

The wedding of Major William Otto Rudy to Miss Helen Gould Ramsdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Ramsdell, occurred on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at St. Stephen's Chapel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. N. Wilson. A great deal of green was used in the decoration of the church, and in charming contrast with this were masses of scarlet gladioli and the vivid crimson of the altar cloth. As the wedding party entered, the organist, Mr. Hoyt, played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bridegroom was met by the groom, who stood waiting with his best man, Mr. Oliver Cutler. While the beautiful marriage service of the Episcopal church was being read, the organist played softly, "If Thou Didst Love Me," the music ceased altogether, as if the organ held its breath, while the bride pronounced her vows. At the end of the ceremony Mr. Hoyt played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride was very lovely in a gown of white crepe de chine, with decorations of embroidered chiffon applique. Her long tulle veil was held in place by sprays of eucalyptus blossoms, and she carried a white prayer book. Miss Ramsdell wore a very dainty gown of white mousseline de soie, with medallions of embroidered chiffon, with a sash of white satin. She carried a ribbon bouquet of white sweet peas and smilax. The bridesmaids were dressed alike, in gowns of cream organza and lace. They carried ribbon bouquets of red sweet peas.

After a very informal reception at the home of the bride's parents, Major and Mrs. Rudy went away on the evening train for a tour of Northwestern Washington and British Columbia. Major Rudy is the military commandant at Bishop Scott Academy, and has become very popular during the year he has lived in Portland, and his bride, who has lived here all her life, is a very well known and popular member of Portland society. Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. B. B. Rudy and Miss Leona Rudy, of Indianapolis, mother and sister of the groom. A very large number of handsome presents were received, and at the reception a number of congratulatory telegrams were read. Major and Mrs. Rudy will be at home Saturday after October 1, at Bishop Scott Academy.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cutler celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding on Friday afternoon and evening at their home in Highland. During the hours of the reception about 300 friends called to present their congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler received a very large number of handsome pieces of silver, among which were a silver water pitcher and tray presented by Camella Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Cutler is associate matron, and a beautiful set of tableware presented by ladies in Highland. The house was decorated in a very artistic manner. In the hall and parlors, where the decorations were of green and white, hopnoses were used in effective combination with white sweet peas. The dining-room had a very gay and pretty adornment of pink sweet peas and La France roses. Mrs. E. B. Rudy, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. G. A. Wegelin, of Cincinnati, both of whom were at Mrs. Cutler's wedding 25 years ago, were present and helped her receive. In the afternoon and evening eight pretty little girls waited upon the guests in the dining room. They were Fanny Landen, Myrtle Stillwell, Marion Werschul, Josephine McAfee, Agnes Miller, Hazel Cote, Ruth Nichols and Clementine Cutler. In the evening the young ladies who served were Miss Beulah Bleck, Miss Ethel Church, Miss Beulah Nelson, Miss Eva Jamison, Miss Beulah Caldwell, Miss Florence Lillibridge, Miss Duella Segur and Miss Irene Stokes.

A dinner party in honor of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Rafferty, of East Portland, Mrs. E. O. Doud and Miss Viola Thayer, of Mount Tabor, was given in San Francisco Friday, August 22, at the home of Mrs. R. M. Collier, 288 Post street. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Sittus, Mrs. M. A. Harris and daughter, Miss Ida Lou Harris, formerly of Portland, Mrs. A. E. Ensign and Miss Marion Collier assisted in entertaining. Miss Marion Collier and the little daughter sang some very sweet duets, and gave some fine trombone and piano solos.

The many friends of Miss Minnie Cohn and Mr. Peter Gevartz gathered at the residence of Mrs. S. Simon last Sunday evening to extend their congratulations on their betrothal. The evening was pleasantly passed in dancing, singing and instrumental music. Light refreshments were served throughout the evening.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey gave an informal and very delightful dinner party last Saturday evening in honor of their son, Paul, and two of his classmates at Stanford University, Edgar Stillman, of San Francisco, and Robert Williams. The young men left on the Saturday night steamer for California.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brandes were entertained by the Paeo Loret Club on last Saturday evening, previous to their departure for a trip abroad, where, with their little daughter, Catherine, they intend to spend the winter.

