WHITE CITY READY

Elks' Street Fair Buildings Await the Opening.

CARNIVAL CROWDS ARRIVING

Queen Maybelle Dons Her Coronation Costume—Formation of Tuesday's Inaugural Parade Is Announced.

The "white city" of Seventh street is complete, and tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the gates will be thrown open to the public. Since the central portion of the thoroughfare has been inclosed between high board walls, which appear unbroken from the outside, a transformation has taken place, and wonders have been worked with gay-colored streamers and bunting and flags and myriad lights that last night threw a gigantic reflection against the night skies that was visible for miles.

Anticipating the opening ceremonies of the carnival, crowds are already coming into the city from all directions, and can be considered but preliminary to the crush that is expected to be at the big Elks' show this week. The attractions of the festival exposition have been advertised well in all the states of the Pacific Northwest, and the railways and steamboats have made rates low enough to insure big excursion bands. The morning of the 4th, Elks' day, excursions from all lines will be run into Portland, bringing, it is thought, at least 20,000 people on that day alone.

Queen Dons Royal Robes

Queen Maybelle donned her coronation robes for the first time yesterday, and sat for an official photograph. The coronation dress is made in the Queen Anne style, with heavy brocade cream satin. The bodice is trimmed with pearls, turquoise and gold beads, and the buttons are in Elks' colors, of purple and white. The skirt has a Princess front, with a court train trimmed on both sides in a panel effect, and a fold of white ermine around the bottom. The skirt is richly spanned with jewels of every description. The robe is a royal purple velvet, heavily trimmed with white ermine, with a Queen Anne collar. The girdle is heavily jeweled with diamonds, pearls, sapphires, turquoise, emeralds and other stones, and falls to the bottom of the skirt in front. A long necklace of strung jewels and a richly jeweled crown complete the costume.

The committee on hospitality and accommodations of the carnival is called to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the quarters. The bureau of accommodation is to be located at Aldrich's pharmacy, 10th and Washington streets. Miss Armstrong is in charge of the list of rooms and rates, and will give directions and instructions to strangers desiring to find accommodations or be shown about the city, beginning Monday morning.

Major Charles McDowell, grand marshal of the inaugural parade on Tuesday, upon which occasion Queen Maybelle will review the public procession outside the carnival grounds, has completed arrangements, and announces the following formations of divisions:

First Division.
Time of start, 1 o'clock.
Musical band.
Grand marshal.
Grand marshal's aide.
Fire department band.
Mounted trumpeters.
Mounted heralds.
Pioneer corps.
Platoon of ladies in waiting.
Attendants of courtiers, Princess, guards of honor, pages, etc.
Portland Lodge of Elks, 142.

Second Division.
Southern Pacific Band.
Forty belouah horsemen and Araba.
Whitely.
Fifteen carriages with Jabor circus and Midway.
Fifteen cages of wild animals.
New York Ladies Military Band on Camels, elephants, Carnival clowns, etc.

The line of march will be announced tomorrow.
Manager Rowe has received the following dispatch from Tacoma:

"Tacoma Elks held a meeting last night. Two hundred members coming to carnival in uniform. All business in Tacoma to be suspended September 1.
(Signed) J. E. KELLY."

For Baby Show Friday.
Entry regulations and the classifications for baby exhibition day at the carnival, next Friday, the 5th, are herein published for the first time. All intending exhibitors should become acquainted with the rules. No babies will be known by name in the show, only by number, which is an important point. Following are the rules:

First prize—For the prettiest girl baby, under 1 year of age, beautiful gold medal, valued at $50.
Second prize—For the prettiest boy baby, under 1 year of age, beautiful gold medal, valued at $35; presented by Carnival Association.

Third prize—For the prettiest dressed baby, girl or boy, under 1 year of age, beautiful silver medal, valued at $20; presented by the Carnival Association.

Prizes will be given for the following: Prettiest baby, prettiest girl baby and best-dressed baby between the ages of 1 and 3 years.

Prizes will also be given for the prettiest pair of twins under 1 year of age and between the ages of 1 and 3 years. A suitable prize will be given for the most characteristically dressed baby between the ages of 1 and 3 years.

The entries must be made at 2 o'clock Friday, the 5th.
No entries will be received after that date.

The entries will be known only by number. No name will be taken.
The judges for the baby show will be chosen from people unknown to the committee and nonresidents of the city, so that they will in no way be connected with the Elks or the carnival.

