Two Men Fire on Officer to Escape Arrest

HE IS SEVERELY WOUNDED

Fosse is Now in Pursuit, and if Successful an Enraged Public May Take the Law in its Own Hands.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Scott Ritchey, deputy sheriff, was shot and badly wounded today at Pendleton, when he was attempting to arrest a man named Fosse, who was attempting to escape arrest. Fosse is now in pursuit, and if successful an enraged public may take the law in its own hands.

Wanted on Warrant from Salem. SALEM, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—A warrant for the arrest of P. P. Mitchell on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses was issued in the Justice Court today on complaint of C. S. Hamilton. Last Wednesday Mitchell came to Salem and announced to several business men that he was a representative of Montgomery Ward & Co., of Chicago, and had come here to open a large department store. He rented a house and then went to Buren & Hamilton to purchase furniture, etc. He ordered the best there was in the house, without asking the price, and agreed to pay the bill, amounting to $300, Friday noon. At that time he made a further agreement to pay the bill, but after that time he could not be found. Buren & Hamilton had delivered two wagonloads of furniture and papered two rooms of the house. They secured possession of the furniture again, but are out $35 on the wall paper. Mitchell is a middle-aged man of attractive personality, and is said to have contracted a number of small debts while in the city. He stated to some of his creditors that the money he was expecting had failed to arrive.

SEWER SYSTEM CONSIDERED.

Baker City Receives Report of Special Engineer.

BAKER CITY, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The City Council met in special session last evening to hear the report of the special city engineer, who has been at work for the past six months making a survey of the city and preparing plans and estimates for a sewerage system. The report, together with the plans and specifications, is very voluminous, but in brief it states that a gravity sewerage system can be put in. The conditions for such a system are not as favorable as could be desired, yet such a system is not only possible but it can be successfully operated. It has been generally feared that, owing to the fact of little fall to Powder River as it passes through and for some distance below the city, that a pumping station would have to be maintained to dispose of the sewerage. The cost of maintaining a gravity system is much less than would be the case were it necessary to employ pumps to keep the drains clear. The method of providing for the cost of constructing the sewer received some consideration on the part of the Council, but no definite plan was agreed upon. The whole matter will come up at a later meeting.

Proposition for Iron Foundry.

The Chamber of Commerce is considering a proposition submitted by L. Rodgers, of the Rogers Iron Works in this city, to establish a machine shop and iron foundry in this city, the first cost of which is not to be less than $50,000 to $60,000 exclusive of the buildings and grounds. The conditions attached to the proposition is that the citizens shall furnish the ground and buildings, which shall be in the shape of a donation or bonus to the company. The necessary buildings will cost about $5000 and they want five acres of ground. The matter has been taken under advisement by the Board of Directors with the understanding that an answer will be given next Wednesday evening.

NEW HEAD OF SCHOOL IN CHARGE.

Superintendent Clark on His Policy for State Institution.

SALEM, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Professor Thomas P. Clarke, the newly-appointed superintendent of the Oregon School for Deaf Mutes, arrived at Salem and took formal possession of the school today. Mr. Clarke has had several years' experience in mute-school work, especially in industrial departments. Superintendent Clarke is a native of Texas and was educated in Massachusetts. He has been a teacher of mutes for 15 years, and comes to Oregon highly recommended by the superintendents of several of the Eastern schools. When asked by the Board of Directors as to the administration of the affairs of the Oregon School for Deaf Mutes, Superintendent Clarke said: "I have a well-defined object in view, which is to make each graduate of this school a self-supporting, respectable citizen of the state, a taxpayer, instead of an expense. In other words, I shall try to make the school a good business investment for the taxpayers of the state; to make it pay in dollars and cents, just as our public schools pay. The returns must, of course, be indirect, but they should be none the less sure. In order to achieve this it is necessary that every graduate should be able to earn a living at some occupation at which he is able to give honest value for every dollar he receives. "Deafness is a decided handicap. That defect renders it impossible for the deaf boy to learn the rudiments of a trade in the same way that his hearing brother does. No one employed in a commercial shop has the time to teach him, and the consequence is that the deaf mutes who receive no industrial training at school, with few exceptions, become 'hewers of wood and drawers of water' to their more fortunate brethren; or, far worse, mere drones supported by charity. We must remember that the whole boy comes to school, and the hands need training as well as the mind. "The educational value of industrial training is no longer a debatable question. It is admitted freely that a judicious change of work from school to shop, and back again, insures a higher standing in the schoolroom, as well as a happier and hence a better child. It is not every tree that can be made into lumber suitable for furniture, neither can every boy become a cabinetmaker. Many of the metals cannot be used in making type, so there are many boys who cannot become printers. "At present this school offers nothing else to the boys, while the girls are taught sewing. Of these three trades, two have been introduced within the past two years. I hope to continue the good work begun under Mr. Wentz by adding more trades to this list and teaching them more thoroughly. Cooking, housework, baking, shoemaking, harnessmaking, tailoring, millinery, painting and decorating are some of the trades which are successfully taught in schools for the deaf. Many of these are peculiarly for boys and girls living in small towns and rural districts. "The graduate of our school who can do a neat job of repairing on shoes, or harness, or can renovate, repair and press a suit of clothes, or make them if desired, can be independent on an investment of $5 or $10 in any community. My one object is that this school shall turn out men and women of whom the State of Oregon may be justly proud, not alone for their mental attainments but for their moral worth and sturdy independence. To accomplish this it is my plan to prove all things as I find them, holding fast to those which are good, crossing no bridges until I get to them and urging no changes except such as become necessary for the good of the school."

