THESE YOU ALL HAVE SEEN

RURAL CELEBRITIES TO BE SEEN AT ELKS' FAIR.

Village Philosophers, Sintesmen and Politicians Will Be There-Vote for Carnival Queen.

You'll meet with the oddest characters you have ever seen or heard of outside of the books-unless you have been way down East in your time-at the "country down East in your time—at the "country store" in the Portland Elks Cernival. Have you any appreciation whatever of the general emporium of news and trade in a way down East village? The crossroads store, where gather the patriarchs of the heighborhood to settle every question. National or international, that comes up, and incidentally to swap haif a dozen eggs for knitting needles and get a pint of sorghum, on time, was an important factor in the life of a back-woods community which, in this day of woods community which, in this day of modern communication, can scarcely be fully appreciated by up-to-date people.

As nearly as possible a faithful reproduction of the country store, such as our great-grandfathers knew, will be gotten up as one of the novelties for the Port-land feir. The oracle at Carnival head-quarters knows about it. Testerday he gave some idea of who's who and what's to be what in the country store resort.

Do you know Julia Ann Hobucken, postnistress? Her of corkscrew curls, pointed nose, spectacles and rasping voice? Her who, when she had a letter for you had studied the stamp carefully to see where it was from and promptly to see where it was from and promptly informed all her acquaintances in the neighborhood that you had received a letter inst week from Bosting? Her who notwithstanding her obliging ways in some respects, rend all the postal cards and knew at sight everything and everyand thew at agent everything and the office? body that passed in or out of the office? Julia will be there in all her old-time quaintness taking care of real mail. If, when you call for letters, and she asks you impertinent questions, you are suped to submit politely to her inquisi tions. She realizes the importance of her trust and is careful to see that you have a good excuse for getting a letter.

Puddin' Head Pete-he's the fiddlerhe's coming over with his instrument and you will behold him with his feet on the cracked old stove with a cat and a sog under his chair, scraping away on the tunes you have heard of but have property. He had advanced $5% to Ebnot heard for many years.

Dick Clifficot will weigh out the sugar and make the bargains. The sugar is guaranteed to have not over 3 per cent of sond in it, and the prunes will not be imitation. Molasses will be dispensed at current prices. Betweentimes of waiting on his customers. Dick will take a hand in the political discussion of the crowd of whittlers. Dick's the circus man, you know, and many's the reminis-cent tale he will tell of the time he traveled all of 30 miles south with "them snow Dick can drive as sharp a bargain as anybody.

bargain as anybody.

In the back room, for those who want it, will be a barrel of fresh cider, which Si Hopkins says he's going to send down as a substitute for Bull Run. There will be real old pumpkin ples like Aunt Jane Smith used to bake. A certificate will accompany each one that they contain no sawdust, and if Jim Henry's wife will send same of her doughnuts to the will send some of her doughnuts to the store the jury will see that a fair verdict is returned as to her cooking. Si Devers is going to give away samples of coffee for the weary and nungry. Dried apples and peaches and currants, senns and bacon will be sold as reasonably as the storekeeper can afford it.

Vote for Carnival Queen.

While the number of ballots that have been cast for Queen of the Carnival during the past five days would seem to indicate that the contest is going slowly the contest is nearing and each candidate is believed to have then shown her real strength there will be surprises all 'round. A shrewd political manipulater might gain points from observing closely team that will appear. Their work is enpaying for a coup may be likewise preparing for a coup and the rivalry for the prize of $500 will, therefore, become intense before the final count. The canvass of the ballots made at noon yesterday revealed no asimuth. vass of the ballots made at noon yester-day revealed no astounding gains. The public is voting fairly well. There were no votes for Miss Harriet B. Sprague. The standing of the candidates follows:

Miss Maybelle Douglas ....... 970 Miss Grace Walton
Miss Carrie Burgoyne
Miss Sadie L. Ridgeway Miss Louise Mountain

Total vote cast to date ...... ...2100 Joseph Elks Will Bring a Band.

A letter was received yesterday morn-ing at headquarters from P. O. Sullivan, at Joseph. Or., containing the news that a party of 15 Eiks is being organized at that place to come to Portland. The Joseph people have arranged for a brass band, and will join the La Grande Elks on an excursion, which will arrive in Portland on Monday, Labor day, and remain here all the week, taking in the

Will Take Part in Scattle Carnival. NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 9.-(Special.)—Arrangements have been practically completed for North Yakima's share in the Elks' parade at the Seattle carnival. The members of the local lodge will appear in white flannel suits with purple sunshades. Two little girls, daughters of Ira P. Imglehart and Joseph Stephenson, will appear in white dresses with purple trimmings and purple-trimmed parasols, in a carriage drawn by white horses with purple manes and talls in addition to this, a coterie of real Yakima Indiana from the reservation will be in line.

Shriners' Night at the Carnival. At a special meeting of the Knights of the Mystic Shrine, held last evening, it was decided to accept the invitation of the Elks to turn out as a body on the evening of September 12. SUES TO EXECUTE LEASE J. W. Lindsey Brings Action Against Mrs. E. M. Smith.

J. W. Lindsey has begun suit in the State Circuit Court against Mrs. E. M. Smith to compel her to execute a lease for three years to the upper part of the Occidental Hotel building, at the corner of First and Morrison streets. The complaint recites that in October, 1991, Mrs. Smith, through her agent, George E. Watkins, agreed to lease the upper floors of the building to Lindsey for three years at a rental of $50 per month for the first the building to Lindsey for three years at a rental of $50 per month for the first year. $25 per month for the second year, and $50 per month for the third year. Lindsey was also to make repairs to the structure to the amount of $400. The lease was to begin in July, 1902, Mrs. Robb having possession of the premises until that date. Lindsey avers that he has paid the first month's rent, $39, and that the defendant has refused to execute and deliver the lease. the lease.

Merrill Gets the Fixtures. The argument in the case of Louis Eberling, a bankrupt, as to whether the restaurant fixtures in a saloon at the corner of Sixth and Stark streets, belong to Fred T. Merrill or to the bankrupt, was concluded yesterday morning in the United States District Court. Judge Bellinger decided that the trustee is linger decided that the trustee in bank-ruptcy was entitled to receive for the benefit of Eberling's creditors, the cash register, a clock, a butcher snife and some other small articles, which were named, and Merrill gets the rest of the New Folders on the Northwest. In a new folder issued by the passenger fepartment of the O. R. & N. Company a full page is given to enumerating "Points of Interest in and About Portland." Among these are City Park, Riverview Cemetery, Portland Heights, Mount Tabor, Willamette Heights, St. Johns, Riverside Drive, Oregon City and Williamette Falls, Vancouver Parracks. Willamette Falls, Vancouver Barracks, each of which is briefly described, and then the prominent buildings of the city are named and the location given so that visitors to the city may find them readily. The Union Pacific Railroad has just issued a folder of 63 pages of "Important Information for Farmers, Stockraisers, Manufacturers, Miners, Merchants, Inrestors, Tourists and Amusement Man-ngers," and sent it out with the com-pliments of the passenger department. It covers the lines of the Union Pacific proper, the Oregon Short Line and the O. R. & N. Nine pages are devoted to describing the towns on the O. R. & N. in Oregon and Washington, and a bird's eye view of Portland is given. A new map appears in this folder showing the Harriman lines west of the Mississippi River and giving prominence to Portland.