ORDER IS PROSPEROUS.
Arrangements for the Opening of the Letter Carriers' Convention.

DENVER, Aug. 30.—The officers and executive board of the National Association of Letter Carriers held a meeting here this afternoon to arrange the preliminaries for the annual convention, which will open in this city next Monday. The officers and members of the board are as follows: President, James C. Keller, Cleveland; vice-president, M. T. Pinnus, Bloomington, Ill.; secretary, E. J. Cantwell, Washington; treasurer, Alexander McDonald, Grand Rapids, Mich.; executive board, D. L. White, chairman, Boston; M. A. Fitzgerald, New York; E. J. Gainer, Muncie, Ind.; A. J. Michener, St. Louis; C. W. Miller, South Omaha, Neb. The board examined the reports of the secretary and treasurer and found them entirely satisfactory. The past year has been the most successful in the 23 years of life of the organization. The secretary's report showed there are 916 free delivery postoffices in the United States, and of these 838 have organized branches of the association. The 23 free delivery offices unorganized have been established only three months. During the year, 35 new branches have been established with about 180 members. There are now more members of the association than there are regular carriers in the service, many substitutes being members. The total membership is 16,000, and of these 15,000 are regular carriers.

Sons and Daughters of Jerusalem.
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 30.—The seventh annual convention of the Sons and Daughters of Jerusalem adjourned today. Fayette, Mo., was selected as the place of meeting next May.

MEMBER OF A NOBLE HOUSE

Antecedents of Bartholin, the Chicago Suspect.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—According to information unearthed here, William Bartholin, wanted by the police in connection with the murder of his mother and the disappearance of his sweetheart, Miss Minnie Mitchell, is a member of the noble house of Bartholin-Eichel, in Denmark. It was also discovered that he has a half brother, Frederick Bartholin, living in Chicago, prosperous and highly respected.

The house of Bartholin was founded in 1680, when Dr. Bartholin-Eichel was made a baronet for "distinguished services," since then the house has stood high in the councils of the Danish court, its members occupying important positions. Casper Bartholin is the reigning baron. His brother was William Peter Bartholin, the father of the Will Bartholin for whom the police of the country are on the look-out.

Being a younger son, William Peter had no estates, but by the influence of his family was made warden of the royal castle at Ribe where he was made a Knight of the Dannebrog and given a castle of his own. He married the Countess Gottoline Grevenop-Chastenskiel, of Great Frederiksborg's castle. Two sons were born—George, now editor of the National Tidende, the largest newspaper in Copenhagen, and Frederick, who now lives in Chicago.

Later Bartholin eloped to America with the family's German servant girl, and, it is alleged, took with him a large sum of public money that had been entrusted to his care. The pair married in Chicago, and in 1872, Will Bartholin, the present fugitive, was born.

Confessed to Kansas City Murder.
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 30.—William Toll, an English soldier in the Second Bedfordshire Regiment, stationed at Colchester, England, has confessed to the murder in Kansas City in January last of George Landis, according to a cablegram received today by the local chief of police, and is being held by the Scotland Yard officials awaiting extradition papers.

Landis was working for a Kansas City company, was killed in the railroad yards and his body robbed. Up to this time the case had remained a mystery. Toll is said to have had a wife in St. Louis, whom he deserted soon after the murder, going to England.

Pitcher Garvin Arrested.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Virgil Garvin, the Chicago American League pitcher, who in a saloon row Thursday night shot the proprietor, Lawrence E. Flanagan, in the shoulder, was arrested today and is now at the City Hall Station. Detectives picked him up at the corner of Clark and Monroe streets talking to a city freeman. He made no resistance but went cheerfully, saying that he was on the way to give himself up.

Mysterious Stabbing Affray.
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30.—Robert Luther is dead at the morgue in East St. Louis as the result of a stab wound in the leg, and the police are looking for a woman, known as Luther's wife, who disappeared after summoning a physician. Luther was found dead in his chair by Dr. Charles A. Smith.

Entertaining Young Teddy.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., today was driven to the Onwenta Club's golf links, at Lake Forest, where for a time he was an interested spectator in the Western women's championship tournament. The party drove to Fort Sheridan, where a special dress parade and cavalry maneuver were ordered by Colonel McCaskey in honor of the President's son. The twentieth infantry and the Second Cavalry participated in the review, and a routing "three" for "Teddy" was given as the men went to quarters. From Fort Sheridan the party came into Chicago, where the party dined at the hotel and shopping preparatory to the hunting trip in South Dakota.