COMING EVENTS.

The initial party of the "Jolly Corks," a newly organized dancing club, consisting of several well-known young men, will give a party at Parsons Hall during the early part of October.

Mrs. Redington will give a studio tea at her studio, 48 East Ninth street north, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings. Burnt leather and woad, in all the latest novelties, for sale. Orders taken for delivery December 1. All are invited who are interested in these new and pleasing goods. All Mrs. Redington's work is original, and no duplicates made without orders.

WEDDINGS.

Parker-Meyer.
A very pretty wedding took place on Sunday, August 31, at St. James' Episcopal Lutheran Church, when Miss Myrtle Meyer became the bride of Mr. Harry E. Parker. The bridegroom was Miss Ivy Vorbeck, sister of the bride, and Mr. Lester C. Potter was best man. After the bridal party had marched up to the altar, accompanied by the stately strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Harmon, the congregation sang the hymn, "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden." During the beautiful ritual of the church, which was read by Rev. Mr. Waits, a baritone solo, "O Promise Me," was sung by Mr. Charles Borglund. The bride looked handsome in a dress of white silk organza, with veil held in place by a single white carnation. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was charming in a dainty dress of pink silk organza, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the new home of the bride and groom at 50 North Eighth street. They were the recipients of many costly presents. The bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Vorbeck. After a dainty repast the guests took their departure, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Parker a bright and successful journey through life.

Jones-Benedict.
One of the prettiest of the early Autumn weddings was celebrated on Wednesday evening, September 3, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Benedict, when their daughter, Luella Mabel, was united in marriage to Mr. Philip A. Jones. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. T. Kerr. Miss Rita Allen played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The house was very beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers, and the marriage ceremony took place under a canopy of white which supported an exquisite floral wedding veil. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with fawn velvet and lace, and carried a bouquet of roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Lou Allen, was daintily dressed in blue organza, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The best man was Mr. Vincent E. Gill. A great many beautiful and expensive wedding presents were received. After the ceremony the guests partook of a sumptuous supper, and then, amid congratulations, the happy couple departed on a wedding tour to the Puget Sound cities and Victoria. No cards.

Robertson-Freeman.
A very interesting wedding took place at Fairview, Sunday, August 31, when Miss Clara Freeman and Robert Robertson were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Robertson. Rev. Mr. Hardingham officiating. The ceremony was most artistically decorated with flowers of many kinds, and a decorated arch was made over the bay window, under which the couple stood. The bride was most becomingly attired in white organza, and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations. As did the bridesmaid, Miss Beulah Freeman, sister of the bride. Mr. E. A. Jenkins, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. The event was witnessed by about 75 people, relatives and friends of the contracting parties, who extended their most hearty congratulations. Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served in the open air, under the beautiful shade trees in the yard. Both bride and groom are prominent in the society circles of Fairview.

Sailing-Stroud.
At 6 o'clock, at the family home in The Dalles, August 27, occurred the wedding of Miss Mattie Stroud, daughter of Mrs. Maggie Stroud, of that city, and Mr. William L. Sailing, of Keppner, Rev. D. V. Poling officiating. Aside from J. H. Ackerman, who as a personal friend of the groom acted as best man, none were present except the immediate relatives of the family. The bride was attired in white organza, and carried white carnations. Following the ceremony light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Sailing will spend a week in The Dalles before leaving for their home in Keppner.

Skibbe-McCann.
A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday afternoon in Astoria, when Miss Elizabeth McCann and Captain Max L. Skibbe were married. The wedding ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Father Lane, St. Mary's Catholic Church, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. Captain and Mrs. Skibbe left on the evening train for an extended wedding trip. The principal points of interest on the Coast.