THE LOSS IS ADJUSTED.

Pendleton Brewer Announces That He Will Rebuild.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The insurance loss by the Shultz Brewing Company fire, which occurred in this city August 8, was adjusted this afternoon. To accomplish this it is my plan to prove all things as I find them, holding fast to those which are good, crossing no bridges until I get to them and urging no changes except such as become necessary for the good of the school."

Woman Elected From Train.

Miss Belle Adams, of Pittsburg, Pa., who passed through Pendleton yesterday en route to Yellowstone Park via the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company's line, was elected from the train at Gibbon, on the Umatilla Indian reservation, on the ground that she had a scalper's ticket. Two traveling companions, Miss Jessie B. Coventry and James Brownlee, got off with her and returned to Pendleton last night. Here she wired to Pittsburg, and was informed her ticket, which was sold there, and on which she was traveling across the continent, was all right. She went East again today but did not travel on the old ticket.

HEAVY RAIN IN UMATILLA.

Much Wheat Is Thrown Down and Harvesting Ceases.

PENDLETON, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—A severe rain storm prevailed over a large part of Umatilla County last night and today. At Pilot Rock the water ran four inches deep in the streets. The storm was heaviest along the foothills of the Blue Mountains, and the eastern part of the Umatilla reservation. Much wheat has been thrown down and all harvesting operations have ceased. Pendleton is crowded with hundreds of idle harvesters. This evening the storm ceased and a shining sun gives promise that work may begin tomorrow. The damage thus far to wheat is not heavy.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

Washington Philippine Veteran.

ASTORIA, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—A letter was received from Manila today announcing the death of P. M. Indegard, at Calocan, on July 12, from cholera. Mr. Indegard went to the Philippines in 1898 as Sergeant-Major with Company D, First Washington Volunteer Infantry, serving two years, he was mustered out and shortly afterward re-enlisted in the regular service. At the time of his death he was connected with the Quartermaster's Department. The deceased was 35 years of age, and enlisted at Seattle. He leaves two brothers and two sisters, all of whom reside in Astoria. They are Alana and Antonio Indegard, Mrs. John W. Welch and Mrs. J. J. Jorgensen.

Accidentally Shot by Her Sister.

ANAHEIM, Cal., Aug. 16.—Lizzie Hatfield, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatfield, of West Anaheim, was accidentally shot and killed by her sister, a young woman, yesterday afternoon. A 22-caliber rifle had been left in the house, presumably cocked, and the child found the weapon. As she picked it up, it discharged without warning, the bullet striking Lizzie, who was standing directly in front of the gun and penetrating the center of the breast, lodged in the back just beneath the skin. The little sufferer died within 30 minutes.

Runs Over Five Hundred Plovers.

W. B. Peebles, of Vienna, Ala., is one of the largest planters and most prominent men in the South. He runs over 500 plovers on his plantations. "About five years ago," he says, "my infant daughter began cutting teeth, and as is often the case, her bowels became deranged and it ran into chronic dysentery. I had her treated by three of the best physicians in Pickens County, but her case baffled the skill of all of them. My baby became so weak and emaciated that she had to be nursed on a pillow. The nurse would sometimes have to change her position as often as twenty-five times a day. At last we got hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, by using one bottle of it she was entirely cured of her trouble. I consider it the most valuable remedy for the market for all bowel troubles." For sale by all druggists.

HINSEY IS SUSPENDED

SUPREME LODGE OF PYTHIAS ANNOUNCES HIS MEMBERSHIP.

Illinois Lodge Will Finally Dispose of Case of Ex-Head of Endowment Rank.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The convention of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will continue in session for a few days, but the picturesque features of the National gathering have passed into history. The Rathbone Sisters have finally adjourned, and tonight the tents of the uniform rank were struck. A number of visiting companies have already departed for other parts of the Pacific Coast, and San Francisco is rapidly losing the throngs of visitors that came with the encampment. The first session of the Supreme Lodge today was devoted to the case of John A. Hinsey, ex-president of the board of control of the endowment fund, who had been accused of misusing $500,000. When

WILL GO ON THE STAGE.