Railways Fight Project.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—In the hearing of the application to the State Railroad Commission by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company for permission to issue a mortgage for $5,000,000 in order that the company might be enabled to begin its construction of a new line, the company presented an argument declaring that the road has no excess capacity and that it consists only of a consolidation of several railroads which never existed save on paper. The hearing was not concluded.

Another Strike of Bolshemakers.
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 30.—General Manager Mudge, of the Santa Fe, is not surprised at the reports of another strike among the bolshemakers at San Bernardino. Mr. Mudge says there are a few turbulent spirits among the workmen there who are continually inciting the others to strike, and that as a result some of the bolshemakers there is almost an every-day happening.

A Labor Day Advance.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 30.—General Manager Mitten, of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, has mailed to each trainman a letter advising him that on Labor day his salary would be increased approximately 10 per cent. It affects in all 1390 train conductors and motormen.

New York Socialist Labor Party.
UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The Socialist Labor party held its state convention here this afternoon and put in nomination a state ticket headed by Daniel McLean, of New York, for Governor.

Nicaragua Volcano Active.
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 30.—The volcano at Masaya is again active. Heavy detonations are heard and the mountain is expelling columns of clouds and fragments of rocks.

PRESS VIEWS ON MONROEISM

Believe President's Utterances Are Merely to Prepare the Public Mind for Enlargement of the Navy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Salvage, fired

by Salvator, and owned by John A. Drake, won the rich Futurity at Sheephead Bay today. August Belmont's Hastings colt Lord of the Vale was second, only an eyelash behind, while Dazzling, one of the four Keene horses, finished third. The time for the race was 1:24. The attendance was 50,000. John A. Drake and the Western contingent, always confident that Salvage would score, played him down from 20 to 1, and in some books 25 to 1, to 15 to 1. Eager players asked what was thrust at them and knew no East or West. It was the West, however, that rounded up the good thing of the day and cashed in at nightfall.

Sheephead never had known such a crowd. At noon the lower tier of the dock of the grandstand was crowded. Long before the bugle sounded for the first race all three tiers were filled with a mass of moving colors. Women were everywhere, costumed in brilliant gowns and bedecked with jewels. Almost as far as the eye could reach down over the lawn and through the field was a swaying mass of humanity. Twenty thousand surged in the field and within and beyond the track rails were thousands more.

The autumn parade of the guard corps was held today on the Templehof field, in the presence of the Emperor and Empress. The parade was a magnificent one, and other important personages, such as the Emperor William and the Italian King, rode back to the castle at the head of the troops. Major-General Henry C. Corbin and Samuel B. Y. Young, accompanied by their aid-de-camp, attended the parade.

Riding down the lines of troops and guests at review, Emperor William, who usually on these occasions does not acknowledge salutes, singled out the American General, turned his head sharply around and raised his baton to his helmet. All those in that part of the field, especially the Ambassadorial cluster, were much interested. After that, His Majesty devoted himself to the King of Italy and the duties of the day, not speaking to any of the foreign officers, except the Italian Brigadier-General Wood, who arrived here last night, was not in uniform, his military trappings being with his delayed baggage, so he saw the review from a carriage with John B. Jackson, secretary of the United States Embassy at Berlin.

Among 30,000 troops, one-third of the number being cavalry, took part in the review, which was the customary brilliant spectacle.

Captain von Grunne, Emperor William's aid-de-camp, gave a luncheon today to Major-General Corbin and Mrs. Corbin, Lieutenant-Colonel John A. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, Major-General Young and Lieutenant James F. McKinley. The visiting American Generals, beginning Monday, will be Emperor William's guests, and His Majesty will pay their hotel bills in Berlin, their transportation to the scene of the army maneuvers and the expense of their lodging at Frankfurt-on-the-Oder. General Corbin and Colonel Johnston will be quartered at the residence of the Tax Assessor, Herr von Jacobs. General Young and Lieutenant McKinley will lodge with gymnastical director Lambert, and General Wood will be quartered with Major von Ramlow.

WINNER BY A NOSE

Salvage Takes Rich Futurity at Sheephead Bay.

