

The season's prettiest and most notable college wedding was celebrated in San Francisco August 6, when Frank Branch Riley, of Portland, and Miss Lottie Edith Brand, two of the best-known and most popular Stanford alumnæ, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brand, 2709 Buchanan street. The Rev. Dr. Charles R. Brown, of Oakland, performed the ceremony. The marriage is the culmination of a very pretty romance. Both Mr. and Mrs. Riley were students at Stanford, having entered the freshman class at the same time, and together they were graduated in the class of 1900. The bride is a member of the Alpha Phi Sorority; the groom is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity, and during their student life at Stanford both were prominent in the social, literary and dramatic affairs of the university. Upon the completion of his course at Stanford, Mr. Riley went to Harvard Law School, and after finishing his law studies at that institution traveled to Europe, where he again met his charming classmate, who was visiting her ancestral home in the old country, she being a descendant of an old German military family.

The entire decorations were of pink and white. The young couple stood beneath a canopy of hydrangeas and sweet peas, while an effective background was formed of palms and ferns. Hydrangeas and sweet peas were arranged in every available place in the parlors and reception hall. The artistic effect of the decorations, of which Lyons had charge, was completed by festoons of smilax. The dining-room was also in pink and white. A pretty picture was made by the bride and groom as they stood beneath the canopy. The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with white chiffon and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and her veil was fastened with orange blossoms.

The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Henry, and the bridesmaids, Miss Amy Ferguson and Miss Clinton Stone, were members of the bride's sorority, Alpha Phi. Miss Henry wore white chiffon over pink silk and carried pink carnations. The bridesmaids wore dainty gowns of pink silk, and they also carried pink carnations.

The groomsmen, Dr. Edward C. Swall, of Portland, and the ushers, Charles K. Field, of San Francisco, and Louis Gerlinger, Jr., of Portland, are members of the same college fraternity, Zeta Psi, one of the leading organizations at Stanford.

Souvenir pins for the ushers and attendants of the bride were stick pins of an original design, embodying the emblem of the groom's and bride's fraternities.

After a wedding trip to the principal mountain resorts of the high Sierras Mr. and Mrs. Riley will return to make Portland their home, where Mr. Riley is junior member of the law firm of Riley & Riley.

Swinford, in Ketchikan, Alaska, at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of July 28, where Miss May Agnes Swinford, of Ketchikan, and Mr. Allen Shattuck, of Juneau, Alaska, were united in marriage by Judge J. S. Stackpole. The bride is the only and accomplished daughter of ex-Governor and Mrs. A. F. Swinford, while the groom is a well-known and successful business man of Juneau, where he has resided for the past four years, previous to which time he was a resident of Graham, Or. WILL GO ON THE STAGE.
Talented Oregon Elocutionist to Become an Actress.
BAKER CITY, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Miss Lucy Edwards, the talented young elocutionist of this city, has decided to accept a very flattering offer to go on the stage. She will leave about the first of September for Chicago, where she will probably attend a dramatic school for the short time, and then she will go to Indianapolis and enter a drama company under the tutelage of her cousin, who is manager of the company. Miss Edwards is a Baker City girl in whom all the citizens take pride, because she has grown up among them and, by pluck and perseverance, has made her way to the front rank as an elocutionist. She is a graduate of the Willamette University, having finished the course with first honors in June last. It has always been her ambition to go on the stage, and in order that she might be prepared to acquit herself creditably, she has worked hard to acquire an education to fit her to adorn the profession. Her ideal of an actress is Maud Adams, and her friends hope she may attain to the prominence of that talented little lady.