Burroughs-McGowan.
At the residence of Mr. L. A. Burroughs, Montavilla, on Wednesday, September 3, at 5 P. M., Floyd Burroughs and Lula B. McGowan were married. Dr. Blackburn officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs started that night for Gardner, Mass., where they will make their future home.

De Lashmuth-Castro.
Albert D. De Lashmuth and Lottie M. Castro were married on Monday, September 1, at the home of Calvary Presbyterian Church, at 3:30 P. M., Rev. William S. Gilbert officiating. Mr. and Mrs. De Lashmuth will live at 81 South Grand avenue.

Wilson-Bendle.
At St. Barnabas Church, Victoria, B. C., Annie T. Bendle, second daughter of Captain and Mrs. N. S. Pierce, of South Bend, formerly of Portland, and Charles Everett Wilson, of Toronto, were married. The bride and groom are visiting Portland, and are guests of the bride's sister, Mrs. Tom Williams.

Laver-Hitchcock.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized September 3 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hitchcock, of Mill Plain, when their daughter, Miss Mollie Cecil, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles R. Laver, of Mill Plain. The bridesmaid was Miss Iva Laver, cousin of the groom. The best man was Mr. Edward Laver, of Vancouver, brother of the groom. The bride looked charming in a gown of gray trimmed with white, while the bridesmaid was very attractive in a gown of cream albatross. The bride carried white asters and the bridesmaid white carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Harris, of Astoria. Immediately after the ceremony congratulations were offered and a dainty luncheon served. The newly wedded couple departed that evening for Portland. They will be at home to their friends at Vancouver, Wash.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE OF SALEM WED.

CHARLES O. HEULAT.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Charles O. Heulat and Miss Leonora White, two of Salem's most popular young people, were united in marriage at high noon Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Church in this city. The Episcopal service was employed, and the impressive ritual was pronounced by Rev. A. H. Ketchum, in the presence of about 200 people.

The ushers were J. W. Backford, of Portland, and W. P. Babcock, of this city. After the ceremony and the offering of congratulations the bride party and the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties repaired to the residence of the groom's uncle, Judge George H. Burnett, where a reception was held, followed by the serving of a wedding breakfast.

The church was decorated in fresh and white, with pretty effect. Little Mildred Wiggins served as ring-bearer, and was followed by the bride, who was attended by Miss Miriam Heulat, a sister of the groom, as maid of honor. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white silk organza over white silk, with a bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Heulat wore a costume of green silk organza over green silk. The groom was attended by G. A. Holden as best man. At the reception the bride's table was decorated in green and white, being in perfect harmony with the church decorations. The decorations in one of the parlors were of pink, violet being prominent in the other, while the reception hall was in red.

Mr. and Mrs. Heulat have both lived in Salem the greater part of their lives, and are popular members of Salem society circles. They left on the afternoon train for La Granda, where they will be at home after October 1. Mr. and Mrs. Heulat have the sincere and best wishes of their many friends here for a full measure of this world's happiness and prosperity.

MISS LEONORA WHITE.

Miss Leonora White, who was the bride at the wedding of Charles O. Heulat, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Babcock, of this city.

The Back AND The Burden

No one save the actual sufferer can begin to realize the endless misery endured by the unhappy victim of chronic womb troubles. The aching back and head, the bearing down pains, the agony of motion, the constant nerve tension are but a few phases of the martyrdom endured by armies of suffering women in comparison with which the transient hardships of the soldier on the battlefield fade into comparative insignificance. Life becomes a burden, home happiness an impossibility, and pleasure out of the question. Finally driven to desperation, many wretched victims submit to the surgeon's scalpel, and almost invariably live to regret it. I have devoted my life to the study of women's special diseases, and never failed to give relief or effect a cure where a cure was possible—without resort to the perilous and painful hazard of the knife. Write or see me, and I will help you and ease your burden.