BRINGS HIS OWNER $100,000

Belmont's Lord of the Vale Is Second and the Keene Entry Dazzling Third—A Record Crowd.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Salvage, fired

by Salvator, and owned by John A. Drake, won the rich Futurity at Sheephead Bay today. August Belmont's Hastings colt Lord of the Vale was second, only an eyelash behind, while Dazzling, one of the four Keene horses, finished third. The time for the race was 1:24. The attendance was 50,000. John A. Drake and the Western contingent, always confident that Salvage would score, played him down from 20 to 1, and in some books 25 to 1, to 15 to 1. Eager players asked what was thrust at them and knew no East or West. It was the West, however, that rounded up the good thing of the day and cashed in at nightfall.

Sheephead never had known such a crowd. At noon the lower tier of the dock of the grandstand was crowded. Long before the bugle sounded for the first race all three tiers were filled with a mass of moving colors. Women were everywhere, costumed in brilliant gowns and bedecked with jewels. Almost as far as the eye could reach down over the lawn and through the field was a swaying mass of humanity. Twenty thousand surged in the field and within and beyond the track rails were thousands more.

The call to saddle was trumpeted at 4 o'clock, and the long, thin line filed out and entered slowly past the stands. It was difficult work to keep the line straight before the final work. For 20 minutes they seemed to end and fro. Then, with a swirl of the flag and a burst of the bell in the fudges' box, instantly there was a sudden flash, and after that a cloud of dust. Lord of the Vale was among the first to break, with Salvage and Hastingsbourne and Dazzling right at his heels. Fire Eater, with Doggett up, the only one that failed to go, was left standing at the post, half turned around. Though it was a rugged start, it was better than had been expected.

They flew like the wind down the hill stretched out completely across the track, 27 in what seemed to be almost a straight line. Now and then the sharp wind would lift the veil of dust and they neared the turn those on the outside of the rail and those on the inside closed in until saddle girths appeared to be touching.

Up the hill they came, with white-faced horses, and the race was a close one. For a moment as the race struck the gelded out, there was crowding in the center of the flying cavalcade. There was hardly a sound in the stands, but a mighty shout went up when Dazzling, carrying the spotted white of the Keenes, came first into the straight.

McCue touched Lord of the Vale with the whip, and the gallant son of Hastings sprang out to the front. Perhaps he made his run too soon, for he began to falter when hard challenged a moment later, but recovered. The goal was within sight, and McCue began to ride like a fiend. The Whiskey and Keene candidates were pushing him hard. Through the cloud of dust every one's eyes made out his own favorite. There were cries of "Irish Lad" and "Golden Maxim" and "Flying Prince" and "Salvage" and half a dozen others.

Salvage was never thought of. Yet one small group that came from the West had their strained eyes set for a glimpse of turquoise blue that seemed far back in the rear. Salvage answered the whip and the spur and the swish of the whip. He came out of the bunch like a thoroughbred. Lyne lifted him with every leap, and inch by inch in the last fifth he wore down the single length between him and victory. McCue tried desperately to stall off defeat, swinging his whip mercilessly, and with flaring nostrils Lord of the Vale, the pride of the Belmont stable, responded to every cue. But all in vain. Salvage had his sire's indomitable courage, he had his sire's speed and his great heart. He poked his nose in front of Lord of the Vale just as they flew under the wire.

August Belmont, who watched the contest on the roof stand, said: "With another week's work, Lord of the Vale would have won."

The value of the Futurity was to the winner $45,000, to the second, $22,500, to the third, $11,250, to J. B. Haggin, breeder of Salvage, $3000, to August Belmont, breeder of Lord of the Vale, $1250, and to James R. Keene, breeder of Dazzling, $625, in all $51,125. John A. Drake is credited with having won the largest bet ever made by a turfman in this country. His winnings amount to more than $100,000. The summary:

The inaugural steeplechase, short course—Rising Sun won, Poudy second, Fulminate third; time, 1:43.

Brooklyn Ready for Sea.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—After several months at the New York navy-yard, the cruiser Brooklyn is expected to be ready for sea shortly. Improvements costing about $200,000 have been made and the ship is now one of the finest protected cruisers in the Navy. In every detail she will be modern and her battery will be exceptionally strong. All her wooden apartments have been replaced with steel. Her decks have been rebuilt and a large part of her armament has been replaced with new and thicker protection. She will have a speed of about 19 knots an hour.

LAND HELD TOO HIGH

Richards Makes Report on Fort Hall Sale.

