to head off Hannivan and at the same time Flannery started for second. Vigneux saw that Hannivan had returned to third, so he threw to Anderson to get Flannery. Hannivan tried to take advantage of the play and score, but Anderson was too quick for him and got the ball back to Vigneux in time to cut off the runner.

Light Box in the Sixth. In the sixth Portland pulled out of a tight box after Flannery and Shaffer, the first two men up, had made singles. With two men on the bases and none but it looked as if Helena would certainly score, but two flies to Van Buren and one to Wood settled the next three men. Things became dangerous in the eighth when single put Peoples and Flannery on the bases. Shaffer hit to Deisel and Flannery was caught at second. Anderson threw wide to first to get Shaffer and Peoples scored. Holly hit past second and Van Buren ran up to get the ball, but it got away from him and Shaffer scored. Partridge ended the inning by striking out, and Helena went out into the field with Portland but one run ahead. The ninth failed to give them the necessary run to tie, so Sammy Vigneux carried off the honors, and his team is again alone in third place, while the two Jacks, Flannery and Grim, are

The Associated Press is authorized to give most emphatic contradiction to the report that J. Pierpont Morgan intends to retire from active business life on his return from Europe to the United States.

The confessed inefficiency of the postal telegraph service is revealed in a circular of instruction to the effect that a considerable percentage of the 3000 operators employed in the central office at London are inexperienced and inefficient, and directs operators at outside offices to adapt their rate of working to the capacity of receivers in the central office. Austen Chamberlain, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, endeavored to explain the matter in the House of Commons on the theory that there must always be many recruits employed, but older telegraphers deny this, and point out that years of instruction were required formerly, while now only three months is exacted before actual service is begun. The inefficiency, it is asserted, is due wholly to new economics undertaken in the department,

FIVE CANDIDATES IN THE RACE FOR QUEEN OF THE ELKS' CARNIVAL

Miss Louisa Mountain

Miss Carrie Burgoyne

Miss Octavia Downing

Miss Maybelle Douglass

Miss Grace Walton

The first count of votes for "Queen of the Carnival" was taken yesterday at noon, and was as follows: Miss Maybelle Douglass, 122; Miss Grace Walton, 85; Miss Carrie Burgoyne, 15; Miss Louisa Mountain, 14. Two more candidates—Miss Sadie L. Ridgeway and Miss Octavia Downing—have entered the race, and will appear in the next count. Much interest is being taken in the race for Queen of the Carnival, and the management say that the supporters of the various candidates are holding back their votes and will spring their voice in the history of the Portland ball team the lady were able to hit at the right time. All but one of the hits made by the locals were made in the third inning, when three singles and two doubles scored the four runs that won the game.

will roll up a vote that will be a surprise. Miss Downing is in charge of the guests' telephone booth at the Portland Hotel, and it may well be supposed that the many patrons of the hotel and also the people connected with the telephone company will support her. If they start out with the intention of electing her they will not get it easy, and she can let his count have his head, and in a twinkling he bounded forward and opened a gap of two lengths on the favorite. Rounding into the stretch Hyphen was galloping, while the Major was under whip and spur, until Shaw, realizing he had no chance to win, eased up his mount. Hyphen galloped home, four lengths in front of Major Daingerfeld, who beat Homestead nearly a sixth of a mile. Johnnie Fleischman's Furstbourne, the favorite, won the Brighton Junior stakes at six furlongs by a head from Blue Ribbon. The race was worth $10,000. Summary: Five furlongs—Sovereign won, Mount Kisco second, Monte Carlo third; time, 1:31 2-5. Mile and a sixteenth, selling—Lucet won, Khalid finished third; time, 1:43 1-4. Athleta finished third; but was disqualified for fouling. The Brighton Junior stakes of $10,000, for 2-year-olds, six furlongs—Hurstbourne, 17, Wilfer, 16, Blue Ribbon, 16, Odum, 16 to 1 and 4 to 1 second; Wood Lake, 16, E. Burns, 30 to 1 third; time, 1:33. Tanbulus Cup, Prediction, Artvis and Delemann also ran. The Brighton Derby stakes of $10,000, for 3-year-olds, mile and a quarter—Hyphen, 111, Odum, 6 to 1, won; Major Daingerfeld, 13, Shaw, 4 to 1, second; Homestead, 111, L. Jackson, 8 to 1, third; time, 2:04 1-5. Only three starters. Handicap, six furlongs—Songster won, Demurrer second, Sin Finn third; time, 1:21 1-5. Mile and a sixteenth—Lord Badge won, Amie Grace second, Amintie third; time, 1:42. Selling, five furlongs—Bismarck won, Mount Hope second, Squid third; time, 1:31 1-5.

