all crews rowed in splendid form until the mile was reached, where Victoria led Portland by nearly five lengths. At this point, Stiles, the Portland stroke, called for a spurt, and it looked as if the splendid performance of last year was to be repeated, but the Victoria oarsmen pulled themselves together when it seemed the race was lost to them, and their fine condition enabled them to win and still further lower the exceedingly fast time made by them yesterday in the junior race. Their performance is generally conceded to be the best ever made on the Pacific Coast.

TIGERS GET THE SERIES.

Again Helena Succumbs to the Tail-enders.

TACOMA, Wash., July 26.—The Tigers took the series today by playing errorless ball and batting Slagle at will. "Youngey" Johnson, who succeeded White in the fourth inning, had the Senators at his mercy, allowing but one hit and no walks. Fisher and Andrews' fielding were features of the game. The score:

BAKER CITY, Or., July 26.—(Special.)—The Inland Empire League game here this afternoon between Baker City and Walla Walla was a fine contest, so far as the score was concerned, but the playing was exceedingly poor on both sides. In the third both sides scored, Baker City making three and Walla Walla one, making the score a tie. This state of affairs lasted until the eighth inning, when Baker City made two runs and changed the score to 5 to 3 in favor of the home team. PORTLAND WINS CRICKET

TACOMA ELEVEN EASY GAME FOR HOME TEAM.

Good Fielding on Both Sides—Star Catch by Amy—Lumgair's Fine Bowling.

On a hard, springy wicket two elevens representing Portland and Tacoma played a cricket match yesterday on the Multnomah Club grounds, and Portland won an easy victory by one inning and five runs.

Barring one unfortunate accident, the game was a pleasant one in every respect, and was marked by good comradeship. Tacoma won the toss, and Captain Patullo sent Corbett and Davidson to defend the wickets against the bowling of Lawrence and Lumgair. Alexander Gavin was wicketkeeper, and according to the traditions of the game he did not wear a mask. The very first ball Lawrence sent to Corbett banged against the batter's glove and struck Gavin in the face before he had a chance to catch it. He dropped like a log, in a dazed condition, and was assisted off the field with one eyebrow badly cut. "Never mind me. Go on with the game," was all that Gavin said when his friends asked him how he felt, after restoratives had been applied. He watched the game for the remainder of the day. The incident is a striking example of the need there is of every wicketkeeper having his face protected with a mask, similar to that used by a baseball catcher. There is no reason why such a mask should not be used, except that foolish old-fashioned prejudice stands in the way. Yet wicketkeepers persist in standing behind a batter, facing a ball sent with all the speed of which a bowler is capable. No wonder men are hurt. Why cannot the cricketers of the Pacific Coast have the moral courage to insist that their wicketkeepers shall have their faces protected by a mask, and their hands protected by a modified form of baseball catcher's glove, without waiting for fashion to change in England?

Three runs were got off Lawrence's first over, but Corbett fell a victim to a shooter from Barfoot, which slid from his pads into the wickets, after he had scored seven. Davidson played a cautious game, and from his steady defense was dubbed "Stonewall Jackson." His 16 runs were got by careful play, and Cawston disposed of him by a pretty catch. Saulez proved to be the star for his side, and he hit out well for his 23. The other batters could not do much with Lawrence and Lumgair, and the inning closed for 87.

Lumgair and Seager faced the Tacoma bowlers, and began to hit heavily, but after two singles, one four and a double, Lumgair sent a hot and hard catch to Patullo, who promptly held it. Seager, Lawrence and Fenwick played brilliantly. Seager's defense was the prettiest seen in Portland for a considerable time. Fenwick surprised his friends by his defense, and in his 53 he rapidly tired out the bowlers. His score included no less than eight fours, boundary hits, and he was warmly applauded when he retired, after a shooter from Corbett. In disposing of Cawston before he could score, Amy ran after and secured a difficult catch, with one hand. It was the best bit of play in the game. Barfoot and Gilman played fine cricket for their contribution to the score, especially Barfoot, who had two fours and two threes. The Portlands finished the inning, 70 runs ahead.

To give the Tacomas a chance to catch up, the Portlands allowed them a second inning, but Amy was the only man who made a good stand. His 25 included one four—largely due to an overthrow—two threes, six doubles and three ones. The bowling, especially that of Lumgair, was dead on the wicket, and try as they might the Tacomas could not make the necessary number of runs, the last wicket falling for 65. All was over. The fielding on both sides was neat and clean. Amy was the star catcher. About 1 o'clock lunch was served by the Portlands under a shady strip of canvas.