NO MINERALS NEAR POCATELLO

Alleged Discoveries Were Faked Up With the Idea of Beating the Government—Evidence of Coal.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 30.—Assistant Land Commissioner Richards, who conducted the sale of Fort Hall lands within the five-mile limit of Pocatello, today submitted his report to the Secretary of the Interior. He says each of the 195 40-acre tracts within this limit was offered, but only 69, in close proximity to the city limits, were sold. Most of them contain valuable Indian improvements, or are of a character allowing of irrigation, and for which ample water is available. Upon the remaining 126 tracts no bids were received. In the opinion of Commissioner Richards, these lands will never bring $10 an acre, and says the tract for the most part are rolling or broken in character, fit only for grazing, and not susceptible of cultivation by irrigation. There is not sufficient water available for the irrigation of the more level portions to warrant an outlay of $10 an acre on the bare land.

Commissioner Richards states that when he reached Pocatello, and previously, rumors were frequent of the existence of minerals within the five-mile limit. Special Agent O'Brien, a mining expert, was therefore sent to make a careful examination. He reported that there was no evidence of minerals. Despite this fact, persons alleging to have discovered mineral on these lands were given 10 days after the sale in which to file notice of the existence of minerals. Out of numerous mineral claims originally staked off, encroaching the limits of Pocatello, but seven alleged mineral entries made filings, and of these only one protested against this sale of the lands at the auction price of $20 an acre, a protest which has been dismissed.

Commissioner Richards says there is no mineral near Pocatello, and that, to his mind, the alleged mineral discoveries were faked up, with a view to acquiring the lands near the city at a minimum price, the law allowing mineral lands to be had for $10 an acre. He found evidence of collision between bidders who had paid $30 or more an acre for desirable lands and the so-called mineral entries, and the miners kept on this morning, the miners being to prove the lands mineral, if possible, so that the original purchaser could get title through his partner, and secure a rebate of $20 an acre on his entire tract. However, the sale was conducted without fraud. Nor, as yet, has the department had complaint of "sooner" locations on that part of the Fort Hall reservation opened under the rush.

Superintendent of Crater Lake Park.
OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 30.—The Secretary of the Interior today appointed W. F. Arant superintendent of the Crater Lake National Park. The position pays $800 per annum, and the superintendent will be required to furnish a bond of $10,000. Arant was recommended by Senator Mitchell and Representative Tongue.

MINING MEN GO TO BUTTE

Delegates of City and State Will Attend Mining Congress.

A number of Portland men will attend the meeting of the International Mining Congress, which is to be held at Butte, September 1-5. Charles E. Ladd, D. S. Cohen, J. Frank Watson and Dr. H. W. Coe have been appointed delegates to this convention by the Chamber of Commerce. J. E. Clark, brother of Senator Clark, of Montana, has been sent by the Governor, and several other Portland men interested in mining will also go to Butte, among whom are I. B. Hammond, president of the Chamber of Commerce; W. A. Gray, E. A. Sessions, of Sessions & Simpson, and J. P. Grayson. Several of these gentlemen left last evening, and the remainder will go this morning.

These delegates expect to advertise the mineral wealth of Oregon, and an exhibit from Cottage Grove will be shown at the congress. General Ladd is also preparing interested in the St. Helens district, which, though situated in Washington, is being largely developed by Portland capital. Delegates from Butte and other Eastern mining centers will also attend, so that the entire state will be well represented.

The congress will discuss topics of interest to those engaged in mining affairs, but the subject which will be mainly dealt with—privately, if not in the public meeting—will be the establishment of a Department of the Interior, and the same line as the Department of Agriculture is doing as present. It has long been considered that as much attention is due the miners and operators as is given the agriculturists, and the congress has for some time worked with this end in view.

The International Mining Congress owns a commodious assembly building at Butte, where the meetings have been held for some time past. Delegates from every mineral state in the Union will be present, and a beneficial and instructive conference is expected on strike. L. E. Shafter, of Cleveland, is president, and Irwin Mahon, of Carle, Pa., secretary of the congress, while the vice-presidents represent nearly 30 states and territories. Two are from Canada.

A telegram was received yesterday from Colonel Grayson, who is already at Butte, urging all the delegates appointed to represent the state and Portland to attend.

Break in Strikers' Ranks.

OMAHA, Aug. 30.—The first break in the ranks of striking Union Pacific shovemen came this morning, when 11 of the carmen returned to work in the local shops. Railroad officials express a belief that they will be followed next week by the rest of the carmen. The Union Pacific shovemaker and machinists, however, say that the return of the carmen will in no wise affect their strike, which will be continued. The men who returned to work accepted the piecework system.

Remains of the Fair Shipped.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The American line steamer St. Louis sailed from Southampton today for New York, having on board the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair.
