preists or monks who shall wash themselves daily, with extra partial indulgence to those shaving regularly at least three times a week during a specific period. Students belonging to the Teutonic and Anglo-Saxon races at Rome continue the correspondent, are easily recognizable by their general neatness and cleanliness, but in the Italian seminaries and monastic houses the prevailing custom is to wash their hands and faces with soap, hair brushes and looking-glasses are worldly luxuries excluded by rule, and the clerics emerging therefrom perspire the tradition. The pope on occasion has evinced annoyance at the unkempt condition of monks who have come in close contact with his august person. Visitors to Italy will heartily welcome the innovation.

Germania Help Striking Miners. CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—From a proposal made in Chicago that the German Turner Societies aid the striking coal miners, has grown a National movement to that end, participated in by Bohemian, Polish and Norwegian Turners and singing societies and labor organizations of Germans. Secretary Leopold Neumann, of the Chicago District, who was the first to propose assistance to the miners, has received letters from all parts of the country. The 23 Turner Societies here, with 4000 members, have filed several subscription lists and have interested the allied societies of the Bohemian, Polish and Norwegian Turners. As fast as the money is contributed, it will be forwarded to the relief bureaus in the mining districts, and the figures published.

"Sunday, September 14, will be collection Sunday," said Bishop Samuel Phillips at the meeting last night of the committee of 100 to devise ways and means to raise money for the relief of miners and their families of the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. All Chicago churches will take up collections on that day, and we shall have a grand total of money in the United States to the same thing.

believe that in the end power must be given, probably through a Constitutional amendment, to the National Government to exercise in full the supervision and regulation of those great enterprises. (Applause.) That is not new doctrine for me. That is the doctrine that I advocated on the stump years ago.

"Let me go back to my illustration of the Mississippi River. It took some time to build the levee, but we built them, and if we have the proper intelligence, the proper resolution and the proper self-restraint, we can work out the solution along the lines that I have indicated. The Government has the power. What power is given, I can assure you, will be used in a spirit as free as possible from rancor, but with the firmest determination to give the big men and little men alike equal justice. What we need first is power. Having gotten the power, gentlemen, remember that the work won't be ended. It will be only fairly begun."

Millennium a Long Way Off.

"And let me say again and again and again that we will not get the millennium. The millennium is some way off yet. But we will be in a position to make long strides in the right direction, and just and fairer and more intelligent, more honest management of those corporations, both as regards the general public and as regards the relations of the power. When we have the power I should earnestly advocate that it be used with the greatest wisdom and self-restraint. The first thing would be to find out the facts. For the purpose I am absolutely clear that we need publicity, not as a favor from any one corporation, but as a matter of right. The mere fact of the publicity will tend to stop many of the evils and it will show that some of the alleged evils are imaginary."

"And, finally, in making evident the remaining faults, those that are not imaginary, it will give us an intelligent proposition as to the method to take in getting at them."

"We should have, under any circumstances, one sovereign to which the big corporations should be responsible—a sovereign in whose courts the corporations could be tried. It is a good time now for you, a year after he was shot, to think of what he did and try to keep ourselves up to his standard."

At Washington Courthouse. WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, O., Sept. 6.—One of the largest crowds that has greeted President Roosevelt on his Southern trip was assembled at Washington Courthouse when the train reached there at 3 o'clock. At Midland City. MIDLAND CITY, O., Sept. 6.—The Presidential train made a brief stop at Midland City at 4:10. A small crowd that had gathered there, and which was bowed from the rear platform. At Sabina, Wilmington and several other points crowds watched the train speed by. At Loveland a large number of flags were waved as the train passed.

At Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, Sept. 6.—The Presidential party reached here at 5:20 and remained half an hour. Most of the time was spent in the yards, transferring to the Queen & Crescent tracks. The train was greeted with crowds at all of the suburban stations, and especially at Cincinnati, where a short stop was made. The run from Columbus, a distance of 130 miles, was made in less than three hours. The train was backed from the yards into the central station, where the partial noon total evacuation of the city officials. can be done by laws, something can be done by honest and fearless administration of the law; but most of all must depend upon having the right kind of men, the right kind of women in this country. We need more than intellect; we need character—character which counts more than that which counts more than anything else in life. (Applause.) Character which counts for the individual in private life, which counts in the life of the state; character which we want to see in our public men when they tackle the problems of the trust, or of anything else; character which is fundamentally composed of many elements, but which must command these three: Honesty first; I do not care how able a man is, if he is a scamp he is a danger; I do not care how honest a man is, if he is afraid he is no good; honesty first, then courage; and those two qualities are not enough; it does not make any difference how brave a man is, or how honest if he was born foolish, scant will be the good you get out of him. We need, then, for our citizenship, character, character into which such all enter honesty, courage and the saving grace of common sense." (Applause.)