TALENTED OREGON ELOCUTIONIST TO BECOME AN ACTRESS.

Miss Lucy Edwards, the talented young elocutionist of Baker City, has decided to accept a very flattering offer to go on the stage. She will leave about the 1st of September for Chicago, where she will probably attend a dramatic school for a short time, and then she will go to Indianapolis and enter a dramatic company under the tutelage of her cousin, who is manager of the company. Miss Edwards is a Baker City girl, in whom all the citizens take pride, because she has grown up among them, and by pluck and perseverance, has made her way to the front rank as an elocutionist. She is a graduate of the Willamette University, having finished the course with first honors in June last. It has always been her ambition to go on the stage, and in order that she might be prepared to acquire herself creditably, she has worked hard to acquire an education to fit her to adorn the profession.

The Supreme Lodge met this morning.

Congressman J. E. Watson, of Indiana, who is a supreme representative, introduced a resolution calling for Hinsey's expulsion from the Supreme Lodge, on the ground that Hinsey had violated his obligation as a Pythian when he had engaged the grand tribunal of Illinois from trying the case and scandalized a number of members of the Supreme Lodge in his complaint. Other supreme representatives, speaking on the resolution, demanded that even more drastic measures be taken. Supreme Representative Ben F. Salts, of Iowa, and John C. Burns, of Ohio, opposed the resolution. At noon, a compromise was reached that Hinsey should be suspended from the Grand Lodge until his case shall have been finally disposed of by the grand tribunal of Illinois. The vote to suspend Hinsey was 117 yeas to 12 nays. The session then adjourned until Monday morning.

The supreme tribunal held a brief session.

and considered a number of minor cases. It is reported that in the case of W. D. Kennedy, who was charged with the grand tribunal of Illinois in expelling him from the order has been sustained. Awards of prizes in competition drills were made this evening. In class A competition, Victor Company, No. 3, of Colorado, Captain H. A. Naylor, won first prize of $1000. Second prize of $500 went to Terre Haute Company, No. 3, of Indiana. Captain A. C. Dugdale, of the same company, won the third prize. In class B, Captain M. R. Coombs, captured third prize, and Kokomo Company, No. 3, of Indiana, Captain R. L. Jacobs, was awarded fourth prize. In the cavalry drill, D. D. Burns Company, No. 43, of Missouri, was given the prize, there being no other contestant. In the class B competition, Riverside Company won first prize, and Liberty Company, of Oakland, second prize. Both are California teams. In class C, Furniture City Company, of Grand Rapids, Mich., Captain R. K. Moore, won the prize. In the long distance prize, in the California brigade drill competition, the Shreve trophy was won by Chevalier Company, of San Diego. In the class A contest, the judges declared Captain A. C. Dugdale, of Terre Haute, No. 3, to be the best company commander.

TWO MEN SHOT IN QUARREL.

Murderer Is Wounded—The Trouble Arises Over His Beating His Wife.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 16.—Two men killed and one wounded as the result of a quarrel is the word that comes from Chautauk, 23 miles above Wenatchee, on the Great Northern. The story, as learned here, follows: John Williams was beating his wife, when J. B. Woods, her brother-in-law, interfered to protect her. Mitted with Mrs. John Tidwell, white, the angry Williams and he and a cook named McClay were about to assault Woods. The latter drew a revolver to stand them off, when Williams ran to a cabin near by and got his Winchester. The enraged Williams and he and a cook named McClay renewed the assault. Woods meantime got his Winchester, and shot and killed both men, but was himself wounded in the fight. Sheriff Keller and County Attorney Reeves were summoned and went to the scene of the tragedy. It is asserted by friends of Woods that Williams was a quarrelsome man, and that Woods acted only in self-defense.

Dead Woman Proved Innocent.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16.—Helen Wagner, who died early in July in this city, while an appeal of her case was pending in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, has been proved innocent of grand larceny. The grand jury at Nome, four days after her death, indicted her prosecutor, Edward Manthel, for perjury. She signed the petition for her pardon, now on its way to President Roosevelt. The evidence, according to some papers, shows that two Nome gamblers, Charles Stevens and Ed O'Donnell, planned revenge on a woman named Annie, whom they had failed to rob. They hired Manthel to railroad her by perjury to prison. He mistook Helen Wagner for her, and her trial and conviction were the result.

Editors Elect Officers.

NEWPORT, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The Oregon Editorial Association adjourned today after choosing Salem as the next meeting-place and electing officers as follows: Arthur Conklin, of Grant's Pass, president; Frank Davy, of Salem, first vice-president; Albert Tozier, of Portland, secretary; Miss Fannie Gotschall, of Portland, treasurer; George H. Himes, of Portland, historian, and F. S. Harding, of McMinnville, sergeant-at-arms. A special committee will be appointed to take up the work of promoting the 1906 fair in behalf of the Editorial Association. This committee will confer with the committees appointed by the Washington and Idaho associations.