Miss Mountain is a Woodlawn belle, and has expressed it as her intention to use the prize, should she receive it, to complete her medical education. She has a large circle of influential friends who will give her their hearty support. The fact that she wishes to make this practical use of the prize will give her the votes of many. Miss Burgoyne is held in high esteem by her many friends, and they will not see her lose without making a hard struggle. Miss Downing and Miss Ridgeway are somewhat handicapped by the late start they have made, but they will both be well supported by their circles of friends, and the next count is expected to show that their late start has not put them out of the race.

Helena teams, and this time it was Portland's turn to carry off the victory. The contest yesterday broke the season's record in this city for the length of time consumed in deciding which was the better team. But 70 minutes were required to play the game, a remarkably fast record, considering the number of runs made.

With the exception of some poor work by Ziegler in the first two innings the playing by both teams was brilliant throughout. Fast fielding was the order of the day. Both Werner and Single were in good form and did good box work. Hannivan got to first on a hit and Peoples followed by lining the ball out to Deisel, who quickly touched second and sent the ball to Weed, retiring both the baserunners. Following this came some hard work on the part of Ziegler. Flannery hit to him and he threw wide to first and the Helena manager got to second on that part of the play. Ziegler continued to make matters worse when he dropped the ball when returned to him by Weed, and let Flannery get to third. With Shaffer facing the pitcher with his telephone pole bat it looked as if Helena could not help but score, but a foul fly to Muller ended the inning. Muller ended the inning. Muller ended the inning. Muller ended the inning.

New Umpire Does Good Work. Chauncey Fisher, the new league umpire, arrived on the scene and officiated at yesterday's game. Fisher made a good impression at his first appearance and umpired a good game. He is an experienced pitcher with a long reputation, having been on the slab for nearly all of the big Eastern teams.

Portland's Ten-Strike in Third. It was in the third that Portland made its ten-strike. Vigneux, the first man up, was retired at first. Pitcher Werner started the excitement by sending the ball past third base for a single. Harry Hannivan placed at first to do the running for him. Max Muller still stuck to his old place of hitting the ball and sent it along the line of first base like a shot out of a cannon, which netted him a couple of bags and brought Harris across the plate. Van Buren also got a two-sacker by putting the ball along the opposite corner of the diamond. Weed's rap to center-field brought Muller across the plate. Anderson was the last man to get a hit. He also liked the looks of third base, and the sphere went singing from his bat just over Holly's head. The over-present third baseman got his hands on the ball, but it was too hot to rest in his fingers and Van Buren and Weed scored. Ziegler struck out and Harris was retired at first. After that Single batted up and not a Webster got a hit and only two got on the base.

Oregon City Meets Portland Today. OREGON CITY, Aug. 2.—At Canemah Park tomorrow afternoon the local nine will play the All-Star team of Portland. The visitors are picked men from the Monogram, Upchurch and Fidelity teams, and expect to beat Oregon City. The ball grounds at the park were enclosed this week, and a grandstand erected. The lineup will be as follows: All-Star Position Oregon City; Shavin, P.; Gillis, C.; Parrott, B.; Stevens, S.; Rankin, G.; Gates, B.; Oliver, P.; Parrott, C.; Rapp, D.; Putter, R.; Gillis, C.

Pitcher Salisbury Released. Manager Vigneux yesterday handed Pitcher Salisbury's release from the pitching staff of the Portland team. While Salisbury is a good twirler, he has not been pitching winning ball since re-joining the team, and the management thought it best to dispense with his services.

history. In the third heat of the $50,000 race between Lord Derby, owned by E. E. Smith, of New York, and Boralma, of which Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, is the owner, the latter horse sustained an injury which caused him to be drawn, and the race was given to Lord Derby. The result was a bitter disappointment, not only to the owner of the Boston horse, but to the general public, which to the number of 15,000 congregated at Charter Oak Park. The injury to Boralma is such that he will probably be prevented from racing for some time. In scoring, the Boston horse gashed the quarter of his right fore leg badly, and was unable to start in the fourth heat.