At the conclusion, the party were driven over the principal thoroughfares. The decorations were of an elaborate and festive order. All along the route the crowds cheered the President to the echo. The party were driven to the southern portion of the city, where the Baltimore Life Guards were quartered and the trip to the South continued.

TRIBUTE TO M'KINLEY.

On the Anniversary of the Day That He Was Shot.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—In the Union Depot here the President responded to calls of the crowd as follows: "It is just a year ago that Ohio's great President was shot, and it is an anniversary that is fitted to make all of us think very solemnly of what the country owed to his death and what the country owed to his life. President McKinley had become the President of the entire country, so that Ohio could claim him no more than all the rest of us could claim him; and when he died his character and his policies were impressed themselves upon the Nation as a whole that in the broadest and fullest sense he had become the President of no party and no section, but of the people throughout the length and breadth of our Nation. It is a good time now for you, a year after he was shot, to think of what he did and try to keep ourselves up to his standard."

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

NEW HAVEN, Addison Co., Vt. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Gentlemen—About a year ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I ran down in weight from 135 to 135 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine, but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble, but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a 50-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions, and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the 50-cent bottle, and then bought two more 50-cent bottles, and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight, 135 pounds, and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Very truly, Feb. 17, 1902. W. M. PARTCH.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful medicine, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular 50-cent bottles at all drug stores and the drugstore everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

expected to be here September 20 to deliver an address during the Fall festival, and begged to be excused at this time. The crowd contained many railroad men, and the President, in addressing himself to them, stated that he was on route to Chattanooga to be with the firemen. The President shook hands with a number of acquaintances who pressed forward.

AT BURGIN.

Two Short Addresses Made to Kentuckians.

BURGIN, Ky., Sept. 6.—The Lexington Drum Corps made more noise than has been made in the state in 20 years, as the President's train drew into the station. The train stopped first in the railroad yards. The President told the people there that the train was to move further on, but that he might not have a chance to speak to them at the further stopping place, he desired to say that he had been in Kentucky before, and he appreciated to the full the pre-eminence quality of the Kentuckians as men, Kentucky women and Kentucky's horses. The train moved on, and the President made another speech to a crowd of 5000 at the station. He said: "Kentucky has ever borne more than her share in the heavy responsibility of the development of the Nation. I wish very much that I might go through here by daylight." (Cheers and shouts of "Come on round here again, Coffey.") "Times change, but the spirit of the Nation does not change. Forty years ago the men who fought in our great Civil War—whether they wore the blue or the gray, they fought well—were armed with black-powder guns. Colonel Williams, are your state troops armed with black-powder guns still?" "Yes, sir, we are, sir; we look to you for relief."

"You shall have all I can give. We have got the law through the lower house. If only you can help me get it through the Senate, we will be all right. The man who has a black-powder musket might as well have a crossbow (laughter), but if you ever have another war, and I do not hope but I believe that we will not see our time, we will find that the spirit of '76 and the spirit of '61-'65 lives. So long as that spirit lives, the Nation will live."

Evacuation of Martinique.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—The correspondent of the Associated Press learns that neither the island of Martinique, nor the island of Guadeloupe has been decided upon. The question has not even been considered.

The Diagnosis Made Easy by the Famous Symptom Questions; the Cure Made Certain by the Wonderful Medication Which Reaches Every Part Subject to Catarrh.

THE TREATMENT THAT CURES AVOID CURE-ALLS

Dr. Copeland's treatment that has lifted the darkness and blight of the word "Incurable" from hundreds of thousands of cases of Catarrh of the Head, Throat, Ear, Tubes, Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, works as curative action for two reasons: (1) It reaches every diseased spot from the orifice of the nose to the deepest part of the lungs and the innermost recesses of the middle ear. (2) Instead of irritating, inflaming and feeding the fire of the disease, it soothes, quiets, heals and cures.

CATARRH OF HEAD AND THROAT

The head and throat become diseased from neglected colds causing Catarrh when the condition of the blood predisposes to this condition. "Is your voice husky?" "Do you spit up slime?"