To Aid in Work of Irrigation.

A GUESSING CONTEST

To Find Out How Many Piano Scarfs Are in the Window.

It Costs Nothing to Try—Three Prizes of $25, $20 and $10 Are Offered by Ellers Piano House to the Best Guessers.

"What are all those piano scarfs for?" remarked a lady yesterday in passing Ellers Piano House. "There must be thousands of them, enough to cover every piano in the State of Oregon." This started a discussion as to how many scarfs there really are in the window, and since nobody around the establishment knew anywhere exactly, it was decided to start a guessing contest, which will certainly prove very interesting to anybody in need of a piano or organ. The scarfs are piled high in the east window of Ellers Piano House, among them the most beautiful designs and patterns which have ever been shown in the West.

The proposition is to give three prizes for those who make the nearest correct guesses as to the exact number of scarfs contained in the window. The first prize will be a receipt for $25 as a first payment on any new piano from the extensive stock of Ellers Piano House. It will be given to the one who makes the best guess. A receipt for $20 as a first payment on any medium price piano will be given for the next best guess, and a receipt for $10 as a first payment on any organ will be given for the third best. Coupons for guessing may be obtained free at Ellers Piano House, 351 Washington street, opposite Cordray's Theater. The contest is open to the public, there being no conditions whatever restricting the guessing.

This proposition, of course, will appeal most strongly to those who are considering the purchase of a piano or an organ, inasmuch as it means to the winners a clear saving of $25, $20 and $10. Ellers Piano House is selling fine pianos for about $100 less than the same grade of an instrument can be obtained elsewhere, and this proposition is expected to give an added stimulus to our enormous trade. The winners of this contest will have a selection of the celebrated Chickering, Weber and Kimball pianos, besides 25 other leading American makes, that are carried by Ellers Piano House.

Come in and make your guess. Here is an opportunity to save a snug little sum on the price of a piano or organ, especially as at this time retail prices are lower and the selection is larger than it has been at any time during the history of our business. Remember the street and number, Ellers Piano House, 351 Washington St.

but as yet the damage done is very slight. The grain crop of the Rogue River Valley in this section is exceptionally good this season. The yield, so far as the threshing has progressed, is very satisfactory.

Hunter's Wounds Prove Fatal.

TOO MUCH SCORCHING.

Owners of Autos Should Be Impressed With the Risks They Run.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The cause of the automobile accident in which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair were killed, and also of other motor accidents, is a topic of discussion among the members of the Automobile Club of Paris, says the Tribune correspondent. The unanimous opinion is that the members of the reorganized clubs and owners of automobiles should be impressed with the terrible risk they run in indulging in bursts of high speed, even on the long, broad and perfect roads of Normandy.

There is the deepest sympathy felt for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair, and it is admitted that almost every automobile car on the favorite road between Nantes and Evreux, which is as smooth as a billiard table, lets out at full speed. It is also noted that in the last fortnight at Trouville and Dieppe and Aix-les-Bains there has been a great deal of automobile scorching, usually by new and young owners of motor cars. One of the offenders in this respect is Tod Sloan, the American, who is reported as going at a maximum speed through the Norman villages near Trouville, Pont Leveque and Cabourg.

The road from Evreux to Pacy-Sur-Eure is beautiful, macadamized, and of the perfect condition. The spot where the accident occurred, exactly in front of the gates of Chateau de Mal, is on a moderate descending grade. Four miles to the west of Pacy the road there are gutters about a yard wide, paved with large, rough stones. It was doubtless one of these rough stones that pierced the tire, which was the immediate cause of the accident.

The Points at Issue.

DENVER, Aug. 16.—After consulting with counsel here, C. J. Smith, of Boulder, Colo., a brother of the late Mrs. Charles Fair, decided to start Monday for San Francisco. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Fair's mother and her brother, Abe Smith. The points at issue in the minds of a great many people," said Mr. Smith, "seems to be that my rights will not be affected by the fact that my sister did not die first. Now I saw a copy of Mr. Fair's will, and in addition to leaving most of his possessions to his wife, he made provision for her family, so that even should it be proved that Mrs. Fair died first, the family would be remembered."

Incendiary Fire at Pueblo.

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 16.—Fire at 2 A. M. in the Bergerman Building, caused a loss of $75,000. The loss of L. Florman in fine pictures, paintings and wallpaper is nearly $20,000, partially insured. An unknown man was at the back door not long before the fire broke out, and rode away on a bicycle.

Rain Retards Threshing.

MEDFORD, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The heavy shower of rain which has fallen intermittently since Tuesday have retarded the threshing of grain, and occasioned some alarm among the farmers.