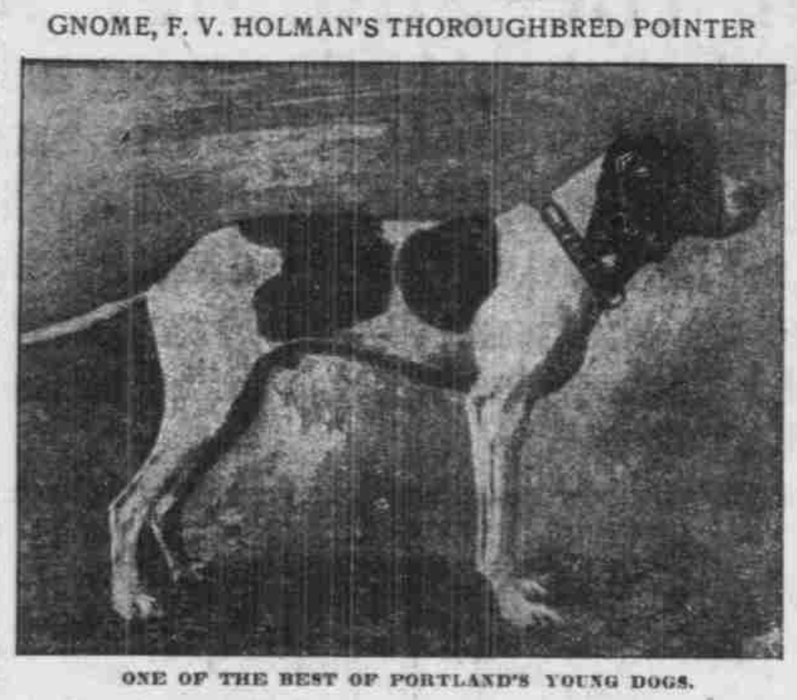
GNOME, F. V. HOLMAN'S THOROUGHBRED POINTER



ONE OF THE BEST OF PORTLAND'S YOUNG DOGS.

Gnome is a liver and white thoroughbred pointer, owned by Frederick V. Holman, of Portland. Gnome is out of Bright and Tess, and was whelped July 8, 1901. At the bench show of the Portland Kennel Club held April 16-19, 1902, Gnome was awarded the first prize and special as the best pointer puppy dog in the show, the only class in which he was entered, competing with 19 pointer dog pups. He was also awarded reserve in the winner's class of pointer dogs. This is a very creditable showing for a pup 9 months old, considering, too, the very fine lot of pointers which he competed against. There were 45 pointer dogs in the show, besides 35 pointer bitches.

ENTRIES FOR TENNIS TOURNEY.

Prospects Good for Fast Matches in Championship Meeting.

Arrangements for the fourth annual championship tennis tournament have been practically completed, and all indications point to the most successful and interesting tournament yet held. The entry list is large, and embraces not only the best local players, but also a number of expert racquet-wielders from other Pacific Northwest cities. The first games commence on Tuesday morning, and from then on the Multnomah courts will be the scene of strife strenuous and continuous.

The greatest interest is centered in the men's singles. A. T. Goward, of Victoria, B. C., is the present holder of the title of champion of Oregon, and his right to be so considered will be vigorously disputed by over 20 ambitious contestants. Most prominent of these are: W. A. Goss, W. A. Bethel, of Portland; R. G. Breeze, of Tacoma, and H. L. Seager, of San Francisco. Each of the top-notchers has his admirers, and considerable speculation is being indulged in by the cranks as to the chances of their respective favorites.

Appearances seem to indicate that W. A. Goss and C. D. Lewis have an excellent opportunity to secure a second leg on the J. Wesley Ladd championship cups for men's doubles, which they so deservedly won last year. A. T. Goward and Lieutenant White, of Victoria, have entered the lists and will endeavor to carry to Victoria these cups and the championship. A number of strong local teams have entered, and the matches throughout this event should be close and interesting. W. A. Bethel and M. C. Cheal have been practicing faithfully for this event, and will be a factor to be considered.

Interest in the ladies' events is keener than usual, because of the improved playing ability of the contestants. Miss Corstens will defend her title to the championship. Miss Atkinson, of Philadelphia, has entered in all the events. In 1897 and 1898 Miss Atkinson with her sister, Juliette Atkinson, won the women's championship of the United States in doubles. It is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty the outcome of these events, but it seems not improbable that Goward and Miss Carstens will carry away the honors in mixed doubles.

