

POLICE MAKE TWO RAIDS

FRANK HELLEN, OF PORTLAND CLUB, IS ARRESTED.

A. G. Baxter and O. J. McKenna Charged With Gambling—Four Chinese Taken.

Two raids were made by the police yesterday at two alleged gambling places, the Portland Club and a Chinese resort on Second street, near Oak, which resulted in seven arrests all told. The Portland Club was tackled first, the arresting officers being Sergeant Church and Policeman H. A. Parker. The latter went to one of the upstairs rooms and arrested Frank Hellen, one of the proprietors, and A. C. Baxter and O. J. McKenna, charged with gambling. A complete faro outfit was found, but no money. Hellen gave $50 bail, and the others $25 bail each, for their appearance at the Municipal Court. The Chinese raid took place shortly after 10 o'clock, the arresting officers being Sergeant Church and Policemen Heller and Wilkinson. The latter had walked along a well-lighted passageway leading to the street, and the lookout man had every chance to warn those who were inside, but he was looking the other way at the time, and the policemen were at him before he knew what had happened. He gave a yell, but by this time the officers were up to him. There was an opium lay-out in one corner of the large, well-lighted room, and at the other end a gambling table with a fan-tan outfit, and a heap of Chinese money. From the appearance of the gambling paraphernalia it looked as if a game of chance had recently been in progress and hurriedly disturbed. Fong Fat, Ching Quang, Li Ching and Ting Hing were placed under arrest, charged with frequenting a gambling-house. Then a Chinese physician knocked for admittance, and when he saw the state of affairs he said: "I live 'way up in my loom. Chinese boys good—no gamble now. Me no like alcohol." The officers were positive that some secret means of escape existed from some rear door, and for a few minutes they could not find it, until they came across a place in a wall covered over with Chinese pictures, on which were portrayed fearful looking specimens of Chinese art. On taking down one of the pictures, a door was discovered leading to a back stairway. A Chinaman who afterward said he was a cook gave about $30 in gold to the "boss" Chinaman, who afterward produced bail for the quartet who were arrested.

WANTS TO KEEP FIRM NAME

M. Manning Sees Stewart and Grant for Alleged Infringement.

M. Manning yesterday commenced suit in the State Circuit Court against T. L. Stewart and Stewart Grant to have them enjoined from using the name of the Manning Lamp Agency, in connection with the business of selling gasoline gas lamps, fixtures and mantels. Manning in his complaint sets forth that in September, 1898, he was engaged in disposing of gas lamps and their appurtenances, and continued so doing until March, 1902, when he disposed of his goods to Stewart and Grant, but they declined to buy the good-will of the business, for which he asked $500. It is alleged further by Manning that in company with H. W. Manning, in August, 1902, the H. W. Manning Lighting Supply Company was established at 306 Sixth street, and that the defendants are carrying a sign on their window, "Manning Lamp Agency, Stewart & Grant Lighting Company successors to"—The latter part of the sign is asserted to be painted on the window in pale blue letters scarcely distinguishable, and the sign, it is alleged to be there to deceive the public. The plaintiff avers that he expended considerable money in the daily newspapers advertising his firm name and business, and that the defendants have no authority to use the same name.

Condemnation Suits Filed.

The Oregon Water Power & Railway Company yesterday filed two more condemnation suits in the State Circuit Court, asking to have the value of right of way privileges on the Greenham line assessed. One suit is against P. A. Marquam and others for a strip of land through part of the N. Hamlin donation land claim, amounting to 23-300 acres. The other suit is against Stefano Alegrand and involves a strip of land 60 feet wide running from Milwaukee avenue, near East Eighth street, and comprising 1.26 acres. These defendants and the railway company cannot agree what the land to be taken is worth, and the court is asked to assess the value.

Appealed From the Municipal Court.

Notices of appeal from the Municipal Court to the State Circuit Court were filed yesterday in the following cases: W. M. Daniels, fined $20 for selling short weight rolls of butter. Fred Jones, fined $50 for having opium in his possession. F. C. Mousman, fined $50 for assault and battery. J. E. Whitney, sentenced to three months in the County Jail, and fined $50 for larceny. Henry Westerman, fined $75 and $25, on two charges of selling adulterated milk. The appeal notices were filed by Thomas H. McDewitt, Jr., ex-clerk of the Municipal Court, and was his last official act.

Petition for Road Opening.

The County Court has under advisement the petition of W. J. Hobson and others presented by Attorney J. A. Strowbridge, Jr., asking for the opening of a road from Berkeley avenue to West avenue, and between Hawthorne avenue and the Base Line road. It is stated that the property owners along the line of the proposed road do not ask the county to spend any money for the improvement of the road, but merely to have it opened to give the residents of that vicinity an outlet and to get the free mail service established. The people living in the district say that they now have no way of getting out except over the land of others.

Transferred to United States Court.

The suit of O. A. Routh against the Star Brewery Company, which was filed in the State Circuit Court last week, was transferred to the United States Circuit Court yesterday. Routh, who is a resident of Portland, seeks to recover $145 40 from the brewery company which has its headquarters at Vancouver, for damages alleged to have been incurred by the closing of the Cosmopolitan lodging house and saloon, of which he was proprietor.