The day was perfect for racing. A light breeze prevailed, but it was not strong enough to interfere with the speed of the horses. The track was in splendid shape, and everything was favorable to record-breaking time. Among celebrities who occupied boxes were William C. Whitney and B. F. Tracy, both ex-Secretaries of the Navy.

Lord Derby was a hot favorite in the betting. Just before the first heat odds of 2 to 1 were freely offered on him. When Boralma won the first heat the odds were even, and at the close of the second heat, which was won by Lord Derby, they shifted decidedly in favor of the latter.

The racers came on the track shortly after 2 o'clock, both being greeted by prolonged cheering. Geers, driving Lord Derby, won the race for position, and chose the pole. After scoring three times, during which Geers showed a disposition to hold back Lord Derby, Starter Walker gave the word to go. The Boston horse outstripped Lord Derby from the first. He took possession of the pole at the first turn and held it all the way. The horses were about a length apart until the home stretch was reached. As they came toward the wire Lord Derby swerved and broke, and Boralma came under the wire four lengths ahead in 2:08. Lord Derby's horse followed gamely and rallied, but the rally was followed by a break, and he crossed the wire two lengths behind Lord Derby. In this heat Boralma showed signs of lameness. Time, 2:09 1/2.

In the third heat Boralma once more took the lead at the start, but his advantage was short-lived. He broke at the first turn and again at the stretch. As Walker gave the word to go, the Boston horse followed gamely and rallied, but the rally was followed by a break, and he crossed the wire two lengths behind Lord Derby. In this heat Boralma showed signs of lameness. Time, 2:09 1/2.

As soon as the heat was over the announcer called for a veterinary surgeon. Dr. Low, of Boston, responded, and found that Boralma had been so badly injured that he could race no more today. Consequently, with the consent of the judges, he was drawn.

In order to fulfill the requirements of the match, Lord Derby trotted the next heat alone, and was then awarded the victory. After the last heat had been trotted, Lord Derby, accompanied by a runner, trotted an exhibition mile in 2:38.

After the accident Boralma was taken to his quarters and Dr. Low set to work on the animal. He said the wound was not so serious as it appeared, and that he would be unable to tell just when the accident occurred, but was of the opinion that it occurred at the three-quarter pole. John Bosch, Mr. Lawson's representative, said that the injury to Boralma would undoubtedly prevent the race between the Boston horse and The Abbot day is furnished by advices from Trinidad to the effect that a deputation is starting from there for London to make a strong presentation to the Colonial Office on the island's financial condition. The party includes influential members of the Legislative Council and the president of the island's Chamber of Commerce, who are charged to point out the inadequacy of the £41,000 refund of the immigration tax which it is proposed to allot to the island. The loss on the sugar crop just gathered is estimated at £150,000, while the planters must continue to lose at the same rate for an indefinite period or be obliged to throw 50,000 laborers on the hands of the government. The deputation was requested to remind the Colonial Secretary that if Trinidad was taken under the American flag, like Porto Rico, the sugar estates could be run at a profit.

There was an interesting ceremony at Windsor Castle, where the Duke of Marlborough had forwarded a banner to be placed over the bust of his famous ancestor, John Churchill, the first Duke of Marlborough. This ceremony is necessary each year, and by carrying it out, the head of the Churchill family retains possession of the title of Duke, which was granted by Parliament to the great military leader.

Calmer estimates of the significance of the unprecedented Liberal victory in last week's Parliamentary election in Leeds indicates little real basis for the alleged renewed hopes that the Liberals are gaining control of the government. The Liberator has been soundly lectured and soundly warned this week, not only by its opponents, but also by some of its journalistic supporters; but the opposition's enthusiastic prophecies about early setting together of all branches of the opposition were pretty effectually quelled by Lord Rosebery's dispassionate reiteration that he has no intention of abandoning the imperialistic platform, and the equally stubborn contention of the Radicals that they will not relinquish home rule as a standard party issue.

In politely deploring Lord Rosebery's utterances, the Liberator organ soundly remarked: "We do not think Lord Rosebery quite realizes the passionate desire for unity that exists among Liberals throughout the country, nor the passionate desire to arrive at it with or without leadership."

The paper accedes the Liberal leaders for their folly in splitting hairs, at a time when the government is floundering in the labyrinth of the patched-up education bill, and is "revealed to the country to be without aim or policy."