The drawings will be made Monday, and the schedule of the first day's matches will be announced in Tuesday's Morning Oregonian. A partial list of entries follows:

Men's singles—W. A. Bethel, J. W. Ladd, C. S. Walker, Walter Cook, James F. Ewing, H. L. Seager, B. H. Wickersham, R. A. Leiter, P. H. Carroll, A. T. Goward, Lieutenant White, W. A. Goss, C. D. THE DAY'S RACES.

Third Classic Won This Season by Gold Heels.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Gold Heels, this year's winner of the Suburban Handicap and the Brighton Handicap, added another classic to his credit by easily winning the Brighton Cup, worth $10,000, at Brighton Beach today. He pulled up very lame and it is doubtful if he is again seen in a race this year. The day was ideal for a race gathering, and 20,000 persons were present. Only a few moments were wasted at the post. Sunshower was first to show, but Odom, on Gold Heels, sent him to the front, and, passing the stand the first time, the McLewee horse was leading by a length. Sunshower raced up to him turning into the back stretch, but soon found the pace too hot, and fell back beaten, as far as first money was concerned. Gold Heels had only to gallop the rest of the distance to win by 10 lengths. The fight for second money was hot. Sunshower lasted long enough to secure the place by a length. Summary:

For maiden fillies, 3 years old, five furlongs, selling—Clipper won, Ace of Spades second, Fonleni third; time, 1:01.

International Chess.

HANOVER, July 26. — The contestants engaged in the international chessmasters' tournament were this morning paired for the fifth round of the contest, according to the eighth round of the Berber schedule. At the first adjournment, which was taken at 1 o'clock this afternoon, only one game had been decided, Gunsberg having resigned to Suechting, while Pillsbury had a decided advantage on the fifth board against Popiel. The rest of the games were left in even positions.

When play was given over for the day the following additional results had been recorded:

Marshall beat Napier, Mieses and Janowski drew, Popiel lost to Pillsbury, Swiderski disposed of Tschigorin, Mason gained his first half point by drawing with Gottschall; Levin worsted Cohn, the game between Wolff and Atkins was drawn and Olland and Bardeleben adjourned their contest a second time. Olland had much the better position, and ought to win when playing is resumed.

Australia Wins Test Cricket.

LONDON, July 26.—Australia won the test cricket match with England by three rounds. The finish was the most sensational ever witnessed in England. This morning the Australians were dismissed for 86 runs in their second innings and the Englishmen set about the task of making up the 123 runs which were required to make them winners, but they barely failed to accomplish this, owing to a rain-sodden wicket.

Shooting at Bisley.

LONDON, July 26.—The last stage of the shooting for the King's prize at the National Rifle Association meeting at Bisley was favored by good weather today. Johnson's score was 307. In the shoot-off, Samways won second place with 305, and McCallum was third. The match was concluded under the most trying conditions. The wind increased to a steady gale, carrying away targets and blowing scoring board and umbrellas about the range.

Fish and Leprosy.

Medical Record.

A discussion of leprosy was held at a recent meeting of the Medico-Chirurgical Society of London, the special point discussed being the etiology of the disease. According to a report cabled to the New York Times, Dr. Hansen, of Bergen, contended that leprosy was entirely contagious, and that to prove Hutchinson's theory it would be necessary to discover the bacillus of leprosy in the cured fish. He declared that the people of Norway were now eating more fish than ever before, yet leprosy was fast disappearing because of its strict segregation. He said that several Norwegian lepers had emigrated to the United States, and that their descendants were unleprous, which went to prove that leprosy was not hereditary, but simply contagious. Dr. Thin also supported the contagion theory. Mr. Jonathan Hutchinson, however, stoutly reiterated his belief, which he said had been strengthened by his recent researches in South Africa, that leprosy resulted from eating badly cured fish. He declared his faith that the leprous bacillus would soon be found in the fish, and he reasserted his reasons from his experience for not believing the disease to be contagious.

Necessity is the mother of invention, but it is a wise invention that provides for its own father.—Ohio State Journal.

IT SCARES PEOPLE

Who come of a consumptive family when they begin to cough and the lungs are painful. But it is a fact beyond disproof that consumption is not and cannot be inherited. The microbe which breeds disease must absolutely be received by the individual before consumption can be developed.

Men and women who have been afflicted with obstinate coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, emaciation and weakness, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures the cough, heals the lungs, and builds up the body with solid flesh.

"When I commenced taking your medicines, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Doctor Pierce's medicines. I bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better, then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."
