

The police have abandoned the theory that Bartholin is dead, and Police Inspector Hunt, in whose district is the home of Mrs. Bartholin, declared tonight that he was confident the man is alive and has not left Chicago. The clerk of a real estate agent, one of whose clients holds a mortgage on the property of Mrs. Bartholin, met William Bartholin in front of the ho ise on the morning of July 11 or, August 1, he does not remember which This fact causes the police to believe that they will capture him soon, as he has had less than one week's start of them. There is no apparent motive for the killing of Mrs. Bartholin or of Minnie Mitchell, but the police are following every possible theory. The one that finds most favor at present is that the young man, being in debt, killed his mother in order that her equity on the mortgaged property might revert to him. While this ory will not cover the murder of the Mitchell girl in any way, the police be-lieve that Bartholin had the idea that she either suspected him of killing his mother or that she had taken him to task for ing conflicting stories regarding her disappearance. Bartholin and his me not on good terms, although they in the same house. Beyond a desire Were to inherit her property, however, there is at present no known motive for the mur-

STABBED IN HIS OFFICE.

Chicago Man Receives Fatal Wound From a Paper Knife.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9. - Walter A. Scott, president of the Illinois Wire Company, was stabbed to death in his private office in the Monadnock building today by Walter L. Stebbings, a civil and consulting engineer, with offices in the same building. Mr. Stebbings had done some work for the Illinois Wire Company, over which there had been a dispute. The two men had a guarrel and Stebbings, it is said, called Scott a liar. There was a scuffle and the two burst from the 'private office, blood flowing from Scott's wounds. He had been stabbed twice. Stebbings made no attempt to escape.

Stebbings, when arrested, said he had struck Scott in self-defense, and that he had not intended injuring him seriously The fight was witnessed by Miss Myrtle Shumate, a stenographer in Scott's office, who ran screaming into the hall. Occupants of the other offices notified the police, who placed Stebbings under arrest. According to Miss Shumate's story, the two men were in Scott's private office for mearly an hour disputing over a claim for $3000. Suddenly the door was thrown open, and the men staggered into the outer office, kicking each other and using their fists. Stebbings held a long steel paper-knife in his right hand, and the weapon could be seen fashing as the men struggled. Suddenly Stebbings struck Scott in the body. The blow was re-peated a moment later. Scott staggered backward, and fell to the floor. He died within half an hour.

It appears that the matter has never far as a recommendation from General Miles, though some officer of the Inspector-General's Department, if not General Breckenridge himself, has made the suggestion of removal, giving as a reason the friction that sometimes arises between the headquarters and post officers. The statement by the Adjutant-General, however, effecutally disposes of the matter for some time to come fully alive to the threatened removal of the Army headquarters from Vancouver. Scattic will not have any opportunity to steal a march in the matter. The Cham-ber of Commerce has had its weather eye peeled ever since the rumors started. The Board of Trade also has the danger well surveyed.

"The nendquarters will not go to Se said President Beach, of the Board of Trade, vesterday. "The question has had a permanent place in our counsels for some time.

The Army officers at Vancouver are not saying anything for publication, but it is understood that they desire very much to move to a large city. Portland is said to be their preference. It was intimated yesterday to a reporter that they would pull for this city as much as their situatio nwould permit.

The advisability of Portland's exerting itself to get the headquarters has been seriously discussed by leading business men here. Some of them are not in favor of working for the change, arguing that well enough should be left alone. Others believe that Portland must wheld its in-Others fluence in order to offset that of Seattle Still others argue that Portland has advantages for the headquarters, which i should not be afraid to put forward. This city has the best trading and jobbing faclittles in the Northwest, they say, if it cannot make them prevail against those of Scattle, it should put up the blinds and go out of business