Court Notes.

The inventory and appraisement of the estate of Electa A. Coleman, deceased, was filed in the County Court yesterday showing property valued at about $600. William S. Hamilton has sued F. G. Buxton in the State Circuit Court to recover $420 damages, because it is alleged Buxton tore down a barn on Hamilton's property in Stephens Addition. The barn was valued at $250. It is charged in the complaint that Buxton destroyed the barn with intent to injure the property, and accordingly under the law is liable in treble damages.

Novel Advertising Device.

The resourcefulness of Yankee ingenuity in contriving new advertising schemes is illustrated by a boot and shoe advertisement placed on display yesterday by a Portland shoe store. The contrivance is a lower leg and foot, which goes through the exact motions of walking. One side of the shoe is cut away, so as to show the foot, the idea being to demonstrate that the sole of the shoe bends to accommodate itself to the foot. As the shoe is continually walking over the same space,

Tomorrow, Monday, September 1 (Labor Day), this store will be closed all day.

Welcome B. P. O. E.

Tomorrow being a legal holiday the store will be closed all day. On Tuesday we will be at home to Elks, their friends and all Carnival visitors. Everyone visiting the city is invited to make use of this store to the utmost. Our welcome was genuine 45 years ago. It is just as genuine and hearty now as then. It isn't a manner we have adopted because it is good business policy to seem cordial while we keep our eye on your pocketbook. People are keen enough in these days to see the greed under the manner. Our welcome is hearty and sincere. We like to have guests. We liked it 45 years ago. We liked it when everybody else was contriving how to get your money out of your pocket, and we like it better than ever now, when we have so many imitators who catch the manner but forget the spirit. It makes the old original brand of hospitality seem very cordial. The phones, parcel checking, information desk and 500 employees are at your service, and if you would like to have somebody steer you to the departments where you have business to do, ask for a guide. In every department you will now find Fall merchandise prominently displayed. Purchasing can be done to better advantage and at a larger saving than anywhere else. Again we say, make the Meier & Frank store headquarters

Meier & Frank Company "Shopping Center of the Northwest."

Third-Street Rails Arrive. The long-expected ship Cyproenne has at last arrived with the consignment of rails for the Third-street track of the City & Suburban Railway Company. The rails are very badly needed, and workmen will commence laying them as soon as possible. It is understood that the old tracks will be replaced on Third and Morrison streets as far up as West Park street. The north end of Third street will be commenced first, and both tracks will be tackled at once, the cars running on Second street during the improvement. These rails were to have come early in the year, but the Cyproenne met with an accident, and had to put in at the Falkland Islands for repairs, thus setting back a job that should have been nearly finished by this time.

Found Guilty of Stealing. J. D. Keenan, Chester Harvey and James Hughes were found guilty in the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with stealing a small sum of money from William Cunningham on Second street last Monday night, and were each placed under $500 bail for the grand jury. Cunningham was held in $250 bail as a witness.

NEW ERA IN DENTAL SCIENCE

Crown and Bridge Work

If you want dental work done, and want the best, come and see us. We have all of the latest and most scientific methods known to the profession. We are making a specialty of porcelain work, all porcelain crowns and bridge work. This is the latest and grandest invention in modern dentistry. Bridge work has been used in a crude form for many years, with many improvements from time to time, but it is only within the past few months that this most important branch in dentistry has been perfected. By our new methods we are now able to produce bridge work without the use of gold, which has always been objectionable to the most refined and cultured people on account of the glare of the yellow metal. For those who object to the appearance of large gold fillings on account of the great contrast between gold and the tooth structure, we are now able to place porcelain fillings, or, more properly speaking, porcelain inlays, so that it is very difficult to detect from the natural tooth structure. This is another wonderful stride in modern dentistry. You have probably heard your dentist say that some day he hoped that there would be some permanent filling material discovered besides gold, on account of the appearance of the yellow metal. We have at last found that material in porcelain; but, remember, it requires skill to produce satisfactory results.

Another thing which we wish to call special attention to is our new method of doing continuous gum work. You may not understand what continuous gum work is, as it has not been done in Portland to any extent, but if you will ask any respectable dentist about it he will be able to tell you that it is the ideal artificial denture, or set of teeth, though he is not able to produce it, as he does not possess the necessary equipment or skill to do it with; but we have, and will be pleased to have you call and see us, so that we may explain to you the advantages it has over all other materials which are used in the construction of artificial teeth.

Testimonials From Prominent People

D. F. McLean writes as follows: "I had lost all my teeth except seven anterior and two wisdom on the upper jaw and eight anterior and two wisdom on the lower jaw. My right first upper bicuspid was painful and I went to Dr. Wright to have it extracted, and he explained to me that he could relieve me of my pain and save my tooth, which he did, and then explained to me how he could fix my mouth with bridge work. I told him it was his mouth. Fix it up. Now I have a full set of grinders that are as good for masticating purposes as my old teeth ever were, and they are perfectly comfortable. I take pleasure in recommending the doctor to all those in need of having dental work done. Very respectfully,
"D. F. McLEAN, 224 East 18th North."

"To whom it may concern: I have had porcelain crowns and bridge work done by Dr. B. E. Wright.
