SHINGLEMEN ARE WORRYING.

Fearful lest the Car Shortage May Mean Greater Loss.

SEATTLE, Aug. 30.—Though railroad officials have signified an intention of caring for the car shortage felt by millmen, only one definite reply has been given by the shingle manufacturers. This is from the Burlington, which promises to send 200 flat and box cars to Billings. Whatever has been heard from other lines is information of a general character, not making specific promises. However, the assurances in connection with the use of cars released from the grain trade is specific. Lumber and shingle dealers estimate the losses on account of the car shortage at thousands of dollars. The recent rains, which seriously injured shingle and lumber stored in the yards, is stated to have caused a loss to the millmen of nearly $50,000. In the event the car shortage should become so serious as to result in a practical suspension of work, pending the receipt of cars, the daily loss from various causes, including cancellation of orders, will run as high as $15,000. Based on his statement on the assumption that no cars will be provided, or that at least the number offered will be very small, before October 15, Victor H. Beckman, secretary of the Washington Red Cedar Shingle Manufacturers' Association and the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association, declares that the mills will lose $1,000,000 by the shortage.

From here they went down the Stunahs, hence to Seaside, thence to Portland, thence to Government Camp, Mount Hood; from Mount Hood to Oregon City, thence to Salem, thence to Monmouth, Corvallis, and back to Eugene. Upland Birds Will Be Scarce.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 30.—(Special).—Sportsmen are beginning to take interest in the upland birds, and have been looking about to learn if they will be plentiful this fall. The open season does not begin for a month yet, but it is with some disappointment that reports are received of a great scarcity of birds in this county. From nearly every direction the reports are the same. Where in years past Denny pheasants have been very plentiful, now only a few are seen. There are two reasons for the scarcity. First, the birds were killed off very close last fall, and second, the wet weather of the past Spring killed off many of the young ones as soon as they were hatched.

Do not under any circumstances fail to visit our main sales-rooms, near the corner of Eighth street (No. 33 Washington), where nearly ten thousand square feet of floor space are devoted to musical merchandising. Summer Terrors

Acne, Tetter, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Nettle Rash. An itching, burning skin disease during the hot, sultry summer weather, is a positive terror and a veritable demon of discomfort.

TORMENTING ECZEMA. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May, 1898. In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. As time went by it grew worse. I had read medicine in my early twenties (now 50 years of age) and was convinced that I was afflicted with a type of Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, one of which was claimed to be a certain specific. I confess, however, I had but little faith in external applications, yet I used them, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May of that year all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured, and have had no return of the disease since.

W. P. BRUSH, Station A, Kansas City, Mo. To the skin disease sufferer, summer time brings no joy, but is a season of unrest, sleepless nights and incessant pain, resulting in shattered nerves, physical exhaustion and general derangement of all the vital forces.

Our Book on Skin Diseases will be sent free to all desiring it. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.