At a meeting of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, the chairman, Francis A. Bevan, said nothing had occurred so far as he knew to alter the opinion of the directors that, although wireless telegraphy would carry a certain class of telegrams, such as those between ships or between ships and the shore, there was no reason apparent why it would compete with the cable. During a conversation the other day with Lord Kelvin, the latter said to Mr. Bevan: "I have given careful consideration to this subject, and I do not believe the shareholders of your company need be alarmed at the prospect of wireless telegraphy."

Surgeon-General Hamilton, before a meeting of the British Medical Association at Manchester, yesterday, definitely charged that General Sir Redvers Buller, during the Boer War of 1881, used Army medical wagons with the red cross in question for taking ammunition to the front, and armed the bearer companies, using them as escorts. The funeral services in memory of J. Watts, the one-time well-known and successful jockey, were held at Newmarket this afternoon in the presence of a remarkable gathering. The King sent Lord Marcus Hereford especially to represent him, and wreaths were sent by the King, Lord Rosebery, Sir Edgar Vincent and others. Many notable persons and almost the entire town of Newmarket marched in the funeral procession. John Watts was known as "The Grand Old Man" of the English turf, although he was only 71 years of age at the time of his death. He rode Derby winners four times in 19 years. In 1891 he rode 114 winners. When he became too stout to ride he became a trainer, and served in that capacity for the King.

THE FLAGLER MILLIONS.

Foundlings Establish Kinship to Millionaire's Deceased Wife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Evidence, hundreds of pages of it, has been taken by J. R. Hedger, referee, who has prepared his report for the Supreme Court as to kinship of relatives of Ida Flagler, formerly wife of Henry M. Flagler, of the Standard Oil Company. The estate of Mrs. Flagler, which has been in charge of committees since she was declared to be incompetent, amounted to $2,570,000 on August 4, 1892, and has increased. The net income runs from $18,000 to $20,000 a year.

An important point in the proceeding was whether Mr. Flagler had, through his divorce, lost his interest in the estate of his wife if she should die first. Mr. Flagler laid no claim to such an interest, but the question had not been judicially determined. The referee will report that Mr. Flagler has no interest whatever in the estate.

A mass of evidence was sifted as to how the three foundlings, who are nephews of Mrs. Flagler, came to learn of their relationship. Mrs. Flagler's maiden name was Shourds. Her sister, Mary Emma Taylor, died on February 28, 1864, and Mary's husband, Edward W. Taylor, gave the custody of their three sons, William, Richard and George, to the New York Foundling Asylum. Ten years later they were apprenticed to farmers in Iowa. In 1901, William, who had become a harness-maker, became interested in his family tree, and the discovery of his relationship to Mrs. Flagler followed. Richard, one of the three foundlings, is a painter, while the third is an engineer on the Northern Pacific Railroad.

The relatives, as judicially determined, of Mrs. Flagler, and the proper coach will get of her estate if she dies, and Charles E. Shourds, brother, one-quarter; Stephen E. Shourds, brother, one-quarter; Mrs. Mattie A. Johnson, sister, one-quarter; and the other quarter will go among the three Taylors.

The referee advises that $4000 a year of income be paid now to the three Taylors, so that each will get a third of it. The two brothers and sister of the income have previously obtained orders for $4000 a year each from the surplus income of Mrs. Flagler. All charges against the income of Mrs. Flagler, including allowances made for her support, leave a surplus income of about $60,000 a year.

taken up yesterday, and Mr. Kinney made his first payment. The property includes 97,000 acres of timber land and most of the platted town of Empire City, including the big sawmill that was built and operated for a time by Elijah Smith. It is owned by the Southern Oregon Company, of which Prosper Smith, brother of Elijah, is the head, his home being in Boston. No official announcement of the price to be paid has been made, but it is said to be the round figure of $600,000. It is also said that this deal is favorable to the success of the Great Central Railroad.

The Great Central Land Company yesterday made the first payment on 490 acres of land between Empire City and Marshfield, on which an option was taken last week. This tract belongs to the Flanagan estate and Dr. Merchant. The land company holds options on 1800 acres of land between Empire City and Marshfield. Thirty-six men are now surveying and platting the tract, and as soon as arrangements can be made the town of Bangor will be laid off there and given legal existence. The Bank of Bangor will be organized this week, and the first issue of the first paper of the new town will also appear this week. The company will soon begin construction of a cut-stone building to house the bank, a trust company and a title company. This structure will be a model that it is expected other buildings in the town will follow.
